TWO COOLVILLE BOYS ARE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS MILK TRUCK AT CROSSING

Homer LeMaster, 17, and William Norton, 21, Are Victims of the Crash.

Train Is Hidden by Curve and Boys Apparently Did Not Hear It Coming.

COOLVILLE, June 12.—(Staff Special.) — Two boys from this village were killed on Tuesday morning when the B. & O. train No. 92 demolished the milk truck in which they were riding at the Gaskins Crossing, one mile west of the Coolville station. The boys were Homer LeMaster aged 17, and William Norton, aged 21.

The crossing is just beyond a curve in the railroad track and it is believed that the boys were unable to hear the approaching train because of the noise of the truck. They were starting out with empty cans to cover a milk route for the Coolville Creamery.

Members of the train crew told section men who were working a short distance down the track that they did not see the truck until the train was within a few feet of the crossing. A sharp elbow turn in the track makes it impossible to see the road leading to the crossing. Members of the section crew explained to Coroner L. F. Jones, of Athens, who was summoned late Tuesday morning.

LeMaster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brady LeMaster, of Coolville Station, had lived here all his life. Besides his parents he leaves a sister. Little is known of Norton, who came to this community a few days ago with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGrath, with whom he had been living. He returned with them from his home in New York state, it is said. Tatoo marks on his arms indicated that he had been in the Navy for several years.

LeMaster was killed instantly and Norton died within a few minutes after the crash.

Due to damage to the train, it was delayed for about two hours and did not leave here until about 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The accident occurred about 10:45 o'clock. Conductor Hurff was in charge of the train.

Arrangements for the funerals of the two young men had not been completed this morning.

STILLER DIES FROM FUMES

BROTHER IS BURNED

Officers Unable to Remove Outfit From the Tiny Entrance to the Cavern.

Overcome by poisonous fumes in a cave where they were operating a still, one man was burned to death, while another, the dead man's brother, was seriously burned about the feet, Friday afternoon on Pone Ridge five miles north of Glouster.

It is thought the fumes were from a gasoline stove under the still although it is possible, officers say, they may have arisen from a quantity of carbide in the cave.

The dead man is Frank Lenigar, 26, of near Glouster. He is survived by his wife.

Amos Lenigar, 28, his brother had his feet burned by fire but will recover.

Sheriff McKinley received a call Friday afternoon informing him that a man had been found dead near a still and asking for a coroner. As the coroner was absent from the county at that time, McKinley sent Charles Wallace, Glouster, to act as coroner. Deputy J. M. Cady went at once to investigate the case and found the body had been removed and was at the local morgue.

Accompanied by Chief of Police Henry Williams, Glouster, Sheriff Cady went to the cave to secure the still.

ENTRANCE TINY

The entrance to the cave was about nineteen inches high by seventeen inches wide and Williams being the smaller of the two men volunteered to crawl through the opening. Removing his overcoat and outer clothing he crawled through the doorway and found himself in a tunnel about fifty feet long which led to a subterranean cavern. The entrance to the main room was even smaller than the entrance to the tunnel, having an opening only fourteen inches high. In the cave which Williams found to be a room twelve feet long by seven feet wide and just high enough to allow a man to pour water into a barrel was found all the equipment necessary for the distilling of whiskey.

Five barrels of mash, a copper coil fifty-two feet long, a twenty-five gallon copper boiler, and two oil stoves were found in the room. Bunks along the wall had been built in the room for sleeping purposes.

Carbide, found in the cave was used for lights and to make the mash ferment more quickly, officers say.

How they were able to get the barrels and other equipment through such a small opening is a puzzle to the officers. It is thought the barrels were dismantled, taken in and then set up. Another theory is advanced that the cave was outfitted and then the large opening closed.

No liquor was found although the still was full and ready to run. Jugs found were also empty and it is thought the men were preparing to run off a quantity of liquor when the fumes suffocated them.

The coil and the smaller stove were removed and brought to the sheriff's office. The barrels and other equipment which were too large to bring out of the cave were destroyed with an axe and left in the cave.

Deputy Sheriff Jake Cady filed an affidavit in the court of Mayor Parks, Glouster, charging Amos Lenigar with possession of property designed for the manufacture of intoxicating beverages. The case will be heard as soon as he is able to be brought before the [illegible]

LENT REMAINS IN COMA WHEN DOCTORS WORK

George Ludden, Mine Guard, Surrenders Old Spanish Gun Used in Shooting.

Bullet Penetrates Victim's Head; Another Bullet Found in Wall of Shanty.

By C. M. BARTLETT
Messenger Staff Writer

NELSONVILLE, Jan. 7.—Result ing of former fighting days probably will result fatally to John Lent, 52, Lick Run miner, who was removed in Stout's ambulance to Cherrington Hospital, Logan, about 7 o'clock last night, a 32-calibre bullet apparently having penetrated his brain. He remained unconscious at the hospital at 10 o'clock this morning while X-rays were being used to determine the location of the bullet.

George Ludden, Nelsonville, Lick Run mine guard, was arrested by Chief of Police Jack Pearson at the mine weigh office and will be charged with the shooting, officers say. A revolver of Spanish manufacture was found in possession of Ludden is being held at the Nelsonville jail. It is the opinion of the local officers that the shooting followed a drunken quarrel, although Ludden insisted last night that he was not drinking until after the shots were fired.

According to information received by the police, Ludden went on duty about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and after reporting at the mine, returned to the shanty on the property occupied by Lent and Gil Sklyers. Ludden declined to make a statement last night other than that Lent was the aggressor in a fight which took place in the yard near the shanty. From other sources, it is indicated that the men were talking about former fights of by-gone days and it is believed that the urge of battle was again aroused. Fred Dresbach, it is said, was present when the quarrel started, but left the scene, it is claimed, before the actual shooting occurred. It is stated that three gun reports were heard.

Apparently, Lent was shot as he was about to enter the shanty door. One bullet struck him just above the left ear, penetrating the head. Another bullet which missed him was extracted from the wall of the building. Dr. C. G. Dew gave first aid and advised his removal to the hospital.

Following the shooting, Ludden returned to the weigh office and called Chief of Police Pearson, telling the officer there had been trouble at the mine. Ludden, according to the officer, at first denied knowledge of the affair, but later admitted his connection. He surrendered the gun to the chief. Last night Ludden declined to make a statement for publication, but indicated his belief that he had acted within his rights. He is a son-in-law of the late Pete Mers, who died here over a year ago. The Luddens have one child.

Lent is also married and has two sons and three daughters. He and his wife are separated, it is stated. He also has five sisters and two brothers.

Lent, Shot in a Fight With Mine Guard, Dies In Hospital at Logan

Victim Does Not Regain Consciousness; Expect Ludden To Be Arraigned on Charge of First Degree Murder Today.

NELSONVILLE, Jan. 8.—John Lent, 52, Lick Run miner, who was shot at his shanty near the mine Sunday evening about 6:30 o'clock, died last night about 10:30 o'clock at Cherrington Hospital, Logan. Following his death, the body was removed to Stout's Mortuary at Nelsonville. Lent, it is said, died without regaining consciousness.

X-ray pictures taken at the hospital yesterday morning, indicated, it is claimed, that the 38-calibre bullet which entered his head above the left ear and back of the temple, had penetrated the brain.

George Ludden, Lick Run mine guard, who was arrested by Chief of Police Jack Pearson after he had called the officer to the mine, will be arraigned today before Mayor L. J. Eberle on a charge of first degree murder, it is indicated. It is expected that Ludden will enter a plea of not guilty and will be held to the grand jury without bond.

Ludden insists, according to persons who have talked with him, that Lent was the aggressor in the fight which started at the shanty, and that he does not know how Lent was shot. Ludden returned to the mine weigh office after the fight and hid his gun, according to Chief of Police Jack Pearson, but later surrendered the weapon to the officer. All the shells had been extracted from the cylinder.

TOPPLES INTO UNCOVERED WELL FATHER DIVES IN

Two Year Old Son of Lentz' At Jobs Found At Bottom.

LOGAN, Sept. 24.—Tragedy which visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lentz, Jobs, Friday afternoon cost the life of their 2-year-old son, Wilbur Eugene, who was drowned in a 30 foot well half-filled with water.

Lentz accompanied by the son had gone to Murray City to visit relatives and while there the tragedy occurred. Left alone for a brief period the child went to an uncovered well where preparations were being made to install a new pump. He toppled into the well.

Missed by the parent, a search was started which led to the well where a small pail with which the child had been playing was found. The grief stricken father entered the well unaided and recovered the body which had sunk to the bottom. The parent was unable to say how he made the trip into the well and out again without aid as the sides were lined by sewer pipe.

Coroner J. P. Miller, Logan, held an inquest. Funeral services will be held at Jobs at two o'clock Monday.

Man Dies in Sugar Creek Home Sunday From Auto Wreck Hurts

Coroner Gives Verdict Today After Investigating Case; Man Was From West Virginia and Was on Way to Steubenville for Work.

Internal injuries received in an automobile accident, was the verdict given by L. F. Jones, coroner in Athens County, this morning in the death of Charles R. Lewis, 21, Petroleum, W. Va., who died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning in the home of Oscar Porter, Sugar Creek, following an accident about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning when the automobile driven by Roy Porter, 29, went over the bank about 300 yards beyond the end of the concrete road in Sugar Creek.

Leaving Parkersburg at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, the two men were on their way to Steubenville to look for work, according to Porter's testimony before the coroner this morning. Porter stopped to visit a son and the two were continuing on their way when the accident occurred. Another car was coming toward him on the curve, Porter said, and blinded by the lights, he drove off the road, over a bank, and the car turned over.

Lewis was thrown clear of the car, and fell on his side upon Porter. With the assistance of another man who drove by soon after the accident, Lewis walked about 100 yards to the home of Oscar Porter. He was placed upon a couch, and said that he did not want the services of a physician.

Porter went to sleep, and woke up about 7 o'clock Sunday morning to drink some coffee which Lewis refused, according to the testimony. Waking again about an hour later he found Lewis dead.

E. R. Walburn, Athens undertaker, was summoned, and accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Wayne Wingett, brought the body to Athens. Relatives of Lewis were notified, and his father came with an undertaker from Parkersburg for the body last night.

No visible signs of injuries were found on the body, Coroner Jones said. He believes the man was crushed internally.

In Memoriam 8

IN MEMORY—Of O. E. Liggett, general missionary of the American Sunday School union. Ollie E. Liggett was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania, November 24, 1871, and died at Cleveland, Ohio, July 5, 1926. He received his early education in the public schools of Pennsylvania and later graduated from Scio College, O.

In 1901 he was united in marriage to Clara Elisabeth Young of Pitcairn, Pennsylvania, and to this union were born three sons, Clarence C., of Cleveland, Thos. H., of Sussex, N. J., and Harold E., of New York City.

From his early youth, Mr. Liggett was a member of the United Presbyterian church, and in 1900, he attended the Moody Bible Institute to complete his preparation for Christian work. In the fall of 1910 he engaged with the American Sunday School Union to work rural districts of Missouri and Indiana, and a year later he was transferred to Hocking and Athens Counties, Ohio, with headquarters at Athens. In 1920 he was commissioned as general missionary and served in that capacity until his death.

Perhaps no citizen was more familiar with rural conditions of Southern Ohio, and none ever held in higher esteem than Mr. Liggett.

Through his untiring effort, hundreds of children have been gathered into Union Sunday schools, and through his earnest teaching many unresentful lives have been lifted from the mire of spiritual indifference and have taken their place in the ranks of those who have a vision of a better world. Mr. Liggett's life was an open book, and needs no vain effort at eulogy or embellishment.

His nobility of character, beauty of spirit, uncritical love and devotion to his cause, can be nowhere better phrased, than in the sincere expressions of sorrow from among those with whom he labored. Mr. Liggett is gone. We shall miss him as a loyal friend; but the influence of his life will still live in the hearts of those he leaves behind—as a benediction.

"And it days to come, it may be we shall see,
That why was sent this bitter test.
Till then, we can but bow in tears and say,
God knoweth best."—C. A. S.

Israel Jacob Linscott, son of the late George and Sarah (Dalus) Linscott was born in Amesville township, Athens county, Ohio, February 7, 1860 and exchanged this earthly tabernacle for a better, June 12, 1927, having spent 67 years 4 months and 5 days on this earthly sphere. He was united in marriage to Georgiana Kasler September 16, 1876, and to this union were born two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Howard of Coshocton and Mrs. Nellie Carpenter of Fort Orange. He never to mourn his departure his faithful wife, his two daughters and two grandsons: Arthur Howard and Marian Carpenter.

He was what would be called a model man. He had no enemies, and none that knew him but to speak in terms of highest praise. He and his companion accepted Christ as their Savior about 40 years ago, uniting with the Church of Christ at Hooper's Ridge under the ministry of the Rev. Elisha White.

He was an honest, hardworking, God-fearing citizen, and will be sadly missed by the entire community where he lived to manhood and spent all his life. Although he has been in failing health for several years, his death came as a shock to family and friends, as he seemed as well as usual up to the hour of his death. He was one of a family of twelve children, two being left to mourn their departure. Likewise in this one brother, Harvey Linscott, of this community, and three sisters, Mrs. Nancy Scott and Mrs. Eliza Donaldson of Athens, and Mrs. Sarah Kairns of Tiffinbie, N. D. Five brothers and two sisters having preceded him to the great beyond. He was a true and kind husband, a kind and indulgent father, a friend to all. His life was beautiful in simplicity, and we feel that our loss is his gain.

IN MEMORIAM—

There is a reaper, whose name is Death,
And with his sickle keen
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath
And the flowers that grow between."

"Tis the beautiful springtime of life, when all nature seemed to be awakening from its long winter's sleep the Reaper entered our home and took from us our dear mother.

On April 27, 1927 as the lamp of life faded into darkness the light of a beautiful and useful life was extinguished on earth to shine with a new luster in the home beyond.

Ollie Mae Weiss, daughter of Alfred and Catherine Weiss was born February 27, 1877 and departed this life April 27, 1927 aged 50 years, 2 months, and 10 days.

On March 26, 1896, she was united in marriage to Herbert L. Linscott. To them were born seven daughters, Mrs. Irene Porter, of Caldwell; Mrs. Josephine Wilkes of Athens; Mrs. Lillian Smith of Athens, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Middleport, Mabel and Grace at home. One daughter Nancy, preceded her mother in death some three years ago.

Besides her husband and six daughters, she leaves eight grandchildren, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Ollie was a faithful wife, a devoted mother. The golden link is now broken, words cannot express the love and devotion of this wife and mother in her home. Her kind deeds were not known generally, for she was ever ready to lend a helping hand to her neighbors and friends, for she was ever ready to lend her help.

Although her loss to her husband and children be hard to bear may it be an incentive to them to live that they may meet their loved one in Heaven. For she paid her work here was done and was ready and willing to go and be with God.

[illegible] Again, in the course of life, we are called upon to lay aside for a little while, the business cares of the day and gather to drop a tear of sorrow at the parting from one of our kind friends and neighbors, who has lived among us for many years and who has endeared our many hearts.

Alice Ann Hunnell, daughter of Isaac and Hannah Hunnell was born November 17, 1860 and passed from earth March 16, 1929, having lived 68 years, 4 months, and 1 day.

December 25, 1880 she was united in marriage to Lorenzo Lovell, who survives. To them were born three children, Mrs. W. O. Baum, Clyde, and Clifford, who, with [illegible] are also [illegible] grandchildren, Phyllis, Lucille and Kathryn Lovell.

Of her family there are three sisters, Mrs. Julia Denny, and Mrs. Dora Gress of Zanesville, and Mrs. Laura Alderman of Arrington, Kansas. Also two brothers, Charles Hunnell, of Columbus, and Frank Hunnell, of Ames, Iowa.

Deceased was a quiet, patient, person devoted to her home and children, and was well known and highly respected by all. Even here her sickness which was very painful, with the utmost patience, not a murmur of complaint was heard, until quietly her spirit took its flight from this tabernacle of clay to the happyness beyond.

Oliver Lovell

O. M. LOVELL PASSES AWAY

AMESVILLE, Feb. 4.—O. M. Lovell, 69, a widely known business man died at his home here at 3 o'clock this morning of cancer.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the M. E. church conducted by the Rev. H. J. Holcombe, district superintendent of the Marietta district.

Mr. Lovell leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. G. O. Linscott of Amesville.

Feb. 4,1926

OLIVER M. LOVELL.—The youngest son of John W. and Jane Wheeler Lovell, was born on August 24, 1856, in the old homestead on the farm on Federal Creek, where his grandfather Thomas S. Lovell settled when he came from Boston to Ohio in 1814. His boyhood and young manhood were spent on this farm. From early boyhood he was ambitious to make the most of life, and from a little boy, he loved work. He was ambitious to get a good education and after finishing public school, he attended the academy at Bartlett, the normal school at Lebanon, and the Commercial College at Zanesville, working between times on the old farm. On August 28, 1879, he married Addie Hudson, who, with their only child, Lucile Linscott, survives him. There are also two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Cheadle of Utica, Ohio, Mrs. W. L. Glass of Portland, Oregon; one brother, J. A. Lovell of Marietta, and one grandchild, Marianna Linscott, at Amesville. Of the home life no words can portray the beauty, the joy and the contentment of this home. You might not think of him as a man of excitement, yet he spent the old home farm on which his grandfather settled and for years there have been few in the county who meant more to their friends. Formerly a resident of Monroe, Athens or Washington county, has a larger circle of friends in a business way, for he was in harness for years. His ever ready response to help the other man, and to him the Golden Rule was constantly a governing element. He loved children and could not pass one without a friendly greeting. In turn he will miss him as they would few men. As a young man he joined the Methodist church at Joy, and was always deeply interested in the church, and in all things concerning the welfare of his fellow man, generously contributing to such activities. He enjoyed life, and almost rounded out his three score years and ten in service to humanity, and as we recall the characteristics of his life, we feel impelled to say: "Take it all in all, we shall not look upon his like again." His contact with people has been too much a part of himself, to admit of being less, than a strong and lasting influence among them.

Robert Lowry

ROBERT LOWRY IS AUTO VICTIM EARLY SUNDAY

Believed To Have Been Struck by Hit-Skip Motorist in Nelsonville

NELSONVILLE, Sept. 14—(Staff Special)—An unknown hit-skip motorist is believed to have caused the injuries resulting in the death of Robert Lowry, 65, whose body was found being in a foundry in Nelsonville about 4 o'clock Sunday morning by a conductor and motorman on a south-bound traction car.

Lowry apparently had been struck by a passing auto some time after midnight, his skull was fractured, and the body had been thrown with the left leg across the track. The body was covered by the street car on its first trip out in the morning, a fog prevented the motorman from seeing the body, it is said.

The car was stopped when the body was seen and coroner was notified. Lowry, it is claimed, had been dead several hours. The body was brought to Hyett's undertaking parlors here. Indications lead investigators to believe that Lowry was killed instantly, although the extent of his injuries was such that it is believed that prompt medical attention would not have saved his life. Coroner Levi Jones is conducting an inquest this morning.

Lowry, former John Marshall High school athlete, is said to have been working as a switchman for the Hocking Valley railroad here. He is survived by one son, Lowry, Toledo motorman, who was notified of his father's death Sunday morning while he was visiting in Cleveland. Mrs. Lowry died several years ago. Joseph Lucas

YOUNG PASTOR DIES IN EAST

The body of Rev. Joseph Lucas, 40, a minister of the A. M. E. church for nearly twenty-five years, will be brought to Athens Tuesday evening from Catonville, Md., where he died today. The body will be removed to the Walburn undertaking establishment and later burial will be made at Hagu Ridge, Bern township.

Mr. Lucas began to preach as a lad of fourteen and had been successful in the East, after leaving a station in Columbus. He had been in Cumberland, Md., Catonville, and other stations in the East for some years. His death resulted from complications. He has one sister, Viola Cunningham, living in Athens, and another sister, Rebecca Fisher, living in Sharpsburg. Two brothers, Charles and Jesse, live in Washington county. He also has a son living in Columbus. Born in Washington county, Mr. Lucas lived for some time in Athens, but never preached here.

Jan. 24,1926

JOSEPH EMMANUEL LUCAS—Son of Granville and Mary Lucas, was born near Stewart, Ohio, August 5, 1885, and died at Catonsville, Maryland, January 22, 1926, aged 40 years, 5 months and 18 days.

He resided near his birthplace until early manhood but for several years his home has been elsewhere.

He united with the Wesleyan Methodists when a boy, later was a minister in that connection, and was afterward ordained an elder in the same church. He has been attached to other bodies among which are the A. M. E. and the Methodist Episcopal, being in active service in the last named and holding a charge under this denomination at Catonsville, Md., at the time of his demise.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mabel Harris, May 12, 1910. To this union were born three children; one, a son, is left, the others having preceded their father to the Great Beyond. He leaves the following brothers and sisters: Chas. H. of Plantsville, Ohio, Jesse of Cutler, Ohio, Viola Cunningham of Athens, Ohio, and Anna Fischer of Sharpsburg, Ohio.

His was a pleasing personality. He had that rare gift of making friends, and was loved and respected by all whose good fortune it was to know him.

He was a consistent and earnest Christian. His rule of life was the "Golden Rule." His life has been one of sacrifice, always ready and willing to sacrifice himself for the good that he might do others, thus exemplifying the admonition "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these ye did it unto me." He has fulfilled the requirements expounded by the lowly Nazarene whose precepts and examples he loved to follow.

Although handicapped by ill health throughout all his life he was never heard to complain or lament his infirmities; but his sunny and cheerful disposition was always an inspiration for others and regardless of how dark the clouds would become, he could always see the silver lining.

The ministerial brotherhood has lost a member who was wise in counsel and firm in the faith. Society at large has a vacant chair which has been occupied by one who was always working for uplift and upbuilding.

But, it has pleased an all-wise Providence that his labors cease and that he be called from labor to his reward and he now enters the eternal city where "The wicked do cease from troubling and the weary are at rest." He has fought a good fight, he has finished his course, he has kept the faith.

Glen Lynch

In Memoriam

GLEN DALE—Infant son of Worth and Grace Lynch, was born September 9, 1926, and was called home May 17, 1927, aged 8 months and 8 days.

His illness was of short duration, lasting only three days. He was of a sweet disposition, always had a smile for all. It seems that he was just visiting in this home, so short was his stay. But God in His great wisdom saw fit to remove him from this earthly home, to a home so bright and fair where shining angels dwell.

We have read Christ's own words, where he said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

We look upon death as something cruel, but we should not. We should reason that when God calls us, we are through with the sufferings and hardships of this life, and dear little Glen Dale has just passed on to await the coming of those loved ones he has left behind, for, "We can go to him, but he cannot return to us."

He leaves a father, mother and three darling little brothers to listen for that little voice, and cast glances for the little form that can never again be seen in mortal eyes.

Jack Lyons

Jack Lyons Will Be Buried in Tomb in Cliffs Overlooking Ohio River at Middleport

By C. A. HARTLEY,
Messenger Staff Writer.

MIDDLEPORT, Sept. 24.—Jack Lyons who was shot to death near Trimble late Sunday night, has been brought back to his old home town in Middleport, and will be buried in the sand-stone tomb cut in the cliffs back of the John E. Lyons' residence, where his mother and uncle have been sealed in brick vaults. Several years ago Mr. Lyons had this vault cut out of the solid stone cliff, large enough to accommodate 20 bodies, which was expected to be large enough to receive himself and wife, all his children and their children. The first body placed there was that of a brother Horace, who died several years ago. His wife followed some three years ago, and now a son takes his place there.

The tomb has never been finished. It is about 20 feet wide at the mouth, and of the same depth. This cavern was cut out more than 15 years ago. The plan of Captain Lyons was to line the tomb with granite slabs and make the front of granite, with a copper door, to stand for all time, it was stated. The front has never been closed and the bodies buried there are set back into niches cut in the solid stone and bricked up. Mr. Lyons has the door to the tomb which is said to have cost $400, but has never had it placed in position. On top of this skull-shaped rock into which the cavern was cut, Mr. Lyons plans to erect a 75-foot granite monument. He says that his will provides that this plan be carried out in case of his death before he witnesses its completion himself. Mr. Lyons is a former river man and plans that this monument shall overlook the bend in the river at this point.

In 1914, when Jack Lyons, whose real name is Louden Lyons, but who is generally called Jack, was about 16 years of age, he shot and killed Henry Hayes, a Middleport railroader, while the latter was hunting near Middleport. It seems that the boy Lyons met Hayes and wanted to hunt with him and that Hayes objected. Lyons had a twenty-two caliber rifle and insisted on trailing along after Hayes. The story as told by J. A. Willock, who was the sheriff of the county then, and holds the same position now, is that the boy continued that he was walking along through a field with Hayes several yards ahead of him. Sheriff Willock states that when arrested and brought to the jail at Middleport, young Lyons made a statement to him and other officers that while walking behind Hayes the thought came into his mind as to whether he could hit Hayes if he should shoot at him. Thereupon he pulled up his gun and after long aiming something within kept urging to pull the trigger, which he finally did, with the result that Hayes fell dead. Young Lyons was frightened at what had happened and ran away and said nothing about it, he told officers. The dead body of Hayes lay in the field where he fell until found the next day by a searching party of fellow railroaders. Then came the arrest of Lyons, who confessed to the shooting, and who was sent to the reformatory by Probate Judge Marion Webster from the juvenile court of the county. After serving a term he was released.

Jack Lyons has two brothers, who are substantial citizens, Lindsey and Leroy Lyons. They both are married and live in Middleport. He also leaves three sisters, who also have excellent families.

The father, John E. Lyons, is in rather frail health, and spent last winter in the South, being driven home this spring, in an automobile by the son who is now dead.

Jack Lyons was here recently and consulted Judge A. F. Miller as to an alleged threat of his father to send him to the penitentiary on the charge of non-support of his children. Two years ago the court gave the children to the grandfather, and issued an injunction against the young father to prevent him from in any way interfering with the grandfather in keeping these children. It is shown that the young man still had a tender spot in his heart for his children when he still carried their court papers in his hip pocket when he fell dead in his shirt sleeves on the porch of the man who shot to protect his home, as he thought.

That was the means by which the officers learned his identity.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

FOUND AT FOOT OF HIGH CLIFF FIFTY FEET OFF ROAD SUNDAY

ALBANY, Oct. 26.—The partly devoured body of an unknown woman was found about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Frank Martin farm about a mile west of Bolin's Mills, Vinton county, and was brought here to the undertaking establishment of T. W. Coe late Sunday evening. Identification has not been made, although it is believed that this will be brought about by broadcasting a description of the body and the manner in which it was clothed.

Sunday afternoon James Martin, 17, accompanied by his two brothers went into the woods to cut withes to bind corn for cutting today. About fifty yards from the Albany-McArthur state highway, which is now being constructed, and at the foot of a high cliff of rocks the body of a woman was found. The youths who made the discovery at first could not be sure what they had found. There was a pile of disordered clothing lying at the foot of the cliff, partly in the waters of a small creek. Nearby was found one tan oxford shoe, with the string tied. At a little distance in another direction was the other shoe, with untied strings. Still farther away was a black hat made of velvet. The hat had evidently been flat in shape. Soon deciding that they had found the body of a dead woman, the boys called their elders.

It was established later that the body was that of a woman who about two weeks ago was given a ride from Albany to Town House by Bert Bolin. Bolin said that the woman told him she was going to McArthur. He said that the hat found near the body was that worn by the woman he had given a "lift" on the road. He last saw her starting to walk down the new road toward McArthur, evidently hoping to secure another ride to help her on her way.

LOST IN WOODS

How the woman fell over the cliff of rocks, unless she was unfamiliar with the country, was seeking to cut off distance by striking across the country and became lost, is a mystery. Her face was badly bruised, indicating that she had fallen on her head. There is no suspicion of foul play, according to the belief in the country where she was found. To have reached the top of the cliff from which she fell she must have climbed a considerable grade far back from the road. That she might have become frightened and was fleeing from some danger, real or imaginary is possible, officers believe. Further it is believed that she may have been caught by night in her walk and in tramping across the country, become confused and have fallen over the rocks. The fall was great enough to have caused her death or fatal injury. It is possible that she might not have been killed in the fall and might have crawled or moved about to reach the position in which her body was found Sunday. That she died from her injuries after lingering for some time is possible. Her injuries may have been such that she was unable to reach the main road or to have made her cries for help heard. On the other hand the fall may have killed her instantly.

LITTLE DOUBT AS TO IDENTITY OF DEAD WOMAN

Description Fits Tramp Who Stayed in the County Home in September.

Shoes found near the dead woman found on the Frank Martin farm, near Bolin's Mill two weeks ago today are said to be identified by John F. Blake, Prosecuting attorney for Vinton county today. This strengthens the idea that the dead woman is Lizzie McColley, woman-tramp, who spent about three weeks at the Athens county infirmary during September, leaving September 23 for the purpose of getting work in a laundry at Columbus.

DESCRIPTIONS TALLY

Mrs. D. H. Daugherty, matron of the county home at first thought from the description of the dead woman given in The Messenger that it was Mrs. Lizzie McColley but when she went to McArthur and saw the clothes the dead woman had with her and the shoes found near the dead body, she decided that it was not Mrs. McColley since the shoes left by the dead woman were, she thought, too small for Mrs. McColley. When asked by the Messenger what size shoes she thought Mrs. McColley wore she guessed that they were size 5 1-2. However, the description of the dead woman's hair tallied with Mrs. McColley, but her clothes did not.

On one thing could the identity be established for certain, Mrs. McColley had only a few front teeth. The Vinton county coroner did not make a detailed examination of the woman, and burial took place before this description could be checked up. Mr. Blake took the matter before the Vinton county commissioners and asked that the body of the dead woman be exhumed for further examination, but the county commissioners were unwilling to grant the necessary expense to exhume the body so long as there was no suspicion of foul play.

LETTERS ARE WRITTEN

Mr. Blake has written to Allie Cowan, Sinack, Pa., and Mrs. Lowman, Lima, addresses found by Mrs. Daugherty while Mrs. McColley stayed at the county home. If letters reach these persons, added information will probably be received regarding Mrs. McColley.

Mr. Blake says that he is convinced that the dead woman is Mrs. McColley and that she met death accidentially by falling over the cliff. He believes that she was deceived by an old road leading to the edge of the cliff.

John King McCune, 87, a lifelong resident of Athens and vicinity, died Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at the family home, 90 Lancaster Street, from a severe cold and old age.

Mr. McCune became ill with a slight cold January 22, but was not confined to his bed until last Friday, when a physician was called. His condition was not considered serious until Tuesday evening, when a son, Samuel L. McCune, of Cleveland, was called. His condition became steadily worse until he died Wednesday morning.

Mr. McCune was one of the few remaining pioneers in Athens County, his father having established the family home on the Jerseyville Road, two miles south of Athens. The father came here from Pennsylvania in the early 40's. Here he reared nine children. Mr. McCune is the last to die.

Mr. McCune lived at the family home on the Jerseyville Road until the time of his marriage to Miss Maria Pickering, in 1863, when he moved to Athens and opened a news and book store on the present site of the McKee Drug Store on North Court Street. He operated this store for 15 years. Mrs. McCune died three years ago.

Mr. McCune attended Ohio University for a short time in 1861, but was forced to discontinue his studies because of illness. He had been a member of the Athens Methodist Church for 80 years, and took an active interest in the work of the church until a short time ago. He was a member of Class No. 6 in the Bible School. He was also a charter member of the Athens lodge of Knights Pythias, and was an active member until recently.

One of the best friends of Mr. McCune was Bishop Earl Cranston, of the Methodist Church.

Mr. McCune was in the 100-day service during the Civil War. The 100-day service was a home guard, which was encamped at Camp Denison and Marietta. He went with his outfit to Gallipolis, when Morgan marched through that territory.

Two sisters of Mr. McCune died in 1918, Mrs. Wallace McVay, mother of Superintendent H. E. McVay, of the Athens County schools, and Mrs. W. A. Tisdale, a life-long resident in Athens.

Russell McDaniel

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM—To the writer, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McDaniel, Russell Nelson, was a precious bud plucked from God's Garden of Flowers; a bud so rare, so choice and pure, it was not destined to blossom on earth, but in Paradise.

The love and anxious devotion lavished upon him every moment of his life by his parents, cannot be estimated; neither can their pain and grief. Yet, as Christians, they will look forward to a happy reunion in that land where the veil shall be lifted and all mists cleared away.

Just as Russell's life was given in the beautiful springtime, May 31, 1920, so the angels called him on Easter Day, April 4, 1926, to rejoice with them in our Saviour's Resurrection.

Tony McDonald

Jacksonville Man Hangs Shotgun on Bed; Shoots Self

Tony McDonald, 50, Dies of Wounds in Stomach.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 11.—Self inflicted wounds from a double barrel shotgun caused the death of Tony McDonald, 50, here today.

McDonald, who is reported to have been acting queerly for several weeks, hung a loaded shotgun on a bedpost in his room at the home of Stanley Molenski where he has been living, placed the barrel against his stomach, and pulled the trigger. It is thought the act was committed between 7 and 8:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Molenski family were attending the funeral of Mrs. Nellie Matychalla at Glouster at the time, and McDonald was the only one in the home. His lifeless body was found by John Glouster, the lady whom he [illegible] home [illegible] and [illegible] to leave his coat. Coroner W. W. Barber, after examining the body, held that the death was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] complaining and appreciative of all efforts to alleviate her distress and add to her comfort and needs. Her greatest expressed anxiety was for those she would leave behind. She thought of her little granddaughter and the many things she had contemplated doing that might add comfort and happiness to her childish and youthful life. She lamented leaving those who would be deprived of her motherly love, care and counsel, and of the one who had long shared her joys and sorrows, and who would sadly miss her needed counsel, aid, love and companionship, but she gracefully accepted her fate as the Lord's will "it must be done," and on the morn of October 15, 1926, as the sun's first rays were peering over the eastern hill tops, the clock tolling the hour of six, and with a smile serenely gathered upon her wasted face her spirit took its flight to the God who gave it, leaving the memory of a rich, priceless heritage of a lifetime of usefulness, seeking pleasure by bidding others.

May her memory exhort and her example encourage and persuade others who follow her to emulate deeds which, kind and generous in themselves, were all crowned by the sunlit, white flower of a stainless life.

Wm. McFarland

HIT LAST NIGHT BY CAR DRIVEN BY ATHENS MAN

Wm. McFarland Living About 8 Miles South of City Is Victim.

William McFarland, 62, farmer was struck and almost instantly killed on the Athens-Pomeroy state highway about 5 o'clock Saturday evening by a machine owned and driven by G. Chalmers Nicholson, 21 Wolfe street, Athens. Coroner Lou Sanders was called from Millfield to make a preliminary investigation late Saturday evening but was unable to locate all the witnesses at that time and will complete his inquiry early in the week.

ON WAY HOME

Nicholson was returning from his work as carpenter at Middleport at the time of the tragedy. He was accompanied by Charles Martin, Athens, and Clarence Dodd, Coolville, both carpenters. Nicholson's story of the affair as told to the Messenger follows: McFarland, who it is claimed was hard of hearing, came up on the road in front of the Will Rogers residence, about eight miles south of Athens, driving a horse, just as the Nicholson machine approached. Nicholson claims that McFarland walked to the middle of the road, the horse crossing before him, and then looked around to see the machine nearing him. Nicholson says the McFarland turned back towards the side of the road, and then turned back again in his original direction. Nicholson says that he turned his machine from one side of the road to the other and finally applied his brakes to prevent striking the man. The machine skidded and turned around, the rear fender striking McFarland, according to the driver. McFarland was knocked into the pole supporting a mail box at the side of the road and died almost instantly from his injuries. Both legs were broken and he was otherwise cut and bruised. Nicholson says that his car was not being driven at a rapid rate, as on account of the wet surface of the road he was fearful of skidding. His speed he estimates at twenty miles an hour.

MAY FILE CHARGES

McFarland was the brother of Mrs. Will Rogers and had lived at their home for years. It is understood that John Rogers, a nephew of the dead man, saw the accident, and was at the side of McFarland almost immediately after he had been struck. It is understood that his story is that Nicholson's machine was being driven at an excessive speed and that when the brakes were applied the machine turned around at least twice and perhaps three times before it finally struck McFarland. It is understood that the Rogers' family is seeking legal advice and plan to file charges against Nicholson. Members of the family were in Athens Saturday evening and this is said to have been the purpose of their visit to Athens. McFarland was the only brother of Mrs. Rogers.

County Traffic Officer Howard Gibson and Coroner Sanders visited the scene of the tragedy Saturday evening. Coroner Sanders said that he would be unable to say at this time whether there had been criminal carelessness in the driving of Nicholson that resulted in the death of McFarland. He desires to talk to all of the witnesses before he makes a finding in the affair.

Funeral services for Mr. McFarland will be held at Bates church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The funeral party will leave the Rogers' home at 1 o'clock the same afternoon.

James McGirr
Jennie Carcara

TWO DROWN

CHILD AND MAN ARE VICTIMS IN AN HOUR'S TIME

An 18-Month-Old Girl Drowns in Ditch After the Creek Had Flooded Area. James McGirr, 82, Loses Life After Going to the Aid of Boy in Water.

GLOUSTER, Nov. 16.—Two persons, James McGirr, 32, and Jennie Carcara, 18 months old, were drowned in this city Friday afternoon with less than an hour intervening between the two tragedies.

Jennie, 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carcara, was drowned in a ditch at the side of the road near the family home in "Little Italy" on the Oakdale Pike about 3 o'clock. The body of the little girl was found in the water about 100 feet from her home. A deep ditch at the side of the road was filled with back water from Hunday Creek to the depth of about four feet. The child and a small neighbor child were at play when the Carcara girl fell into the ditch. A physician was called as soon as the body was found, but a brief examination showed the body had been in the water too long to restore life by artificial respiration.

James McGirr, 32, married, and the father of four children, lost his life shortly after 3:45 o'clock when he jumped into Hunday Creek just below the bridge near the Standard Oil Company's tanks in an effort to save 10-year-old Malcom Nicewanger, who had been accidently pushed into the creek from the bridge where a number of young boys were playing on their way home from school.

BOY IS SAVED

As he reached the boy, it was seen that McGirr was in difficulty and he cried out for help. Jake Swimm entered the creek just above the railroad trestle, a short distance south of the bridge from which the boy fell, seized the boy and started for the shore. After being relieved of the boy McGirr appeared to be able to save himself, but Swimm it was seen, was having difficulty on account of the swift current. He managed to reach the limb of a tree on the north side of the creek where he held on until a wire was thrown to him and he was pulled ashore with the Nicewanger boy on his back.

McGirr disappeared beneath the flood waters about 100 feet below the railroad trestle. Leonard Viney, street commissioner, who had been running along the creek bank calling for help, came out onto Front Street, and ran to the High Street Bridge. He got there in time to see McGirr's body being carried down the stream by the swift current. Reaching over the bridge he was almost able to grasp the drowning man. He did reach the cap which was still on McGirr's head.

Several hours were spent in searching for the body after the accident, the search finally being given up about midnight. The creek was bank-full and the current unusually swift where the drowning occurred. The body was found shortly before 11 o'clock this morning.

PUSHED OFF BRIDGE

The Nicewanger boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nicewanger and it was said he was accidentally pushed into the creek from the bridge where a number of boys were playing. Young Dan Rice had thrown a toy airplane into the creek and was stooping over to pick up a stone to throw at it, when it was stated he was pushed by another boy and thrown against the Nicewanger boy, shoving him through a wire netting at the side of the bridge into the creek. Young Rice nearly followed the other boy into the water and only saved himself by grasping a piece of iron work at the side of the bridge.

Mr. McGirr was working with Street Commissioner Viney in hauling large stones from the vicinity of the Corporation Building near the bridge to the spot where a fill is being made on Spring and Broad Streets. While an expert swimmer, he was wearing heavy rubber shoes that were open at the top and he was also perspiring freely as a result of the heavy work he had been doing. It is supposed that when he jumped into the cold water he was seized with cramps.

Mr. McGirr was employed as checkweighman at Mine No. 19 of the Sunday Creek Coal Company at Derthick and the family home is on New Street in this city. The mine was idle Friday and at noon Street Commissioner Viney employed McGirr to work with him in the afternoon in hauling the stone.

Mr. McGirr leaves his wife and four children—Virgil, 13 years; Rolland, 11 years; Margaret, 7 years; and Evelyn, 4 years.

Search for the body of McGirr was started at an early hour this morning and about 10:45 the body was recovered about one hundred feet from the spot where it was seen to sink. It was taken from the water near the rear of the Carpenter Hardware Store by Marshal Henry Williams, John Crawford and Carl DeWolf who were in a boat. People on the opposite side of the creek reported that they had seen the shoulder of a body protruding from the water at that point and the boatmen went at once to the scene. Coroner L. V. Jones, of Athens, was expected here this afternoon to conduct an inquest.

Sarah McHarg

AUNT SARAH McHARG WHO DIES AT AGE OF NINETY-EIGHT WAS ONE OF ATHENS' PIONEERS

Mrs. Sarah McHarg, who died Monday at the age of 98 years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bell, Lower Plains, in her early life and into her more mature years experienced the hardships and adventures which today have become America's favorite fiction topics. Gold hunting, shipwreck, Indians and the "bad" men of the early days of the West were the portion of Mrs. McHarg and her husband, Hiram Bingham.

She was the daughter of Jacob and Rosina Stelder, Weis, among the early settlers of Athens county and residing near New England. In 1841 she was married to Hiram Bingham, a son of Captain Elias Bingham, one of the first residents of Athens. In the year of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham with a number of other Athens countians, who had become interested in the new gold fields of California, left for New York where they embarked on the sailing vessel "Independence". Their ship was wrecked in a tropical hurricane off the coast of the Island of Jamaica where the passengers were landed.

The gold hunters finally arrived at Kingston and were from there taken to the Isthmus of Panama. [illegible] the Chagres river, they were picked up by a steamer and taken to San Francisco, arriving in 1842, some months after starting from Athens.

On their arrival in California, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham found themselves with only seventy-five cents in their purse, in the center of the gold excitement, in the midst of thousands of persons flushed with the fever of the gold rush. They immediately sought and found work at what seemed to them fabulous wages, but what was the ordinary wage of the gold camps. After a few months their savings were sufficient to enable them to brave the wild frontier life of interior California's mining camps.

A number of Athenians remember hearing Mr. and Mrs. Bingham upon their return to Ohio tell of their experiences in the gold camps. These camps were filled with rough characters, bad men who went heavily armed and laws were made and broken in the style of the time. After three years of life in the gold camps, Mr. Bingham operated a dairy and meat business for six years, and then went to a Mormon town, Salt Lake City, Idaho territory, where they remained for two years.

They also lived for a time at Walla Walla, Washington territory, where they often came in contact with Indians. Their travel in these days was by overland stage coach and on such occasions, Mrs. McHarg related that they often saw grimly bears and other large game crossing the trail ahead of the coach.

In the spring of 1864, they returned to Athens by the way of Nicaragua and located in the home of Mr. Bingham's birth, where Merrell Fiege is now located.

In 1869, they sold this farm and purchased the building and grocery store of Isaac Silvis where the Majestic Theater stands today. Later he disposed of this property and engaged in the manufacture of salt at Salina, at what is now Bessemer.

In about 1885 he retired from active business and purchased a farm at Lower Plains, where he died two years later. In March 1906, Mrs. Bingham married William McHarg who died in 1894. Mrs. McHarg leaves one step-son, Reuben Bingham, Cincinnati. For the last 38 years Mrs. McHarg had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Bell, where she was known by many persons who admired her for a resourceful and capable woman with the highest ideals of good citizenship. She was familiarly known by her friends and neighbors as "Aunt Sarah."

Funeral services will be held at Factory church Wednesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Burial will be made in the West Union street cemetery in Athens.

AMINE EDMUNDSON—Daughter of Franklin and Hannibal Edmundson was born September 14, 1861, died August 24, 1925, being 63 years, 11 months and 14 days of age.

She was united in marriage to George M. McKnight on March 14, 1883. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. F. C. Kayser of Glouster with whom she made her home at the time of her death.

Having lost her mother when but two years of age, she was brought up and cared for by her grandparents whom she always addressed as "Father" and "mother."

Most of her life was spent in schoolteaching and she was a familiar figure at institute and other gatherings pertaining to education.

Shortly after their marriage they thought to make for themselves a home in the far West. They moved to Spring Hill, Kansas, where with high hopes and willing hands they began life together.

But alas, in a few short months George was stricken with typhoid fever and passed away. With every hope shattered, she with her infant child made her way back to Ohio where she was given a welcome home with the McKnight family, who were the parents of her being again able to take up the thread of life.

She had a great record GAR that she took, she understood and remembered.

Very few could equal her in recalling history read when a child.

While brought up in the Quaker faith, she was a member of no church. She professed an ever-living power and faith in a hereafter that lent faith especially.

Seven brothers and sisters preceded her in death.

She gave her heart to Jesus and was converted at Carbondale Church in 1861. The writer has heard her shout the praises many times. She left a witness she was ready to meet her Savior. Her passing will leave lonely hearts as she was a home lover.

"There is a Guide that never falters,
And where He leads, I cannot stray
For step by step He goes before me
And marks my path, He knows the way."

FUNERAL HELD FOR F. McLEAD THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Fred McLead, 46, who was killed when the truck he was driving was struck by the Southbound B. & O. train at a crossing near Clifton, W. Va. late Saturday afternoon, were held at 4 o'clock today at the New Marshfield Methodist Protestant church, and burial was made in the West Union street cemetery here.

Neither McLead nor trainmen aboard the B. & O. were aware of danger until after the crash which caused McLead's death had occurred, several persons who witnessed the accident told Carl Beasley who investigated the wreck Saturday night.

McLead had left Athens Saturday morning in the F. J. Beasley Milling and Grocery company truck to make deliveries for the firm on the West Virginia side of the Ohio river in Clifton and Letart, and was returning with a load of salt when the accident occurred, Mr. Beasley said.

It was necessary for McLead to cross the railroad tracks above Clifton to reach the ferry to Middleport, and he was driving at a moderate rate of speed. It was said. IN MEMORIAM

Fred Garfield McLead, son of Charles and Alice Bethel McLead, was born September 27, 1882, at Albany, and died August 16 1928, at the age of 45 years, 10 months and 22 days.

In his early childhood with his father and mother he moved to Missouri, where they stayed a short time; then moved to Indiana. A few years afterward he again returned to Ohio. The rest of his life was spent near New Marshfield, except for a few years that he lived in Richmond, Ind.

On May 8, 1902 he married Rhoda Sherman. To this union was born one daughter, Bernice.

Besides his wife, Rhoda, he leaves his daughter Bernece; his mother, Mrs. Alf Nichols; three sisters, Mrs. Edith Daines, Athens, Mrs. May Hunter, New Marshfield and Mrs. Velda Tucker, Athens; and one brother, Cecil McLead, Athens.

His father, two brothers, Ray and Olen, preceded him in death.

He was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church at Union. He lived his life according to his belief of Christianity. Quiet and unassuming he went about his daily duties believing that good works and faith were more than outward show and form.

He was honest and sincere, a good citizen of his community and was well liked by all. As a father and husband he was loving, kind and thoughtful. He loved his home and preferred to be there to any other place. His highest ambition was to educate his young daughter, and he was always extremely interested in her work in music.

The duties and care of his home and family were always uppermost in his thoughts and every day found him busy fulfilling the tolls and duties of life.

While he was at work the master called him to a higher service and the words of the master whisper to us in this hour of sadness. "Thou hast been faithful over a few things I will make thee ruler over many."

In Memoriam

NANCY MARIA BISSON—Daughter of Elisha and Pamelia Bisson, was born near Mount Blanco, Meigs County, Ohio, March 29, 1846, and departed this life at her home at Pleasanton, Athens county, Ohio, August 25, 1925, aged 79 years, 4 months, and 27 days, being the last of a family of seven children.

She lost her mother at the tender age of three years and her father at eighteen, after which she made her home with the late Elias Armstrong and wife at Hebbardsville, Ohio.

October 7, 1867, she was united in marriage to Sidney Parker of Pleasanton, Ohio. To them were born six sons and two daughters, all of whom are living: Frank, Sherman and Mrs. Nancy Chase, near Hebbardsville; Edward and Mrs. Lydia Lash, of Athens; Simeon, of Plain City; and Oliver and Charles of Bay River, Minnesota. On September 18, 1885, the husband and father met death, by accident, while working with the two elder sons, felling timber on his farm, leaving a widow and eight children ranging in ages from six months to sixteen years. Then began the greatest battle of her life, and with a firm determination she worked bravely on, ever keeping in mind the necessity of keeping her family together, that they might be guided by her influence and wise counsel.

Mother was a woman of undaunted courage, tender love and a hopeful, optimistic disposition, never looking back, but always forward, with her mind and soul intent on doing the best in her power, for her family, her friends, and her God.

November 11, 1890, she was again united in marriage to J. H. McPherson of Pleasanton, Ohio, and their pleasant companionship continued until broken by death April 23, 1912. After the death of Mr. McPherson she has spent most of her time in her home at Pleasanton.

In childhood she united with the Methodist Episcopal church of which she has been a faithful member all through the years, into whatever community she moved, during her pilgrimage here, but always transferred her membership to the church in that community, thus being active in every phase of church life. Twenty-nine years ago, upon moving to Pleasanton, she transferred her membership to the Pleasanton M. E. church, and has, during those years been a devoted member, doing her duty at all times. And now, because the silver cord is broken, the immortal soul to the mortal body, is severed, the love, counsel and kindly ministries of this mother will be missed, not only by her children, to whom she was devoted, but by the church and community as well. When friends leave us, there is a tugging at the heart strings, a light goes out in the soul, an aching void is left in the breast, and we would fain cry out, "O, for the touch of a vanished hand, for the sound of a voice which is stilled." But in the larger view we feel that God had passing work for her to do, where there are larger opportunities for service and wider fields of endeavor.

Besides her children, she leaves to mourn their loss, eighteen grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, and a host of relatives and friends.

NELSONVILLE LINEMAN IS ELECTROCUTED AT SUB-STATION TUESDAY

Clarence Mace, 30, Is Instantly Killed While Investigating Trouble at Coonville.

O. MIDKIFF BURNED

Companion Is Injured in Attempting to Free the Body From Grip of Charged Wire.

NELSONVILLE, July 14.—Clarence Mace, 30, married, residing on Walnut street, Nelsonville, and employed as a lineman by the Southern Ohio Electric company, was instantly killed by electrocution about 8 o'clock last night while investigating trouble at the power sub-station located near the mine of the Southern Ohio Coal company at Coonville, Hocking county.

Mace, accompanied by Orville Midkiff, lineman, left Nelsonville for Coonville about 7 o'clock in response to notice received at the local office that the power was off.

WORKED AT SWITCH

On arriving at the sub-station, Midkiff states that it was immediately discovered that two fuses were blown, apparently by lightning, and the switch was pulled while he and Mace were making repairs. Mace was working at the switch, while Midkiff went around the side of the station to look over a transformer. He states that he heard a peculiar sound and immediately returned to his companion to find him on his knees, his body drawn and twisted and clinging to the switch, which he had pushed into position. Midkiff made desperate efforts to release Mace from the grip of the current, and succeeded in doing so by grasping hold of his clothing and was also burned in several spots and rendered unconscious for a brief time.

It is stated that 13,000 volts passed through Mace's body. An investigation of the cause of the accident is being made but company electricians are of the opinion that lightning which burned the fuses had also cracked one of the large insulators at the top of the station allowing the current to leak through to the switch handle when it was thrown into position following the repair of the fuses.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

Funeral services will be held at the late residence on Walnut street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mace leaves his wife and small daughter, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Mace, of Marshfield, and one brother and one sister. Burial will be made at Greenlawn.

Negro Is Shot When Raid Is Made by Officers on Dance At Lathrop Saturday Night

Killing of Ellwood Males Is Second in County in 48 Hours.

FACTS MEAGER

Further Examination of Witnesses Will Be Held in Athens Tomorrow.

Athens county had its second killing in forty-eight hours late Saturday night, when Ellwood Males, 48, negro, was shot during a raid on a dance at the residence of Lavada Hesthell at Lathrop.

Males was killed, according to all available accounts of the tragedy by Constable Thomas Daine, Deputy and other officers who were there, claims that Males shot at the constable first, and that the bullet hit his belt buckle, but fifteen witnesses testified at an inquest held at Lathrop by Coroner L. W. Sanders this morning, that the dead man did not have a gun in his hand when he was shot and did no shooting.

NO VERDICT REACHED.

Coroner Sanders told the Messenger today that further examination of witnesses would be held tomorrow in Athens and that no verdict had yet been reached. None of the officers testified today.

The story of the raid, as nearly as can be learned in Athens today, is as follows: Constable Daine, Deputy Perry Daine, Constable [illegible] Selbers and Deputy Marshal Johnson over went to Lathrop Saturday night to arrest negroes whom they heard were drunk at the dance.

They made several [illegible] parked their [illegible] outside. Several of the [illegible] the dance became disorderly. Ellwood Males started [illegible] Bullets Guthrie said he [illegible] spotlight, [illegible] but dodged [illegible] drunks for the officers.

[illegible] said, then pulled his gun [illegible] at Daine as he broke and ran [illegible] and Selbers started [illegible] Males dropped in the street.

Guthrie said he pulled [illegible] did no shooting. He said [illegible] the negroes were shooting.

Sheriff McKinley and Deputy Jacob Cady were called [illegible] immediately went to Lathrop [illegible] met Daine and his prisoners on the way. Daine [illegible] Chauncey.

DAINE REPORTED HURT.

He said Daine's belt buckle was shattered and he had a small wound under the buckle.

The officers said Males' gun had been turned over to the coroner.

E. R. Walburn, local undertaker, was called to the scene and when he reached there Males was dead. Walburn said Charles Males, brother of the dead man, and two others took him this morning when they went to Athens that Ellwood Males did not have a gun in his possession.

Charles Males and two [illegible] visited Prosecutor Finsterwald today and with Coroner Sanders and the prosecutor returned to Lathrop to attend the inquest. The body of Males is at his home, six miles from Bartlett.

At Walburn's undertaking [illegible] Hahnent it was learned that Males had four bullet holes in him. One bullet entered from his side and the others from his back.

The gun with which it is claimed Males shot at Daine was a [illegible] bar affair.

Besides his widow he is survived by one daughter, Pauline, his mother, Mrs. Jane Mapes; two brothers, Lester Mapes, of Muncie, Indiana, and Charles Mapes of Athens; two sisters, Nettie Mapes, of Athens, and Mrs. Merriam B. Shoemaker, of Roseburg, Oregon; numerous other relatives and a host of friends. Mr. Mapes was educated in Chesbire Public Schools, and spent most of his life since the age of 18 years in Athens, where he was employed as cement contractor and plumber. He told his companion a few days before he died that he was ready and waiting on the other side of the river for her to come. That the Lord had prepared him a "home" and that he would go there right away. We feel our loss very severely, but we thank the Lord for having given us such a kind Father, and good instructor to guide us over the troubles and trials of this life. His death was caused by leakage of the heart and dropsy. He trusted God for his healing until the end came. He loved to talk on Scripture and read God's Holy Word to his neighbors and fellowmen.

Edgar Mariner

Constable Mariner Dies of Wounds After Lingering Thirty-Eight Hours

Chief Parker Finds Two Full Bottles of Wine Near Bed Where Wood Lay.

Negro Alleged to Have Confessed Shooting Officer at Shanty.

Edgar C. Mariner is dead.

The constable, noted for his genial smile, who was shot Saturday night while on official duty at the shanty of Joe Wood, negro, Hamlin avenue, was unable to resist death which came at 1:15 this afternoon at the Sheltering Arms hospital.

Death came within thirty-eight hours after he was shot.

Charges of first degree murder will be immediately placed against Joe Wood, alleged to have done the shooting, according to R. W. Finsterwald, prosecuting attorney.

NO HOPES HELD

At no time since Mariner was injured did physicians hold out hopes for his life. Only Mariner's excellent physical condition, contributed to his ability to hold out until this afternoon.

Two new developments have arisen in connection with the charges which are being brought against Joe Wood, alleged to have confessed shooting Constable Mariner.

DISCOVERS LIQUOR

Two quart bottles of wine nearly full were said to have been found by Chief of Police Herb Parker early yesterday morning. Chief Parker searched the shanty after the shooting and said he found the two bottles by the bed in which Wood had been sleeping. Chief Parker said he is holding the liquor pending further investigation.

Wood admitted that he called Mariner by name, it was stated by County Prosecutor R. W. Finsterwald, who with Magistrate Pearl W. Helwig and Ines Woodyard, a stenographer, obtained statements from Wood this afternoon.

ASKED TO WAIT

"I said Edgar, believe I said Mr. Mariner—you sit down there until I get my clothes on," Wood is reported by Prosecutor Finsterwald to have said before the shooting.

Wood, in statements yesterday, said that he did no know who was in the room until after the shooting occurred.

Prosecutor Finsterwald said he asked Wood if Mariner had not been in the room two or three minutes before the shooting occurred and if Mariner had told Wood he had come concerning reports that Wood had sold whisky to Mrs Herb Thompson. Wood replied affirmatively to both questions, according to the prosecutor.

NEGRO QUERIED

"Did you know he had a search warrant," Finsterwald asked.

"Yes," Wood is reported to have answered.

"Did this happen before the shooting took place," the prosecutor asked.

"Yes," was the reply Wood is said to have given.

The condition of the aged negro, who is also at the Sheltering Arms hospital, remains about the same. His condition today is not serious, doctors said.

DREW REVOLVER FIRST TIME IN WOOD'S SHANTY

When Edgar C. Mariner drew his gun Tuesday night in the shanty Joe Wood since he had been wounded, it was the first time the constable had ever resorted to his gun, it was revealed today.

Though serving as an officer for eight years, Constable Mariner had never been shot at, though various guns had been pointed at him. County and city officers, among them Prosecutor R. W. Finsterwald, Justice of Peace Carl Porter and Chief Herb Parker, state that when Mariner was confronted with a gun, he would say with his genial smile:

"Now I wouldn't use that gun," and left his own gun in the holster.

Constable Mariner made 171 arrests since the middle of January, it was stated by Justice Porter today, under whose jurisdiction Mariner has been working since that time. Ninety-seven of the cases have been disposed of, according to Justice Porter, while 74 are awaiting final action.

ELIZABETH JANE—Daughter of Wm. and Lucy Parker, was born near Pleasanton, Ohio, September 6, 1847. Departed to her reward September 13, 1925, aged 78 years, 7 days. She was stricken with bronchial pneumonia two weeks previous to her death and together with heart trouble was more than she could survive. She was born of a family of ten children, 10 of whom lived to reach the age of more than two score years. She was united in marriage to Ora Martin on Thanksgiving, November 25th, 1869. And for almost 56 years they have journey together and at the home of A. and Ethel Ide, her constant ministry was to stay a little longer. The latter was spared constant watchfulness with her mother, being called home while [illegible] of them grey to mature years. [illegible] Parker of Albany, R. D. 1, and Mrs. Ada Martin, Columbus, O., until only five remain of their number.

The remaining ones are, Mrs. Kendra J. Hollin, Frank P. and O. E. Martin of Pleasanton; Wm. T. Martin of Albany, R. D.; and Ada M. Bobo of Columbus, O.

Twelve grandchildren and two great grandchildren, together with the aged father, remain to mourn their loss; also three brothers, Dr. Geo. H. and John Parker of Athens, O.; and Chas. Parker of Albany, R. D. Besides a host of friends, made such by her many deeds of kindness to humanity, no task being too hard for her to do for her family or neighbors in early youth she found Jesus as her personal savior and all through her long life she followed in the path of the just as well as ability and opportunity afforded, and in singing her last song, ("I Must Tell Jesus"), her trust was in Him to help to bear her great suffering, often saying, "Oh, how Jesus suffered on the Cross, yet without sin, for me and for all who Trust in Him."

She would gladly have lived longer for duty, but as God showed her that her work was almost done, she simply trusted in Jesus who doeth all things well. In early youth she united with the M. E. church and has always remained one of it's supporters in any way she could.

In her last illness she earnestly desired those to be with her and pray with her whom she was associated trusted Jesus as a personal savior, but at that we could only go with her as far as the Valley of Death, but which we are confident was not dark to her as we are sure her trust was in Jesus, and she fell asleep claiming His promises.

Esther Martin

DEATH HAS COME AGAIN—Into our midst and called away a young wife and mother into another world.

Esther Blanche Saylor, daughter of Willis and Ella Saylor was born April 11, 1897, and departed this life November 21, 1926, at the home of her parents, where she spent the past several months, hoping to regain her failing health. Medical aid and tender care were given her but she fought a losing battle. Her affliction was of many years duration which caused her untold pain and agony of heart. Yet she bore it all with a spirit remarkable, so eager to live, to not yield. Much sympathy is due the father and mother who through the long weeks of suffering kept watch with the dear one, for whom they had hopes only to see them fade away with the fading of the frail body.

After a stay on earth of 28 years, 7 months, and 10 days she left for that far country where no partings are and no sorrow ever comes.

December 22, 1911, she became the wife of John Martin and to this union seven children were born. Three children preceded the mother in death, dying in infancy. The husband and following children survive: Kona Berdice, Ardath Lucile, Geraldine, and Clyde Kenneth.

Father, mother, one brother, Norman Naylor, three sisters, Mrs. John Trood Athens, O., Mrs. Lester Bickle, Milnerel, O., and Mrs. Dave Mincy, New Marshfield, O., mourn the loss of dear Esther Blanche. Many other relatives and friends deeply feel her untimely death. She held membership with the Apostolic Church at Meshannonburg, O., where she formerly lived. Her record is written in the hearts of her friends who knew her best. Truly—"to live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

In Memoriam

LYDIA ARABELLE MATHENY—The subject of this memoir, Lydia Arabelle Martin Matheny was born in Athens, Ohio, July 20, 1852 and died April 16, 1925, at her home on The Plains aged 72 years. She suffered for months with nervous prostration which resulted in a paralytic stroke from which she never fully recovered. She was the youngest daughter of William and Mary A. Martin who with their family moved from New Jersey to Ohio the year 1851 locating on a farm near Athens where in which later they moved to The Plains. Of a family of nine of which she was a member only one, Mrs. Cherstia Cornell of Kansas City, Mo. are survives. Most of her life was spent in the vicinity of The Plains.

The year 1874 she was united in marriage with Albert H. Matheny and to this union were born four children: Grace Nagle and Clarence of The Plains, Roy of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and Leslie R., whose untimely death nine years ago so wounded the mother heart that she never regained her usual cheerfulness and strength.

The death of her companion in 1916 was an event of deepest sorrow which left her a widow with the care of home and family.

In the spring of 1869 in a great religious revival led by Rev. J. P. Dixon, pastor of The Plains Methodist church, she was happily converted and united with the church and continued a faithful and devoted member of the same until the hour of her translation to the church triumphant. No doubt scores of kindred and loved ones welcomed her into the joys of the Everlasting Kingdom prepared for the truly faithful. Her religious life and character are well known to the people of this community. Possessing a strong and perfect disposition, beautiful of heart, the crowning grace of Christian faith was beautifully delineated in her daily walk and conversation; her personal Christian influence will remain as a benediction and blessing not only to her immediate family but also to all other people of the community. A faithful companion and mother, a kind, sympathetic friend, a loyal citizen, a devoted member of the church of Christ—she has passed to her reward. Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord. The coroner's jury ceased informally at noon today that his inquiry there had failed to lead him to the opinion that McManaway had shot in self-defense. He said he expected to make a finding in the case sometime in a few hours.

NELSONVILLE, Aug. 4—Apparently the only eye-witness to the shooting in Nelsonville early Saturday morning which resulted in the death of Pete Mora, [illegible] the Lick Run Coal Company, was Beatrice Mora, daughter of the deceased, when she appeared at the inquest conducted by Coroner L. F. Jones, here this afternoon.

Beatrice said that she had come home to get the dinner that morning and was only [illegible] the scene. She says that Joe Manaway came down [illegible] (referring to the railroad leading up Bone Hollow) and Pete Mora. "I saw [illegible] pull a gun and aim [illegible] times," she told the coroner. The other man fell to the ground, she continued. "I did not see [illegible] raise his hand as if to [illegible] other man. I did not see [illegible] She testified that the men were far apart when the shooting occurred. She could not hear what they were saying. "After the shooting," she continued, "Mr. Manaway came back and helped Pete Mora and then went down the track." Asked if she had stopped on McManaway's way she stated that she did not.

Diligent search by county officers has failed to produce any evidence of the knife which McManaway asserts was used by Mora in making the attack which resulted in the killing according to the statement. When McManaway was on the public square en route to the home of Mayor L. J. Hunter, coroner, the pants were plainly visible and his shirt was [illegible] with blood, it is reported.

In Memoriam

James S. Milliron, son of George and Elizabeth Milliron was born May 10 1867 in Ireaton, Ohio, where he spent his childhood. His mother died when he was 12 years old. He then went to Buchtel, Ohio, where he grew to young manhood and in 1884 was married to Flora Hilliard. To this union was born one child Ella May. The mother died at this time.

After her death he went to Coalgate, Okla., where he was engaged in the coal mining industry. For two years he was weighmaster for the Ewart mines. While here he was married to Lillie May Dixon November 16, 1894.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Milliron with his family moved to Athens where he spent the remainder of his life. For a number of years after coming to Athens he was engaged in the grocery business, and later conducted a restaurant.

During the last year of his life, he was a great sufferer but he bore it all patiently, and with Christian fortitude. In the early morning hours November 18, the Master said "It is enough, come up higher". He was 60 years, 6 months and 9 days old. He was converted and joined the Christian church 15 years ago.

He was a member of the Knights of Pythias in Buchtel, but dropped his membership after coming to Athens. In his friendships he was always true. As a husband he was kind and affectionate. As a father he was lenient and tender, and it is in these relationships that he will be most sorely missed. His devotion to his home was beautiful and his home life most exemplary.

In his going away he leaves to mourn their loss a devoted widow and nine children: Mrs. Harry Graham, Mrs. James Winning, Mrs. Clyde Woodrus and Harry Milliron of Athens; Arthur, James, and Fred of Charleston, W. Va.; George, and Earl at home; and Mrs. J. R. Mercer of Pittsburgh, Pa.; one son, Odus Dale died in infancy.

Seven brothers, George and Ephraim of New Straitsville, John of Canton; Dr. A. M. Milliron of California; William of Mexico; Harley of British Columbia; and Dewey of Akron; and one sister, Mrs. Edmund Leighty, Athens, survive.

But they mourn not as those who have no hope for he went away with a smile on his face. He had often expressed his love for the Savior. His only worry being, that some of his family were not Christians, and his great anxiety was, that they might all come to know the Christ and meet him in heaven.

"Why do we mourn for dying friends,
Or shake at death's alarms?
'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends
To call them to His arms."

A month ago Mr. Moore lost the sight of one eye while the other was seriously impaired, and this had greatly worried him, his family states. When the flood waters of Federal creek entered the hotel, yesterday, though only in the basement, he told one of the boarders at the hotel that he "guessed he was broke up now."

John Moore

PROMINENT PATIENT AT STATE HOSPITAL DIED LAST EVENING

John Milton Moore, an Amerherst Man, Had Interesting Life Story.

John Milton Moore, 66, patient at the Athens State hospital since 1909, and well known in Athens, is dead at the institution following a long illness from hardening of the arteries and cerebral hemorrhages. He died last night. His body will be claimed by relatives living in Portsmouth, and the fugeral and burial will be held in that city.

Moore, who for years was in business in Portsmouth, where he had foundry interests, was a highly educated man, and was considered at the hospital by members of the medical staff, a man of an exceptionally high type. Well educated in his youth and a member of a prominent family of Portsmouth, he entered into the business life of the city and became a success financially. He was an Amherst college man. At the age of fifty his mind failed and he became afflicted with paranoia, which took a religious trend. Brought to the hospital here for treatment, he speedily became a trusted patient with the freedom of the institution and in late years, the freedom of the city. He was known in many Athens homes as a courteous solicitor for periodicals.

A few years after being admitted to the hospital here, he slashed off his right hand at the wrist with the tobacco cutter in the institution's storeroom, obeying the Biblical admonition—"If thy right hand offend thee, cut it off." His life was saved by prompt surgical care, and the shock of his act evidently served forever to end his desire for further violence.

Always bareheaded and neatly clad in a carefully kept blue suit, John Milton Moore swung through the streets of Athens for years a familiar figure, an interesting conversationalist, a perfect gentleman always, and one of those pathetic characters always to be found about such an institution.

In Memoriam

We heard a voice from heaven saying, Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.

As the sun was rising over the hill the Almighty called the spirit home.

John Francis Morris, son of Joseph and Caroline Morris was born October 26, 1851 in Ames township Athens County, Ohio. His father died when he was 2 years old leaving his mother with four children, of which only one survives, Mrs Ann E. Wooley of Glouster, Ohio.

He went to his last sleep September 6, 1927 aged 75 years, 10 months and 10 days.

He was united in marriage to Sarah Lewis Jan. 1, 1882. Three sons were born to this union. Joseph Morris, Athens, Charles Morris Columbus, and Pearl Morris, McDougall. There are also left four grandchildren.

The home where he was born and lived till his death consisted of eleven acres. After the marriage of the older sisters he and his mother remained at the old home. He was honest and industrious and by diligent labor added to that home. He was always giving good advice to the younger generation, telling them how by diligent labor they could acquire homes of their own. His thought at all times was for the comfort of his aged mother and his family.

Fifty years ago last winter under the ministry of A. M Wade he united with the Christian church at Hooper Ridge.

His life at all times was a fitting example for his friends and neighbors

His health was good until the spring of 1927. He visited a doctor at that time and found his trouble to be heart disease. During the summer he gained and seemed to be himself again.

He was taken worse on the evening of September 2 but rallied. Monday night he became restless and gradually grew worse until death relieved him Tuesday morning.

Those surviving are the wife, three sons, one sister and four grandchildren and a host of relatives and friends.

Leslie Morris

LESLIE MORRIS IS KILLED HERE AT SUB-PLANT

Backs Into Switchboard at Sub-Station of the Southern Ohio Company.

Death Is Mystery When No Point of Contact Can Be Found on the Board.

Leslie H. Morris, aged 37, of 8 Stimson Avenue, was electrocuted at about 10 o'clock this morning when he stepped against a switchboard carrying 2,300 volts in the new West State Street sub-station of the Southern Ohio Electric Company, Athens.

According to E. E. Reynolds, 9 Cone Street, foreman of the tree building job at which Morris was employed, Morris had been working on a cement form behind the large switchboard in the station. He had apparently taken a step backward and stepped into contact with the current. Though no point could be found where it was possible to touch hot wires, the victim's back was burned badly.

Mr. Reynolds, who had escaped outside of the room, dragged the body from the switchboard and immediately made attempts at resuscitation. Physicians and an ambulance were called at once and Coroner L. F. Jones notified. All attempts to revive the man were unsuccessful, though he was taken to the hospital. The coroner's verdict was not available.

S. M. Maffey, resident manager for the Southern Ohio Electric Company, was called and took charge of the situation. He said that Mr. Morris had been in the employ of the company for 12 years and was thoroughly familiar with electrical apparatus. An investigation was begun immediately.

Morris leaves a widow and three children, Audrey, 14, Goldie, 12, and Wanetta, 5 years old. His parents are believed to be still living, and he is believed to have several brothers and sisters.

Claudius Nedry

Student Loses Life In Hocking Waters Now at High Stage

Claudius Nedry, 21, Wheaton, Ill., Drowns in Attempt To Swim River Late Wednesday; Body Not Recovered.

The first drowning of the year in Athens occurred Wednesday afternoon when the near flood-waters of the Hocking River claimed Claudius R. Nedry, 21, of Wheaton, Ill., a sophomore in the pre-medical course in Ohio University. His body had not been recovered at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Nedry, who had entered the river below South Bridge, after two other students had plunged in, was unable to swim to the opposite shore, and was carried by the swift current to a point about one-half mile below the bridge, where he was apparently drawn under by the strong under current.

Charles Engelfried, of Rocky River, and Ray Hart, of Marietta, both sophomores, the two students who had swum the river, were near exhaustion when they reached the opposite side. They sat down to rest when they noticed Nedry making a futile attempt to reach shore. When they called to him, asking if he needed help, he answered he did not. He had no sooner refused aid than he called for help.

Realizing that the current was too strong for them in their weakened condition, the two boys seized a log, and swam toward the drowning youth. They misjudged the speed of the current, and were carried below him. Failing to reach him with the log, they let it go, and made a frantic but futile attempt at fighting the current until he should be carried toward them.

In the meantime, a student had aroused members of the Sigma Pi Fraternity, on Park Place, and most of the chapter went to the river bank. Harold Fyle and Fred Beach, both former life guards at an Ohio summer lake, were able to reach the river before Nedry went down for the last time. Fyle, with Hart and Engelfried, were within ten feet of the youth when he went down. The current made surface diving impossible, they said.

Other students had lined the river from South Bridge to East Bridge, in the hope that Nedry would come to the surface at one of the few shallow places in the river. He was not seen, however, after he went down for the last time.

WAS POOR SWIMMER

Nedry, was not a good swimmer, friends said. He had asked some of the members of Omega Beta Pi, pre-medical fraternity of which he was a member, if they would teach him to swim better.

He had gone to the Athens State Hospital grounds to witness the annual tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomores of Ohio University. He was dressed in good clothes at the time. While there, he decided to aid the sophomores, and was pulled through the lake, when the sophomores lost the struggle.

While riding back to the campus in an automobile with some of his fraternity brothers, the automobile was stopped at the south end of South Bridge. Deciding to swim the river, he jumped out of the car and ran down to the shore, and jumped in without removing his clothing.

Nedry, who had attended Wheaton College, in Wheaton, Ill., during his freshman year, was "bumming" to New York last summer. Having reached Athens, he met a girl student with whom he was acquainted, and decided to stay in Athens and go to school. He registered for the summer term.

News was sent to Nedry's mother, who is living at the home in Wheaton. The boy's father is dead, having died while Nedry was quite young. There are two step-brothers, both practicing physicians in San Francisco. The father was also a physician.

A large group of volunteers were aiding in the search for the body, Thursday morning. Members of the police, fire and service departments were patroling the river in boats, dragging with grappling hooks.

May 16,1929

SERVICES FOR DROWNED BOY ARE HELD HERE

Body of Claudius Nedry Is To Be Shipped to Home.

Services for Claudius R. Nedry, whose body was recovered from the Hocking River at 4:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon, 24 hours after he was seen to drown, were to be held at the P. G. Dowler Undertaking Parlors on East Washington Street at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

The services will be in charge of Omega Beta Pi Fraternity, of which Nedry was a member. Dr. A. Y. Wilcox, pastor of the Athens Presbyterian Church was to be in charge. Members of the fraternity will accompany the body to the station after the services. The body will be sent to the home in Wheaton, Ill., at 5:30 o'clock. Don Mann, president of the Omega Beta Pi, will accompany the body to the home. No relatives of the boy were able to come to Athens.

After dragging the river almost continuously from the time that Nedry drowned, no trace of the body was found until 4:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon. At that time, volunteers struck what they thought was the body, but lost it, about 300 yards below where Nedry went down for the last time. Operations were centered around that spot, and at 4:45 o'clock the body was pulled to the surface.

Only a few bruises were on the face and chest of the youth.

In Memoriam

FLORENCE D. CLINE—Daughter of John and Maria Vanbibber Cline, was born April the 26th, 1897, and died at her home at Albany, Ohio, April the 6th, 1926, aged 28 years, 11 months and 14 days.

On March the 1st, 1921, she was united in marriage with W. P. Nelson. To this union were born two children, Reginia Furle, aged 3 years, and Selma Irene, aged 18 months, who with her husband are left to mourn their loss.

She is also survived by her aged parents, one sister, Mrs. Howard Folden of Dysville, Ohio, and two brothers, A. V. Cline of Coolville, Ohio, and Glen R. Cline of Dysville, Ohio. Two brothers have passed on before. She also leaves in the home a stepson, Harold Nelson to whom she gave that true mother love which made for that pleasant and happy home. There are also many relatives and friends who knew and loved her.

[illegible] by her family and friends, was of a kind and loving disposition. Always willing and ready to go where duty called, and if there was sickness or sorrow in the home of neighbor or friend she was always there and with cheerful words, bright smile, and helping hand was like a ray of sunshine amid the gloom.

She led an honest upright life; hospitable in her home; kind and genial to all.

She was a devoted wife and mother and her home was to her the dearest place on earth.

She will be greatly missed in the community. But in no place will she be missed as in the home and by the bereft husband and little children, so soon deprived of a mother's love and care.

Several years ago, during revival services at Dysville, she professed faith in Christ and on the day set for her baptism she was unable on account of illness to attend, and this ordinance for her was never attended to.

A few days before her death, in conversation with her family, she spoke of this and said, "I have never been baptized and never belonged to any church, but have always tried to live as near right as I could." And we that knew her know that her life was an extremely beautiful and helpful one. And as we are taught in His Holy Word that "By their works ye shall know them," we feel that such a life will not be without its reward. And now as we leave her in the hands of a just and merciful God, let us bow in humble submission and calmly say, "Not our will, Oh Lord, but Thine, be done."

Mrs. Nesmith was a descendent of the Cooleys, founders of this village, also of the Buckinghams, early settlers of Athens county. Mr. Nesmith was also of a pioneer family, and while the name is now dead in this section, many of the leading families are closely related to the Nesmiths.

Arthur Newman

ATHENIAN DIES AFTER MACHINE GOES OVER BANK

Arthur Newman, 20, Meat Cutter, Was Returning From a Visit to His Mother.

Accident Occurs Between Amesville and Lathrop at 4:30 O'clock Monday Afternoon.

Arthur P. Newman, Athens, was killed and three other men were seriously injured in an automobile accident at 4:30 p. m. Monday near the W. R. Goddard residence on Route 50 North between Amesville and Lathrop.

The injured persons are Carl D. Wolfe, Marietta, and Ray Wilson and Oscar Stanley, Columbus.

Newman, 20, a meat cutter at the Smiths Meat Market in Athens, was returning from a Sunday visit with his mother, Mrs. Newman of Powhattan. He was given a ride in a Columbus Dispatch distribution truck driven by Ray Wilson.

Newman climbed in the back of the truck and sat on some bundles of papers. Wolfe, who had been given a ride from the outskirts of Marietta, was seated in the front seat with Wilson and Stanley.

The accident is said to have occurred when the driver was unable to hold the automobile in the road after making a sharp curve. The truck jumped a 25 foot embankment and landed up side down in a shallow place in Federal Creek below.

Newman, whose neck was broken, never regained consciousness although he breathed a few minutes after being removed from the creek and underneath the automobile.

Wolfe was rushed to Athens Sheltering Arms Hospital. Dr. J. M. Howard, Amesville, administered first aid treatment to Ray Wilson, whose nose was broken and who sustained deep cuts about the face, arms and body, and to Stanley, whose face and arms were badly lacerated.

Wolfe's condition Tuesday was reported improving. He had received a broken nose, broken ribs and severe facial cuts. Wilson and Stanley were taken to a Columbus hospital in Jagers ambulance.

Walburn's ambulance removed Newman to the Walburn Funeral Home. Further funeral arrangements were to be completed Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Newman was expected to arrive.

Newman has been employed for the last five years at the Smith Meat Market. Up until the last three weeks he lived with his mother at Sugar Creek. Three weeks ago she moved to Powhattan and since then Newman had been living with his aunt, Mrs. Charles Mills, Grosvenor Street.

Mrs. Mills reports that Newman became homesick to see his mother and left early Sunday morning to visit with her over Labor Day.

Iron Casting Shifts Sides in Making Curve, Car Overturning in Ditch; Coroner Investigates.

COOLVILLE, July 5.—James Newsom, 43, mechanic of Ahaskie, North Carolina, was instantly killed at the curve just east of the double bridge here at 5 a. m. Wednesday when a heavy iron casting, loaded on the truck he was driving, shifted sides and caused the light truck to upset in the ditch.

MRS. ROBERT NOBLE

CHAUNCEY, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Robert Noble, 49, Columbus, for many years a resident of The Plains, and well-known in this district, died Thursday night in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus, from injuries sustained when she was struck by a machine Tuesday in West Broad and Dana Streets, Columbus.

Mrs. Noble was going from her home in 552 Leonard Avenue to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thelma Noble McNabb, when the accident occurred. She suffered a broken shoulder, the left leg broken and she received lacerations about the face, head and body.

The car was being driven by C. H. Minshall, Columbus, and it is said Mrs. Noble stepped from the curb to board a street car when the machine struck her. Mrs. Noble's son, Charles Noble, 14, was struck and instantly killed by a machine in Columbus two years ago, shortly after the family moved to that city from The Plains.

Before dying the woman described the accident for police, and Common Pleas Judge Kling later ruled that the description could be used in the future should damage suits be filed.

Mrs. Noble leaves her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Thelma McNabb and Mrs. Margaret Matheny, both of Columbus.

The message of Mrs. Noble's accident and death was received by Mrs. Samuel Darnell, for many years her neighbor at The Plains.

Aged Woman Burns to Death As Fire Sweeps Home in Linscott Run

Mrs. Eghamer North, 86, Alone in House, Is Trapped by Flames, While Family Aids Neighbors Who Are Seriously Ill.

AMESVILLE, Nov. 27.—(Staff Special.)—Alone in the home of Edward North, on Linscott Run about two miles from this village, Mrs. Eghemer North, 86 years old, was burned to death when the house was destroyed by fire early last evening. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward North had gone to the home of Herman Ahle, a short distance away, to assist in doing the chores there. Mr. Ahle and his family are all seriously ill and have been unable to do their farm work for several days.

After the couple had been gone a short time, neighbors discovered the North home burning. By the time they were able to reach the house it was completely enveloped in flames, making an entrance impossible. All efforts to extinguish the blaze were futile, and everything in the house was destroyed.

No estimate could be placed on the damage and the losses incurred in the blaze.

Mrs. Eghemer North, a widow, was the aunt of Mr. North and had lived with them for several years. No cause for the fire could be given by Mr. North, though it is believed the woman may have been smoking.

Nov. 27,1928

FIRE VICTIM WAS CHAUNCEY RESIDENT

Mrs. Mary North was Widow of War Veteran.

CHAUNCEY, Nov. 28—Mrs. Mary North, 84, who was burned to death in the fire which destroyed the home of her nephew, Edward North on Linscott Run, was a life-long resident of Chauncey.

She was the widow of a Civil War veteran and until the last few months resided in this city. She became seriously ill last winter, and was cared for by neighbors for some time, and then later was taken to the County Home here.

After spending some time there, and regaining her health, she was taken in charge by her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward North, at Linscott Run. She received a pension and was shopping in Chauncey a week ago.

It is not known how the fire started that destroyed the house and cost the life of Mrs. North.

The charred bones of her body were brought to Chauncey today and buried in the Nye Cemetery by the side of her husband, who died several years ago.

DIG UP BONES FROM HOLE FOR FUNERAL

To Have Services for Mrs. Mary North.

CHAUNCEY, Dec. 12.—A few charred bones of Mrs. Mary North, 83, a lifelong resident of Chauncey, who was burned to death in the home of her nephew, Edward North, on Linscott Run a few weeks ago, were taken up from the Nye Cemetery in this city, Tuesday, by a local undertaker and placed in a casket.

A funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Church here, and the bones will again be laid to rest in the Nye Cemetery by the side of her husband, a Civil War veteran who died several years ago.

It is said, after the fire which destroyed the North home, the bones were gathered up and placed in a wooden box and buried in the Nye Cemetery in a small hole. No services were held at that time, it is said, and many of Mrs. Norths' relatives did not know of the burial it is claimed.

A niece of Mrs. North, Mrs. Allman, employed an undertaker to remove the box of bones and place them in a casket, and made arrangements for the burial.

Mrs. North received a pension and had made her home with a nephew, Edward North, for several months, going to their home from this city. The Norths, it is said, had gone to the home of a neighbor to do chores, when their home was destroyed by fire, costing the life of the old lady who had been left in the home.

Mrs. North has a number of relatives living in Chauncey and vicinity and the funeral services Friday will probably be largely attended, it is said.

TWO COOLVILLE BOYS ARE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS MILK TRUCK AT CROSSING MILE WEST OF STATION

Homer LeMaster, 17, and William Norton, 21, Are Victims of the Crash.

DID NOT HEAR

Train Is Hidden by Curve and Boys Apparently Did Not Hear It Coming.

COOLVILLE, June 12.—(Staff Special.) — Two boys from this village were killed on Tuesday morning when the B. & O. train No. 92 demolished the milk truck in which they were riding at the Gaskins Crossing, one mile west of the Coolville station. The boys were Homer LeMaster aged 17, and William Norton, aged 21.

The crossing is just beyond a curve in the railroad track and it is believed that the boys were unable to hear the approaching train because of the noise of the truck. They were starting out with empty cans to cover a milk route for the Coolville Creamery.

Members of the train crew told section men who were working a short distance down the track that they did not see the truck until the train was within a few feet of the crossing. A sharp elbow turn in the track makes it impossible to see the road leading to the crossing, the men of the section crew explained to Coroner L. F. Jones, of Athens, who was summoned late Tuesday morning.

LeMaster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brady LeMaster, of Coolville Station, had lived here all his life. Besides his parents he leaves a sister. Little is known of Norton, who came to this community a few days ago with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGrath, with whom he had been living. He returned with them from his home in New York state, it is said. Tatoo marks on his arms indicated that he had been in the Navy for several years.

LeMaster was killed instantly, and Norton died within a few minutes after the crash.

Due to damage to the train, it was delayed for about two hours and did not leave here until about 12:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The accident occurred about 10:45 o'clock. Conductor Hurff was in charge of the train.

Arrangements for the funerals of the two young men had not been completed this morning.

Mrs. Lucy Oakes Is Stricken Suddenly

LITTLE HOCKING, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Lucy Sedgwick Oakes, 79, widow of Charles W. Oakes and daughter of the late Dr. George C. Sedgwick of Martins Ferry, died at 12 o'clock Thursday noon at the old Oakes home at Newbury from heart disease. She had been critically ill the last five weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home. Burial will be made in the cemetery in Newbury.

Mrs. Oakes was born in Belmont County and at the age of 21 years was married to Charles W. Oakes when they moved to the Oakes homestead, where the remainder of her life was spent. At the age of 14 years she joined the Baptist church. Her membership for many years has been with the First Baptist Church of Torch. She was active in church work her entire life devoting her time to her family and the church.

She was the only daughter in a family of eight children and her own family of children numbered eight, being seven daughters and one son three of whom are dead. Two daughters died at the ages of 5 and 7 years and the other Mrs. Frances Oakes Hall, wife of Dr. Hall of Dayton died in 1924. The other children are: Mrs. Frank C. Taylor, Coolville; Mrs. George C. Greene, Marietta; Mrs. Charles H. Wyatt, Athens; Mrs. William McDaniel, Newbury and the son Howard Oakes at home. There are also five grandchildren, two brothers, L. C. Sedgwick, Martins Ferry, and Grant Sedgwick of Bend, Oregon.

Mr. Oakes, a well known fruit grower died in June 1928.

In Memoriam

Lucy Anna Sedgwick, daughter of the Rev. Doctor and Mrs. G. C. Sedgwick was born at Hollowey, near Martin's Ferry, Ohio, June 7, 1849 and died February 7, 1929. She was married to Charles W. Oakes, February 13, 1871, and to this union were born seven daughters and one son. She united with the Baptist Church at Martin's Ferry, Ohio, and was baptised by her father while about 15 years old, and later transferred her membership to the Torch Baptist Church, and has lived a Christian life.

She was a Member of Marietta Chapter O. E. S. Her husband, Charles W. Oakes, a well known farmer and one of the leading fruit growers of Ohio, also a life long resident of Washington County, preceded her in death June 30, 1918; also three children, who were Mrs. Frances Oakes Hall, wife of Dr. O. B. Hall, of Dayton, who died August 1, 1924 and two small children, Jennie, who died December 12, 1879 and Laura, December 17, 1879.

She leaves to mourn their loss her son, Charles H. Oakes, and daughters Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. George Greene, Mrs. Charles Wyatt, Mrs. Will McDaniel, five grandchildren, two brothers, L. C. Sedgwick, Martin's Ferry, Ohio, and O. O. Sedgwick, Bend, Oregon, besides many friends and relatives. She was a good wife, mother, and neighbor. It is impossible in a brief sketch of this character adequately to portray the virtues of the deceased. The whole course of her long and useful life was marked by an unfailing devotion to those high ideals toward which all true and noble men and women aspire, and which found in her their most perfect exemplification. The beauty and nobility of her character were outstanding, and were splendidly exemplified in her noble deeds and in her relations with her family, her friends and with all with whom she came in contact. She drew to herself people of all ages—the young, the middle-aged and the old—who alike admired and respected her for her great worth and for her delightful and agreeable personality. She found the good in every one and was ever ready to minimize their shortcomings. She displayed a broad charity toward the weak and unfortunate. This generous attitude towards all endeared her to every one who knew her, and in no small degree the secret of her popularity, and of her ability to hold permanently friends whose friendship had been once acquired. Persons who knew her only in advance years when she was approaching her four score, were attracted to her and became her sincere and devoted friends. Quick and accurate to her judgment of people, she seemed to know by intuition what others had to learn sometimes in the sad school of experience. Her opinion of people formed at first meeting rarely had to be modified or reversed. Always herself actuated by high ideals she taught both by precept and by example the real worth of high aspirations. Patient and uncomplaining in suffering, unselfish to an extraordinary degree, of a sanguine and cheerful disposition, devoted to her family and her friends, she came to the end of her long journey without fear and without reproach. Capacious at last the mantle were fast running in the hour glass, she fell asleep as one who gathers the drapery of her couch about her and lies down to pleasant dreams.

In her life and character she has left to us a noble legacy. We shall never again visit the old fireside and recount with her as of yore, the experiences of bygone days. And while we shall never look upon her face again or hear her kindly voice we will treasure in the memory of affection the spotless record of her devotion until we too, shall return to silent dust.

Clara Oberholzer

Chauncey Woman Dies After Being Struck by a Train

Mrs. Clara Oberholzer Thrown Twenty Feet By New York Central Engine.

CHAUNCEY, Aug. 21.—Thrown twenty feet into the air when she was hit by the 5:15 New York Central passenger train number three Saturday afternoon while walking on the track near her home, Mrs. Clara Oberholzer, 79, was fatally injured. She died at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night at Sheltering Arms Hospital, where she was taken following the accident. Attending doctors ascribe the death to shock and internal injuries.

Mrs. Oberholzer's deafness was probably the cause for the accident. She was walking unconcerned along the track and seemingly did not hear the approaching train. The passenger engine hit her on the shoulder, picked her up and threw her in the air for possibly twenty feet, witnesses say. She fell on her head and shoulders and was unconscious when picked up. She was immediately placed on the train and brought to Athens where an ambulance awaited her. She was in shock when brought into the hospital and her condition was too weak to allow an examination. She was treated for shock but died before physicians could learn the full extent of the injuries.

Mrs. Oberholzer is a sister to Dr. A. J. Learned, Millfield. She has been a widow for three years. Her husband, Williams Oberholzer, committed suicide three years ago by hanging himself in the stairway of his home, after a period of ill health. No children were born to the couple.

For most of her life, Mrs. Oberholzer has lived in Chauncey. She recently purchased property in Millfield and planned to move there within a short time where she could be near her brother.

Hazel Oberholzer

In Memoriam

IN THE EARLY—Hours of morn, as the watchers sat around the bedside, the death angel claimed the beloved daughter, Hazel Maxine, after a lingering illness of the dreaded disease, called tuberculosis.

She came to live and to brighten the home of Lester and Lenna Oberholzer, August 6, 1922, and left the home desolate and lonely June 20, 1926, just making a visit as it were, being 3 years, 10 months, 14 days old.

She was the eldest of three little daughters, and much of her time was spent in the home of her grandparents, as her grandmother had often remarked, she was the pride and joy of her heart.

"But thus it is that we see our most loved and most beautiful decay as it were before our eyes."

She contracted the lingering and most fatal of diseases about a year ago, and during the time her suffering had been most intense. None were ever cared for as lovingly and tenderly as little Maxine. All that medical aid and treatments could do were done for her but to no avail.

The last few weeks the loved ones were convinced that nothing could be done to keep dear Maxine, and all they could do was to await the sad hour when their darling would be freed from all pain, sad for us, but happy for her. When the summons came it seemed that the watchers by that little bed could see the look of pain disappear and a new born light take place on the features of the little darling. As the breathing grew weaker, we heard the words from the grandmother, "Has our little darling gone?" in the twinkling of an eye the spirit had flown to be with God.

At the time of her death she was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oberholzer, her grandparents, where her every wish was granted as well as by the parents. Nothing had been left undone, it seems, but little Maxine was not for this world, and has only gone on to await the coming of the loved ones she has left here to grieve.

She leaves in her home the parents, two little sisters, Doris and Rosemary, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oberholzer, near the home, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, near Albany, and other friends and relatives.

P. A.Olson

FATHER OF THOR OLSON DIES AT KALMAR, SWEDEN

Physical Director Receives News of Death From Mother.

A cablegram from Sweden yesterday to Thor Olson, of the department of physical education, conveyed the news of his father's death.

His father, P. A. Olson, lived in Kalmar, Sweden, where for the greater part of his seventy-two years, he was contractor. Many large churches in Sweden have been built under Mr. Olson's supervision.

The cablegram was sent to Mr. Olson by his mother, and in three Swedish words conveyed the news to Mr. Olson. Mr. Olson's father had been ill for only two weeks. He had sent a letter to Mr. Olson about three weeks ago in which he told his son that he was in failing health.

The father and son had not seen each other since 1910 when Mr. Olson visited his parents. It had been Mr. Olson's desire to take his family to Sweden either this summer or next summer so that his parents could meet his wife and children. A picture of Mr. Olson in cap and gown taken in anticipation of his graduation from Ohio university this summer, had been sent to Sweden only three weeks ago, so that Mr. Olson is comforted with the fact that his father had been informed before his death of the realization of part of Mr. Olson's ambition.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. O'Neil, had been away for the day, and the girl was alone in the house when she took the capsules containing the poison.

Before swallowing the capsules she had summoned neighbors and they were in the home at the time Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil arrived about 3 o'clock. Dr. E. F. Stanley was called but was not in his office at the time. Dr. John Sprague was summoned from Athens, Dr. Stanley was located in the meantime, and was the first to arrive at the O'Neil home.

The girl was in convulsions when he arrived and he administered antidotes to relieve her suffering. He declared at once that it would be probably impossible to save her life, it was said.

Dr. Charles Orr

PRATTS FORK PHYSICIAN SUCCUMBS TO NERVOUS EXHAUSTION, TRULY A MARTYR TO HIS PROFESSION

Dr. Clarence Lawrence Orr Dies Last Night; Had Served Community for Thirty-five Years and Was Always on Duty.

A martyr to his profession, Dr. Charles Lawrence Orr, who for thirty-five years has served as the physician in the community of Pratt's Fork, died at the Athens State hospital at 6:30 o'clock last night after several months of illness.

High tribute was paid to his life by physicians over the city and by Dr. J. H. Berry, superintendent of the state hospital, who have profound respect for the sacrifices he made in following the high ideals he held while practicing medicine.

Dr. Orr died at the age of 56. About three months ago he was stricken with hemorrhage of the left hemisphere of the brain. He was taken to the state hospital for treatment about three months ago, but his condition grew steadily worse.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Vessella Orr, and three children; Daisy Orr, Columbus, Dorothy Orr, Pratts Fork, and Roscoe Orr, Athens.

Funeral services will be held from the United Brethren church in Pratts Fork at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Burial will take place in the Pratts Fork cemetery.

Dr. Orr was a member of the Harrisonville Masonic lodge, a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

From 1888 to 1889 Dr. Orr studied medicine under Dr. T. A. Copeland, Athens, finishing his education in Indianapolis in 1892. He practiced medicine at Frost for one year but returned to his home in Lodi township in 1894 where he has since practiced medicine. His practice took him over two counties, Athens and Meigs.

In commenting upon his life, Dr. Copeland, who was very close to Dr. Orr throughout his life, said this of him:

"Dr. Orr was the kindest man I have ever known. If he had a very ill patient he would stay at the home of the patient and make his calls from that home. He acted both as physician and nurse. I have never seen a doctor who took the loss of a patient so hard as Dr. Orr. He answered every call, whether it came from a family that was paying him for previous service or not. Though he was advised from time to time not to overwork himself, he insisted on giving all the time he could to his patients. He did this ever since he started practicing. He is held in high regard throughout Lodi and Bedford townships and by the members of the medical profession who learned to know him."

Had Taught Here in the Absence of Prof. C. M. Copeland in 1920-21 and Was Said to Have Been Popular With His Classes.

After firing shots into his wife and two children, killing them all, Prof. G. W. Peckham, former head of the commerce department in Ohio university, killed himself Friday in New Orleans. Reports of the tragedy which have reached Athens do not state what caused the professor to commit the deed.

Professor Peckham was at Ohio university during the year of 1920-21, when Prof. C. M. Copeland was absent from the university. He was in charge of the commerce department and taught several classes in accounting.

During his stay here, Professor Peckham is said to have had much family trouble. There were rumors that he had abused his wife. Few persons in town were intimately acquainted with him.

Professor Peckham came here from the Bentley School, in Boston, from which he had been graduated. He is said to have been an unusually bright man and was well informed on business matters. He also is said to have been well liked by students who had classes under him.

From here Professor Peckham went to a school in Michigan. There were reports of him from time to time, and on one occasion he is said to have been arrested for beating his wife. Few persons here knew that he had gone to New Orleans.

The former Ohio professor was a member of the faculty at Newcomb college. The murders and suicide occurred in his home, across the street from the college campus.

His condition was found to be such that recovery was impossible.

Dr. Pettit was 49 years old and leaves a widow and three children: Miss Elah, 23; Harold 16; and Mary Lou, 14. He also leaves a mother, Mrs. C. H. Pettit, Trimble, and two brothers—B. H. Pettit, Trimble, and H. E. Pettit, Crooksville. His father, C. H. Pettit, died last June 8.

Dr. Pettit was born in Trimble and received his common school education in that village. He took up the study of medicine and completed that course in a Chicago medical college, after which he located at Clay, W. Va., for the practice of his profession. After spending a few years at Clay he went to Weston, W. Va., and was soon made assistant superintendent of the West Virginia State Insane Hospital at that place. He remained there about 18 years and six years ago, at the request of the governor of West Virginia, took charge of the state tubercular institution at Hopemont.

WAS TO RESIGN

After spending a year at Hopemont, Dr. Pettit tendered his resignation to the governor to become effective at once unless he could have better facilities for fighting tuberculosis. The governor had no trouble in seeing the needs, as Dr. Pettit explained them. As a result an extensive building campaign was supervised by Dr. Pettit and several hundred thousand dollars was expended in erecting suitable structures. Hopemont now has one of the finest tuberculosis hospitals in the country.

Early last fall a new hospital for tubercular children was dedicated at Hopemont and named Conley Hospital in honor of the present governor of West Virginia, William G. Conley. This hospital was erected and equipped at a cost of $150,000. Governor Conley and other state officials were present at the dedicatory services and all warmly commended the work being done by Dr. Pettit as the head of the Hopemont institution.

Dr. Pettit's ability in institutional work was recognized in West Virginia and placed above partisan politics. State administrations changed, but each succeeding administration recognized the great work being done by Dr. Pettit and his position was placed on a plane above political spells and state administrations always gave him their undivided support.

Funeral services will be held at Hopemont Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Dr. Pettit, after which the body will be taken to Weston, W. Va., where a second funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in the cemetery at Weston.

James Petty

IN MEMORIAM—

James L. Petty, son of Willis and Abigail Petty, was born May 13th, 1844, died November 2d, 1928, aged 84 years, six months and twelve days. He was united in marriage to Martha J. Beebe October 8, 1871. To this union were born five children, Belva L. Norris of Stewart, Ohio; Nellie M. Barnes of Letart Falls, Ohio; Clemora L. Wright, Chatcom C. Petty, and Leslie L. Petty, all of R. F. D. Coolville, Ohio. Of a family of nine children, only one brother and two sisters are left. He leaves a wife, five children, sixteen grandchildren, six great grandchildren, one brother W. E. Petty of Marietta, O., two sisters Mrs. S. M. Ross, of Frost, O., and Mrs. J. R. Finley of Sherwood, Ore., and many other relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

The unusual feature of the family history is, that in the more than 53 years of their married life no vacancy occurred in the home until father was called. He enlisted in Company F. of the 73rd Regiment of Ohio volunteers at an early age and served his country for the remainder of the civil war. He was faithful and tenderly cared for by his devoted wife and children and was extremely patient in all his sickness. His entire family was at his bedside during his last moments. Despite severe injuries received in early life, he reared and provided for his family, and his greatest concern during his later years was to make ample provision for his widow after his decease. He was a kind and accommodating neighbor, honest and upright in all his dealings, and respected by all who knew him.

Helen Phillips

SICK, WOMAN FALLS OUT OF AUTO; IS DEAD

Mrs. Helen Phillips, 23, Nelsonville, Dies at 3 O'clock This Morning.

Husband, With Her When She Fell, Tells Story; Hocking Officials Investigate.

LOGAN, Oct. 14.—Hocking County officials are conducting an investigation into the death of Mrs. Helen Phillips, 23, wife of Turney Phillips, Circleville, who is said to have died from injuries received when she fell from an automobile near Laurelville at 9 o'clock Sunday evening. She died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cavineo, near South Perry at 3 o'clock this morning.

Coroner J. F. Miller and Deputy Sheriff Joe Farbeann, who were called to the Cavineo home, are holding Phillips in jail here pending the outcome of their investigation. Prosecutor Phil A. Henderson was to advise with the other officials relative to the holding of an inquest. The body has been taken to Tarlton.

According to Phillips' story to the officers, Mrs. Phillips and he were married two months ago, although his wife has been living with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Gross, Nelsonville. Mrs. Gross and her husband are said to be separated, and the husband lives in Columbus.

Phillips said that his wife had been taken to Circleville Sunday by an uncle, and that he was taking her back to Nelsonville when the fatal accident occurred. He told the officers that they had a pint of whisky and that he and his wife had consumed some of the liquor.

Mrs. Phillips became ill, he said, as they approached Moccasin Creek, near Laurelville, and wanted him to stop the automobile. Before the car could be brought to a stop, she opened the door and fell to the ground, striking her head, he asserted.

STORY IS BELIEVED

Despite her injury, she was able to talk, according to the husband. She did not want to be taken to her mother's home while in that condition, so Phillips took her to the home of his grandparents, he said, where she was put to bed. About 2:30 a. m. she became unconscious and efforts were made to obtain a physician, but before one could be obtained, she died, according to the story.

County authorities were summoned at 4 o'clock to the Cavineo home. Phillips talked freely to them of the accident and of the subsequent death, and the officers were inclined to believe his story, according to Coroner Miller.

Deputy Sheriff Farbeann brought Phillips to the county jail, and then went to Nelsonville to make an investigation of some of the details told by him. The officers had not learned the name of the uncle who took the girl to Circleville. They also wanted to learn, if possible, who purchased the liquor which is said to have figured in the case.

William L. Phillips

In Memoriam

William Henry Londy, son of Richard and Leah Bishop Phillips, was the youngest son and the eighth child in a family of ten. His parents were pioneers of Athens county, having come overland in 1842 from Munterdon county, New Jersey, and located in Lodi township. He was born March 26, 1843 on the farm on which his parents first settled, removing with them, while a small boy, to Canaan township where he lived until about 30 years ago, when he purchased the farm in Athens township, on which he has since resided.

February 4, 1864, he answered his country's call, and enlisted in company I, 123th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, serving until the close of the war. He was with his regiment in many of the hard-fought battles of the war, among them being the Siege of Atlanta, Jonesboro, Franklin, and Nashville, and he participated in Sherman's March to the sea. During his term of enlistment, although he was exposed to the unwholesome environment of army life, the early influences of a Christian home bore fruit, and he returned from the war with a character unsullied and a name unstained.

Returning from the war he settled down to the pursuits of farming, which vocation he has followed ever since. By dint of industry and thrift, he prospered in business, and through his policy of square dealing, he won the confidence and approval of all men with whom he came in contact.

December 16, 1869 he married Miss Catherine Robinson of Athens township. They became the parents of eight children, six of whom remain. Death invaded their happy home in 1895 taking a son, Harry, at the age of 21; and again in 1923, removing from the home circle the eldest daughter, Martha. With his advancing years and his already breaking health, this last blow proved too much for the devoted father, and he steadily declined until death relieved his sufferings just before midnight November 16, 1927. He was 79 years, 7 months and 19 days old.

In early manhood, Mr. Phillips was converted, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Clarke Chapel. His religious life was marked by the same quiet simplicity that characterized every other activity of his life. He said but little about his religion but lived it from day to day. Many times during his long illness, he said to those who so tenderly ministered to his wants, that he could not understand why he must live to suffer so much, but that if it were God's will it was all right. Although bedridden for nearly a year, and though his suffering was intense, no word of murmur or complaint passed his lips. His suffering was borne with Christian fortitude, and a calm trusting faith that may be voiced in the words of the poet:

"I know not where His islands lift
Their fronted palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."

A good man has gone to his reward. His sufferings are over, and we believe that in a fairer land he is watching and waiting for the dear ones left behind. Could he speak now, well might he say with the Apostle Paul: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day."

He leaves to mourn his departure his widow; three sons, Edward and Frost at home, and Richard near Glatzel Chapel; three daughters, Miss Mary, at home, Mrs. E. W. Graham of Athens; and Mrs. Wilbur Young, of Rock Hills; ten grand-children; one sister, Miss Jane Phillips, of Athens; and a large number of relatives and friends.

She left us Sunday March 13, 1927. After an illness of only one week. Her death was due to influenza followed by pneumonia and pleurisy.

She was 37 years, 5 months and 1 day old.

It is hard to see one so young, full of life and ambitions cut down so early in life. But there must be a reason far beyond the understanding of human hearts. Her savior reached a beckoning hand and took her away to be with Mildred and Riffle. They to pass on rest with Him.

Our sympathy goes out to her husband who has the dear beautiful and memories of their happy years together; to her parents who cared for her during her entire life; to her brothers and sisters, Orpha, Lura, Charles and Clinton, who survive her.

Besides these bereaved ones, there are friends who mourn their loss, with the thoughts before them of her beautiful Christian life. Her life should be to live and in a way that when our turn comes to leave this world we may meet her in that beautiful home above.

Clyde Pinkerton, who lived near Jerseyville some years ago and moved to the west, died in Colorado last week, according to news received in this community.

Jan. 17, 1926

CLYDE DONALD PINKERTON—Only child of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pinkerton, was born April 15, 1893, in Athens, Ohio, and died January 13, 1926, in Las Animas, Colorado, after a long illness. He went to Camp Sherman July 23, 1917, and sailed for France in September of the same year.

He remained in France until February 28, 1919, and arrived home March 9, 1919. Soon afterward his health gave way and physicians ordered him to go West. He went with his parents to Colorado in the spring of 1920. Here every attention that love could suggest or money could secure was given him, but in spite of all he steadily went down physically. For some time he was in the Fort Lyons hospital but was later removed to the home which his parents had established in order to be near him. He was educated in the schools of his native town and had some college education. On November 12, 1923, he made a public profession of his faith in Christ and was baptized. He was a most patient sufferer and greatly endeared himself to all who knew him. A brief service was held at the home in Colorado and then his parents who had a large circle of friends, by their devotion to their son, and their sterling good qualities, departed with the sacred form to lay it away by kindred dust in the town of his nativity. The sincere sympathy of all who knew the family goes with them.

Eleanor Porter

MISS ELEANOR PORTER FOUND SLAIN IN AUTO

Daughter of Thomas Porter, Franklin Street, Found With Dead Man in Car.

Notes Indicate Suicide Pact; Man Was Married but Estranged From His Wife.

News of the death of Miss Eleanor Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Porter, 99 Franklin Avenue, Athens, was received from Columbus this morning. According to dispatches received here, the bodies of Miss Porter and E. A. Welsh, credit manager of the Gwinn Milling Company, Columbus, where Miss Porter was employed, were found in an automobile parked two miles north of New Albany early this morning. Miss Porter had been shot through the chest and head, and a bullet had pierced Welsh's head.

The bodies were found by Walter Ulrey, a farmer who said that the automobile was parked near his home last midnight. Ulrey was notified by two motorists, who told him that they believed that the [illegible] were sleeping, but after investigating, found they were dead. Ulrey called the sheriff of Franklin County.

After a preliminary examination Coroner Murphy, of Franklin County, said that he believed that Welsh shot Miss Porter, then killed himself. Welsh's left hand clasped a revolver, and his body was slumped over the steering wheel. Miss Porter's head rested on his shoulder and her arms hung down on the seat. The right window of the car was shattered, apparently by a bullet.

The shooting was the culmination of a suicide pact, according to J. F. Margarum, New Albany undertaker, who took charge of the bodies. Margarum found two notes in the car indicating that the deaths had been the result of a pre-arranged understanding. Coroner Murphy took charge of the letters.

Miss Porter wore a blue and white dress and a fur coat. Blood had stained the garments. She wore no hat. Welsh was garbed in a brown suit. He wore neither hat nor overcoat.

The two were identified by Walter and Clarence Gwinn, of the Milling Company, who were called when papers were found in Welsh's coat, indicating that he worked for the Gwinn concern. Miss Porter worked as a stenographer for the same concern. She had been in Columbus for about four years. She lived at 792 Bellows Avenue.

Welsh was married, but was said to have been estranged from his wife, who lives in Columbus with her daughter Leeta, 15, a son, Edwin, 17, recently married, also lives with the mother. Welsh had been living at the home of Mrs. Alice [illegible].

Miss Porter was the daughter of Thomas Porter, a retired railroad employe, and a graduate of Ohio University. She entered the university in 1921, and was graduated in the Teachers Training Course in 1925. She was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and of the Episcopal Church.

Surviving are her parents, three brothers, Garfield, Walter, and Fred, of Athens, and three sisters, Mrs. Freda Willock, Mrs. Leslie Bradfield, of Athens, and Mrs. R. L. Milbourne, of Columbus.

No funeral arrangements have been announced.

COLUMBUS, April 3.—Miss Porter had lived here for four years with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Milbourne. She left home at 8 o'clock last night to go for a ride with Welsh, they said. She worked yesterday as usual.

Mrs. Milbourne said her sister had known Welsh for several months and that they frequently took trips to Springfield.

Two ring boxes were found in Welsh's coat pocket. On Miss Porter's left hand was a cameo ring, apparently new. One of the boxes was empty. The other contained a new white gold wedding ring.

Mrs. Welsh said she last saw her husband Sunday when he called on her. She said he told her he had almost been killed in an automobile accident three weeks ago.

"It made me sit up and think," she quoted him as saying.

Mrs. Welsh said she had refused to divorce her husband.

"I knew that he had been going with her (Miss Porter) for nearly four years," Mrs. Welsh said. "I had seen her and talked to her but was unable to keep them apart."

Welsh had been secretary and auditor of the milling company for 20 years. He is survived by his mother and a sister, in Mansfield.

GIRL'S BODY ON WAY TO ATHENS

Funeral of Eleanor Porter To Be Held Here Tomorrow.

RINGS MISSING

The body of Miss Eleanor Porter, who was found shot to death in a parked automobile near New Albany early Wednesday morning, was expected to arrive in Athens today, reports from Columbus said. That of E. A. Welsh, who was a co-worker with Miss Porter in the offices of the Gwinn Milling Company in Columbus, was sent to Mansfield.

Investigation today centered around the whereabouts of two diamond rings purchased by Welsh and given to Miss Porter. Both rings were missing when the girl's body was taken to New Albany. Boxes which had contained one of the diamonds and a wedding ring were found in the death car.

Their bodies were found by Walter Ulrey, a New Albany farmer, who said that the automobile was parked near his home at midnight of the night before. Coroner Joseph A. Murphy, of Franklin County, concluded his investigation of the tragedy today with the statement that Welsh, who was estranged from his wife, apparently killed the girl, then shot himself, a report from Columbus explained. Two notes were found in the car which indicated that the shooting was the culmination of a suicide pact, according to J. F. Margarum, New Albany undertaker, who took charge of the bodies.

Coroner Murphy said the bodies [illegible] was notified, by two motorists, who told him that they believed the couple were sleeping, but after investigating, found they were dead, he said.

Coroner Murphy said he was not concerned about the rings, but police were investigating on the theory that the girl was robbed after she was killed, news from Columbus explained.

Funeral services for Miss Porter will be held at the home on Franklin Avenue at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, it was announced. Burial will be in the West Union Street Cemetery. Friends may call at the home at any time.

Welsh's home was in Mansfield, and funeral services probably will be held there tomorrow, according to a report from Columbus.

FUNERAL HELD FOR ELEANOR PORTER TODAY

New Albany Undertaker Says He Did Not Make Statements of Death Pact.

Funeral services for Miss Eleanor Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Porter, 99 Franklin Avenue, were held at the home at 2 o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. C. M. Coulter, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, in charge. Burial was made in the West Union Street Cemetery.

Miss Porter had been living in Columbus for the last three and a half years with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Milbourne. The Athens girl was a graduate of Ohio University. She entered the university in 1921, and was graduated in the Teachers' Training Course in 1925 after receiving a two years' elementary teachers' certificate. She was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and of the Episcopal Church.

Miss Porter was a stenographer for the Gwinn Milling Company in Columbus, where she had been employed for the last year. Previous to that time she was engaged in the office of The Ohio State Journal.

HAS NO LETTERS

J. F. Margarum, New Albany undertaker, who brought the body of Miss Porter to Athens Thursday, denied that he had ever made a statement that the deaths of Miss Porter and E. A. Welsh, credit manager of the Milling Company, whose body was found in an automobile with that of Miss Porter's, were results of a suicide pact. The undertaker declared that he did not find an notes in the automobile indicating that the deaths had been the result of a pre-arranged understanding. He had no letters in his charge, he said.

Further proof that there was no basis for the reports of a suicide pact is found in the report of Coroner Joseph A. Murphy, of Franklin County, who filed a statement that the deaths were due to murder and suicide. Miss Porter had been shot through the chest and head, and a bullet had pierced Welsh's head, the report stated.

Funeral services for Mr. Welsh were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a funeral chapel in Columbus. Burial was made in East Lawn Burial Park.

HELEN ONA PORTER—Again death, an unwelcome visitor with noiseless footsteps and without a stir has called and beckoned to one young in years to come up higher. Helen Ona Porter was the daughter of Fred R., and Jennie Porter was born in Amesville, Ohio, July 5, 1900, and passed away at her home in Chauncey, March 17th, 1925, at the age of 24 years, 8 months and 12 days.

Miss Porter was stricken with the influenza about a year ago from which she never fully recovered.

But which was not alarming until the last two weeks before her death.

Helen was frank hearted and of a cheerful and sunny disposition, which won for her many lasting friends. The beauty and unselfishness of her life leave left an influence that will linger and widen as the years go by.

We should remember that we live in deeds and not in years.

In Memoriam

ERMA LONGSTAFF—Eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Longstaff was born at Nelsonville, Ohio, January 23, 1900, and passed into the sleep eternal August 22, 1925, being thirty-five years, six months and twenty-nine days of age.

In the year of 1911 on September 4, she was united in marriage at Covington, Ky., to Mr. Herbert E. Powell. They moved to Middleport, Ohio, in the year of 1913 where she was living at the time of her death. At the age of sixteen under the pastorate of Rev. Cook, she united with the Christian Church at Nelsonville, Ohio, where her unusual musical ability and willing disposition found a grateful field for work. She served as pianist for the church from the age of twelve, until a week before her death.

She was graduated from the Nelsonville high school in 1909.

Her great interests in life were her family and friends, her music and church. In the family life her place can never be filled, being always cheerful and happy. Her first thoughts were always for others.

She was a member of The Women's Music Club. In the musical life of the community, her loss will be greatly felt, for being extremely gifted and talented in that direction her services were always in great demand.

In the church, she was always glad to help and the inspiration furnished by her playing will be hard to replace.

She leaves to mourn their loss, father, mother, one brother, Howard of Athens, two sisters, Mrs. Herman Ohlinger of Middleport, Mrs. Bertha M. Hamilton of Columbus, aunts, uncles and cousins, and many sorrowing friends.

Eifort Prater

DIES AS NEIGHBOR AROUSED BY SHOTS FINDS HIM IN ROAD

Boyhood Companion of Eifort Prater Confesses He Did Shooting, Police Say.

(BULLETIN LEAD.)

The pathetic figure of Milo Six, 19, Carbondale, as he sits in the Athens county jail today trying to comprehend why he shot and killed Eifort Prater, 22, one of his best friends, last night, leads local officials to believe that Six was in a highly nervous state both last night and this morning, when he surrendered himself willingly to Sheriff William Williams and Deputy C. O. Gibson at the home of his father, Harrison Six, at Carbondale.

"I liked him the best of any one I ever knew—I shot him, but I don't know why." Six is reported by Sheriff Williams to have said of Prater this morning.

Six was taken by the sheriff and deputy at 8:30 o'clock this morning. He offered no resistance and willingly gave himself up to the officers. He was brought to the Athens county jail, where an alleged confession was obtained by R. D. Williams, prosecuting attorney.

Six told the sheriff he had never had any trouble with Prater and affirmed that a strong friendship existed.

By C. H. BARTLETT,
Messenger Staff Writer.

CARBONDALE, Oct. 21.—Eifort Prater, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Prater, this place, was shot fatally about 10:15 o'clock last night, dying almost immediately in the arms of a neighbor who was aroused by the revolver reports. The shooting occurred on the main highway near Carbondale. Prater died before he could identify his assailant, according to police officers. Three bullets apparently fired from a 32-caliber "Metropolitan Police" revolver, entered his body, one piercing through his heart.

County and city police officers called to the scene, immediately began a search for Milo Six, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Six, near here, boyhood companion of Prater, who was seen in his company about a half-hour prior to the shooting.

IN GOOD HUMOR

At an inquiry conducted late last night by Coroner L. F. Jones, Prosecuting Attorney R. D. Williams, Athens, and Chief of Police Jack Pearson, Nelsonville, it was said that Prater and Six had accompanied two young ladies of Carbondale to a moving picture show at New Marshfield last night, making the trip in Six' coupe. According to the girls, the young men were apparently in the best of humor and spirits when they left them at their home probably thirty minutes before Carbondale residents were aroused by the revolver shots.

Dave Kennard was among the first to reach the side of Prater who was groaning in the road, and who died as assistance arrived. The Chevrolet coupe was parked a short distance up the highway. The revolver, a new gun, was found under the seat of the car, the keys of which were later located in the dead man's pocket.

HEART PUNCTURED

One bullet entered Prater's back below the short ribs. His shirt was burned and the skin scorched. It is the belief of officers that this was the first shot fired and the gun had been pressed closely against Prater's body. As he staggered down the road and fell, officers reconstructing the crime, believe that he was followed by his assailant who fired two additional shots into his body. A second bullet entered below the left breast puncturing the heart and a third entered the left side. Powder burns were plainly visible.

Officers went to the Six home and accused the family and discovered that young Six had not returned. A new box of 32-calibre cartridges, with eight shells missing, were found in the young man's room. His parents were prostrated by the arrival of the officers. According to the boy's mother he had been talking about buying a revolver for some time but she had discouraged him. She did not know that he had one.

Prater's body was taken to Stout's mortuary in Nelsonville immediately after the conclusion of the coroner's preliminary investigation. A post mortem examination was conducted immediately by Dr. A. L. Pritchard and Dr. W. S. Rhodes.

ASSIST IN SEARCH.

Sheriff William Williams and Deputy Clyde Gibson cameto Carbondale to assist in the search upon hearing of the crime. The county officers were in Nelsonville investigating a reported demonstration at the Lick Run mine and had returned to Athens before hearing of the murder.

Prater leaves his parents, three brothers, and one sister, residing at Carbondale.

Fred Preston

DEATH CLOSES FIFTY YEARS OF BUSINESS LIFE

Fred L. Preston, Passes Away Early Today at His Home in Athens.

Fred L. Preston, 72, for almost half a century a leading business man in the Hocking valley, and widely known in both Athens and adjoining counties, passed away at his home in South College street, Athens, about 4:30 o'clock this morning. His death followed a stroke which he suffered last Thursday night and since which time he had been unconscious.

He came to Athens county fifty years ago with his father, the late L. P. Preston, from Delaware, and the Preston business interests were established shortly afterward in the Hocking valley. The father, L. P. Preston, came to Nelsonville as manager of the Brooks stores conducted by a prominent Nelsonville and Columbus coal operator. Fred Preston went as a young man to Columbus to attend college and then returned to be associated for the Brooks' interests in Nelsonville and Columbus.

LAST OF FAMILY

About forty-five years ago he started in the clothing business for himself in Nelsonville. Associated with him during his long business career were his brothers, the late L. S. and C. D. Preston. There was another brother, Frank Preston, who died many years ago. With the death of Fred Preston forty years of the original pioneer business of the Preston passed.

Mr. Preston came to Athens in 1889 and was associated with Hichle & Kessinger interests a year, taking over the himself in 1900 under the name of F. L. Preston company. He purchased the present site of the Preston stores and remodeled the building which was for years the Masonic temple. Together with his son, John, who has been the manager of the large business here and at Nelsonville, Mr. Preston has made this property and business one of the best known in this section of Ohio. At the time of his death, Mr. Preston was interested in one store at Dale Center, two at Nelsonville and one in Athens, all of first rank in their communities. At Nelsonville, his interests were in the L. P. Preston Son, and F. L. & E. D. Preston stores. Because of his failing health, his only son, John, has been the managing head of Preston interests for several years.

DEVOTED TO FAMILY

Twice married, Mr. Preston leaves a son, John, and his widow. He was married first to Miss Mary Herreld of Nelsonville. Two children, Dix, John and Persis, and a daughter who died in infancy were born to them. Persis and Dix Preston preceded their father in death some years ago. Mr. Preston was married a second time to Mrs. Jessie Wheeler Logan. He had also been a father to daughter, Mrs. Harry Bartlett and her two children, Miss Juliette Dew Clements and Wheeler Dew. His care and love for his stepdaughter and her children, his grandchildren to whom he was devoted as though they were his own. His entire life was one of unselfish and generous care for those who by ties of blood or marriage were close to him, and his business career was such that no word had ever been uttered against his character, integrity and business methods. Home, wife, business and family were his creed, according to those who best knew him, and if any of these was placed above the others it was his family.

The funeral services will be held from the home in South Canal street at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial will be made in the family ground at Greenlawn, Nelsonville, where the others of the family lie buried.

Rebecca Queen

REBECCA J. SWICKARD—Was born January 16, 1832, in Jefferson county, Ohio, died June 9th, 1926, in Harrisonville, Ohio, at the age of 74 years, 5 months and 24 days.

The deceased was the daughter of Jacob and Nancy (Sayre) Swickard, and the oldest of a family of four children, all of whom have preceded her to the land beyond the vale.

Left motherless at the tender age of seven and her home broken up by the entrance of grim death who spares neither hovel nor palace, she was compelled to shift for herself as soon as her growth would permit. Amidst these difficulties she grew to womanhood and was married at the age of eighteen to John Bell, December 18, 1870.

She was again married to Samuel M. Queen, October 27, 1877.

Since the latter's decease in 1916 she had remained a widow, living a quiet secluded life in her little home in Downington.

The deceased lived in Harrisonville in the year 1855 and was converted to Christianity and joined the M. E. church there under the ministry of Reverend Matheny, being transferred in membership to Downington M. E. the next year.

Being a woman of industrious habits, she believed in keeping her house in order both physically and spiritually, so when her hair began to silver with years and her step to grow less sprightly than of yore she thought of her future home and serenely made her final preparation She requests that at her funeral obsequies be sung her favorite hymn, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and that the minister shall read the 23rd Psalm, and that her friends take their last farewell in the church where she loved to go and where she so many times sought and found spiritual consolation.

The writer of these lines can not add to nor detract from the life of this woman, by any words she may use.

We write our own obituaries and we preach our own funeral sermons in our daily lives. In the end of all that is in by which we are judged.

Effie Reading

Mrs. Effie Reading Dies Early Sunday Morning in Athens

Was in Weakened Condition From Affected Thyroid Gland.

A heart attack, coming at a time when she was already weak from an affected thyroid gland, caused the death of Mrs. Effie Reading, wife of W. A. Reading, 35 W. State street, early Sunday morning. Extraction of teeth about a week ago brought about inflammation in her mouth, the condition spreading to the thyroid gland, it is said.

Mr. Reading, who had been caring for his wife until mid-night Saturday, awoke from a little rest at 4 o'clock Sunday morning to give Mrs. Reading any attention she might need, and found his wife dead. She was probably dead for about two hours, physicians said.

The funeral will take place from the Christian church at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. M. E. Chatley will have charge of the services. Friends may call at the home until 12 o'clock Tuesday. Burial will take place in the Jerseyville cemetery.

Mrs. Reading was 55 years old last August. She was the daughter of David Ziggafoss, Pratts Fork, her maiden name being Effie Ziggafoss. She married Mr. Reading in 1895, and was the mother of three children. One daughter died at the age of 7, and another died in infancy. One son, Roscoe, 16, is the other member of the family besides Mr. Reading.

Mrs. Reading's health has not been good for a great part of her life. She has been devoted to her home and family and active with her husband in church work. She was a member of the Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church and was active in the practical work of the church. She was formerly a deaconess of the church but her health compelled her to resign from that position some time ago.

Her family was well known about Jerseyville and Pratts Fork, Emily one of eight of her family lives, Miss Sylvia Ziggafoss of Jerseyville.

Mr. Reading is a member of the firm of Gray and Reading of this city. He is also a trustee of the Christian church.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Effie Ziggafoss Reading, daughter of David and Lydia Ziggafoss was born August 29, 1871 at Pratts Fork, and entered into rest at her home in Athens, Ohio, February 13, 1927. She was 55 years, 5 months and 14 days old.

In 1895 she was married to W. A. Reading and spent the early part of her married life in her home community. She was the mother of three children, Freda Pearl, who died at the age of 7, another daughter who died in infancy, and one son Roscoe, now 16 years old.

Her father, mother, two brothers James and William Ziggafoss, two sisters, Mrs. Mary Chase and Mrs. Lavina Shuler also preceded her in death.

She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, one son, a sister Sylvia Ziggafoss of Shade, and a number of nieces and nephews and a large circle of friends.

She united with the church at an early age in Shade and later with the Pratts Fork church. She moved her membership to the Christian church of Athens, where she has been an active and faithful member.

Her life was quiet, consistently Christian, devoted to her home, her family, and her Master whom she served. She will be sadly missed in the home, in church relations, and by all who knew her, but her influence can never be lost.—To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die.

Pearl Reed

PEARL REED IS DEAD IN DAYTON

Photographer, Crippled by Operation, Was in a Home.

GOT A PENSION

Pearl Reed, photographer in Athens for 15 years, died of tuberculosis Thursday in the Dayton Soldiers' Home, according to news received from Wellston Saturday Saturday morning. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in that city at the home of his mother, Mrs. Marjorie Andrews.

Mr. Reed, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, left Athens for Dayton December 26. A general breakdown because of injuries due to an operation performed while he was in the United States Navy, left him a permanent cripple.

Besides his mother, Mr. Reed leaves three sons, Paul, James, and Charles; a brother, Ralph, of Lancaster; and two sisters, Mrs. Lott C. Will, of Hopewell; and Mrs. Virgil Pool, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Reed was well-known in Athens. He had carried on his business despite his disability. Shortly before leaving for the Soldiers' Home in Dayton he had received notice that he would be pensioned by the government.

The award of the pension followed a search of six years for the surgeon who performed the operation which resulted in his disability. A nation-wide search and a thorough investigation of the navy records were led by Congressman T. A. Jenkins, through whose efforts the pension was granted.

Mr. Reed entered the Navy during the Spanish-American War. The operation was performed by Dr. Robert W. Smith, a navy surgeon. The injuries he received from the operation caused Mr. Reed to become a cripple. When he inquired concerning Dr. Smith, Mr. Reed was told that the surgeon had been in France and all trace of him was lost. Officials expressed the opinion that the surgeon had been killed in France.

Congressman Jenkins took up the investigation and about a year and a half ago located Dr. Smith, who is still a Navy surgeon. The bill granting Mr. Reed the pension was then passed by Congress.

As he lay in a hospital following the operation, Mr. Read was visited by Theodore Roosevelt, who was present when the injured man was told he was to receive his discharge.

Beside being a photographer in Athens, Mr. Reed also engaged in this work in Columbus for a short time before coming to this city.

Henry Reichen

DEATH OF MAN NOW BELIEVED TO BE MURDER

Suicide Theory Thought Disproved; No Powder Marks.

NEW LEXINGTON, July 29—(Staff Special) — Sheriff Clifford Wilson, Coroner H. F. Mitchell, Prosecuting Attorney R. C. Wagner and Deputy Sheriff Claude Marshall are at Sun Top, this county, investigating what seems the murder or possibly the suicide of Henry Reichen, grocery keeper, pool room owner and paymaster for the county commissioners.

Reichen left his home at 6 o'clock Sunday morning to go to the store a short distance away. When he did not return, his daughter went to call him at 8 o'clock for breakfast. Not finding him in the front room, she went to a back room and found his body in a pool of blood.

Marshal William Hamrick investigated and found Reichen's 32-calibre revolver by his side. A bullet had plowed through his head and hat and hit the door a few feet away. Coroner H. F. Mitchell's first version was suicide, but the absence of powder marks on the body discloses other facts. Reichen had just made up his payroll for money for road work and had obtained money yesterday to send his daughter on a trip, but only 51 cents was found in the cash drawer while all the drawers in the store showed signs of being rifled. Marshal Hamrick is of opinion that an intruder hid behind the counter after rifling the drawers, and not finding the money, waited with Reichen's gun and when Reichen went to the back room where his money was hidden, he opened the connecting doors, shot him, and took what money there was.

Franklin Rice

FRANKLIN RICE DEAD; GIRL HAS SLIGHT CHANCE

Flossie Burson, 17, Junior in High School, Is in Hospital, Body Seared. Blast Demolished House at 35 Race Street, Recently Rented by the Bursons.

One man is dead, and a 17-year-old girl is in a serious condition in the Sheltering Arms Hospital, as a result of burns received in a gas explosion in a house at 35 Race Street, at 5:20 o'clock Friday night. C. E. Starr, former city councilman and store-keeper and owner of the house, also was burned. He is in the hospital but his condition is not considered serious.

The dead man, Franklin Rice, aged 32, of Chester, and a cousin of Flossie Burson, aged 17, the injured girl, was helping the Burson family move into the house. The Burson's had been living on Richland Avenue, near the Albany Road. Mr. Starr was also helping in the moving.

SECOND GAS EXPLOSION HERE IN THREE DECADES

The gas explosion Friday night in the house at 35 Race Street, owned by C. E. Starr, who was injured in the accident, was the second such explosion in the City of Athens during the last 25 years, according to Henry Cameron, member of a local insurance and real estate firm.

The other explosion, in the memory of Mr. Cameron, was 12 years ago, when a small blast tore one door lose and broke one window.

Mr. Cameron did not remember the house in which the explosion occurred.

"We smelled gas, and I went upstairs to see about it," Mr. Rice explained, when asked for the cause of the explosion. "So I lit a match, and that was all there was to it," he said before taken to the hospital, where he died a short time later.

The house, which had been rented by Mrs. Emerson Burson, mother of the injured girl, was completely wrecked, the only room which remained intact being the kitchen, in the rear on the first floor. Glass was thrown for 100 feet around the house, while homes a block away were shaken. The damage was estimated at $2,500 Saturday morning by Fire Chief E. K. Laughlin.

Little of the damage was caused by the fire, it being extinguished by chemicals. The loss by fire was covered by insurance, but no insurance was carried for explosion.

COMPANY REFUSED

It was learned at the Logan Gas Company office Saturday morning that the gas in the house had been turned off April 13, when the Misses Florence and Elizabeth Zeigfield moved out of the house. Mrs. Burson had requested the gas company officials to turn the gas on early Friday afternoon, but they said they refused when they found gas was escaping throughout the house. It is assumed that Mr. Rice had thought all of the leaks were repaired, and had turned the gas on himself.

Mr. Starr, who suffered from a stroke two months ago, was unable to talk Saturday, but it is believed that a fire had been lighted under the water-heater in the bath room on the lower floor, and that it had been blown out by the wind from the bathroom window, the only window in the house open at the time. The gas went to the second floor, and was there compressed, since it had no means of escape.

It is believed that all three of the persons were on the second floor at the time of the accident. Mr. Rice and Miss Burson having been in the front room, where the match was lit, and Mr. Starr in one of the rear rooms. Mr. Starr explained after the accident, that he was on his hands and knees looking for the leak in the gas pipe, which probably accounted for his minor injuries.

FINK THERE FIRST

Prof. C. W. Fink, who lives across the street from the wrecked house, was the first to reach the scene of the tragedy. Both Mr. Rice and Miss Burson were running around in the yard, screaming, with their clothes burning. Prof. Fink said. He succeeded in tearing the clothes from their bodies, which by that time were badly burned.

Miss Burson's entire body was seared. Her burns are not deep however, and it is thought that she did not inhale any of the blaze.

Mr. Rice died at 6:10 o'clock Saturday morning. While his body was not as completely burned as that of Miss Burson, his burns were deep. He had also inhaled some of the fumes, Dr. V. G. Danford, who attended the victims of the explosion, said Saturday morning.

Mr. Rice leaves a widowed mother, Mrs. Charles Rice, of Chester; and three sisters, Audrey, aged 18, Ruby, aged 11, and Maxine, age 9. Funeral arrangements had not been made late Saturday.

HAS TWO SISTERS

Miss Burson, a junior in the Athens High School, has two sisters, Doris, aged 15, and Katherine, aged 13. Her mother, Mrs. Burson, is employed as dressmaker at the establishment of Mrs. C. E. Russell, West Union Street. The father, Emerson Burson, was confined in the Athens State Hospital, for treatment for continued intoxication. He escaped some time ago. It is not known at the present time where he is.

"Little hopes are held for the recovery of Miss Burson," Dr. Danford said Saturday morning. "Too much of her body is burned and the burns are too serious for us to hold out any hope," he explained.

All three of the victims of the accident were former residents in Meigs County. Mr. Starr was originally a resident in Rutland, he and his brother, Elas, having been school teachers there.

Alonzo Ridgway

"LONNY" RIDGWAY, ATHENS LANDMARK FOR HALF CENTURY, GOES TO REWARD

Athens is today mourning the loss of an old and faithful friend. Alonzo Ridgway, about 80, retainer of the J. D. Brown family for the past half century, died last night in Grant hospital, Columbus, after an illness of three weeks.

"Lonny" was a genuine friend to all Athens, and of the Ohio university students. Two generations of Court street business men knew his beaming smile and cheery "Good morning"; hundreds of men and women will recall with misting eyes the uncounted little deeds of kindness in which the old colored man found real delight. As the decades passed, the happy figure of "Lonny," bustling briskly about the bank-home of Mr. Brown, but never too busy for an ever-cordial greeting to hosts of friends, became an Athens institution. Half of the town today can scarcely remember the time when "Lonny" was not at his post.

Born near Albany, Alonzo Ridgway in the early years of his life entered the service of Eliz Armstrong at Heldbardsville. When J. D. Brown married the daughter of the household, Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, Alonzo entered Mr. Brown's service and remained there as the most trusted of family servants and personal friends until the time of his death.

Alonzo had been in poor health for the past three weeks, and was taken to the Columbus hospital a week ago. An operation was performed yesterday morning from which he failed to rally, death coming at 6:30 last night. The body has been taken to the home of his brother, Jesse Ridgeway, at 257 North Twenty-first street, Columbus, where funeral services will be held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon. The funeral will be in charge of the Rev. A. Y. Wilcox, pastor of the Athens Presbyterian church, of which Alonzo was a lifetime member. A sister, Miss Isabelle Ridgway, Point Pleasant, is also in Columbus now.

Burial will be made in Greenlawn cemetery, Columbus. Alonzo had often expressed a wish to be buried here in Athens, and Mr. Brown had reserved for him a place in the Brown family lot here, but Alonzo's brother and sister requested the Columbus burial.

Mrs. Orla Roberts

AMESVILLE WOMAN FATALLY BURNED AS DRESS IS IGNITED

Mrs. Orla Roberts, 30, Rolls on Floor and Throws Rugs About Herself, but Is Unable To Keep Flames From Searing Her Body.

Though she took precaution not to inhale flames when her clothes caught fire in her home Monday afternoon, Mrs. Orla Roberts, 30, Amesville, daughter of Mrs. Dora Robinson, 134 Grosvernor street, was unable to keep the flames from fatally burning her. She died at her home last night at 6:30 o'clock leaving seven children motherless.

Reaching for a letter she had written and placed on the mantle above the fire place in which there was a coal fire, Mrs. Roberts' dress caught fire. She turned her head and rolled on the floor, throwing rugs about her. Her little daughter Betty, 4, tried to assist her mother in extinguishing the flames, but when the flames spread to the rugs, her mother asked her to run into the yard.

Fearing the house would burn, Mrs. Roberts took the burning rugs on the porch, and by that time all but a few inches of clothing had burned off and her body was seared. She walked to the bed-room and put on a night-dress and then went to bed. Her four-year-old daughter meanwhile ran to neighbors a half mile away, who, when they arrived at the Roberts home, called a physician. He pronounced the burns fatal.

By turning her head to prevent breathing in the flames, both sides of her face were also severely burned.

Her husband, was at the time, working in a Pomeroy mine, it was some time before he could be reached.

She leaves besides her husband, seven children, Harry, 15; Helen, 13; Hazel 11; Willard, 8; Elsie May, 7; Betty, 4; and Darrold, 2. William Roberts

WM. ROBERTS PASSES AWAY AT HOME HERE

Was Veteran of Civil War And Long a Lodi Farmer.

William Roberts, 87 years old, veteran of the Civil War and once a prisoner in the famous Confederate prison at Andersonville, died at his home, 3 Franklin Avenue, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He had long been in failing health. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, and the body will be placed in the West Union Street Cemetery Mausoleum.

Born in 1841 at Trimble, then the hamlet of Oxford, Mr. Roberts spent his early days in Trimble Township. He enlisted in Company B, 78th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in 1863, and took part in a number of the engagements in which this regiment participated. At the Battle of Gainesville, Fla., he was captured by the Confederates and taken to Andersonville Prison where he suffered from lack of food and shelter with thousands of other Union Army soldiers. He was in this prison six months and five days. At the end of that time, the Confederates were forced to remove all prisoners from the Andersonville Blockade because of the approach of Sherman's army on its march to the sea. The prisoners were put in box cars and started for another blockade in North Carolina. While en route to this prison, Mr. Roberts and a number of other prisoners made their escape and started for the Union Army forces, which were in North Carolina and adjoining states. A number of these escaped prisoners were so weakened by the privations they endured in Andersonville that they died before reaching the Union lines. Mr. Roberts was suffering greatly from his prison experiences but reached the lines of his own army and was sent home because of his physical condition.

After the war, Mr. Roberts worked on farms and sawmills for several years, being associated with the late John Q. Hull in Lodi Township for some time. In 1870 he purchased a farm on Angell Ridge, in Lodi, and resided there until 1911, when he retired and came to Athens. He was married to Adeline Kelley, daughter of the late John Kelley, of Lodi Township, who is left. Five children were born to them, Lewis W. Roberts, Athens, the late John E. Roberts, a Columbus merchant who died in 1916; William J. Roberts, of Columbus, who is now in Florida, Charley, of Athens, and Wayne, who died in childhood.

Mr. Roberts was widely known over Athens County and adjoining counties for many years because of his ability as a fiddler and his genial, happy disposition. His last years in Athens served to widen his acquaintance.

The accident occurred early Sunday morning. After receiving first aid in Nelsonville Robson was taken to his home where he died without regaining consciousness.

Robson accompanied by Paul Williams, Murray City, Virgil Kirk, Columbus, and a young girl with Kirk whose name was not given, were returning from the Deanville dance in Kirk's car. Williams stated that he was in the rear seat, and he is unable to say exactly how the accident happened. The car apparently traveling at considerable speed, struck the end of a culvert, careened across the road and landed on the railroad car track, all the occupants being thrown clear of the car. Robson received a [illegible] the back of the head his death. Kirk was not hurt in the race. The other occupants received minor bruises. The automobile, a Dodge touring car, was completely wrecked.

Body of William Romine, Badly Mutilated and Decapitated Is Found by Train Crew at Torch

Man Is Thought To Have Been Struck by Several Trains and Dragged Along the Tracks; Was 69 Years Old.

TORCH, Oct. 27—(Staff Special) —Badly mutilated and decapitated, the body of William Romine, 69, of this village was found on the B. and O. railroad tracks by the crew of an early morning frieght train today. The body had evidently been struck by several trains and dragged for several feet up and down the tracks. Coroner L. F. Jones, of Athens, who was called here, declared.

No reason was given why Mr. Romine should have been near the railroad tracks. He had left his home early last evening and had gone toward the railroad station. His body was so badly mangled that identification was only made possible through a card bearing his name found in a small pocketbook on his person. The head of the body, which had evidently been severed by the wheels of one of the trains believed to have struck him, was not located, Coroner Jones declared.

The body was discovered by the crew of the early morning freight train which had backed in on the siding about a quarter of a mile east of the railroad station here at about 3 o'clock this morning. The coroner was called immediately and reported after his investigation that death was accidental. No one was held responsible.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church here. Burial will be made in the Torch Cemetery.

In Memoriam

A touching sorrow pervades our community and with saddened heart we contribute a few thoughts to our little friend, Doris Bernice Rose, who departed this life February 28, 1928 in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, following an operation after having pneumonia.

Doris Bernice daughter of Clifford and Nellie Rose was born March 20, 1925 near Albany. If she had lived 22 more days she would have been 3 years old. All that medical aid and loving hands could do for her was done, but God saw it fit to call her up higher. There is left to the bereaved parents one child, a son, Darrell four years old.

To know her was to love her. Her smiling face and cheerful disposition made every one happy by being in her presence. Too soon the beautiful flower that blossomed on earth and shed its fragrance over our lives and hearts was plucked to grow in the garden of Heaven. There when our lives are finished, shall we again see in greater glory, greater beauty, awaiting the coming of loved ones on earth.

She leaves to mourn their loss her parents, one little brother, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rose and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tewksberry of Albany, her great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rose, of New Marshfield, two aunts, four uncles and a host of other relatives and friends who will miss her smiling face and the childish prattle of her voice.

Death, to the little one, means only the freedom of the soul to pursue the more abundant life which awaits God's children: the flower drops its seed upon the ground that it may bring forth something yet more beautiful in the happy spring time.

Alice & Orville Root

TRAGEDY IN A HUMBLE HOME IS REVEALED BY DEATHS OF CHILDREN

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Root and Five Youngsters, Formerly of Athens County, Stricken Near Pomeroy With Scarlet Fever.

POMEROY, Jan. 11.—A tragic case of sickness and death was revealed here yesterday in the death of two Root children early Sunday morning. Orville Root, 3, died about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, from scarlet fever. His death was followed by that of his sister, Martha Alice Root, 6, three hours later from the same disease. They were children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Root, formerly of Athens county, but who for the last six weeks have resided in the lower end of Pomeroy, better known as Coalport.

The Root family consisting of the parents and five children came to Meigs county, from Athens county about six weeks ago and Mr. Root, unable ot obtain other work whereby he could obtain the barest necessities for his family, obtained a job in one of the local coal mines. The expense of moving here from Athens county and various other expenses reduced the family to rather desperate circumstanes, it is said, and being almost total strangers to the people of Pomeroy, they had almost no friends to whom they could turn to for assistance when the entire family was stricken with scarlet fever.

When Doctor Maag was called he found three children and the parents bedfast. Later, the other two children became critically ill and the whole family was practically helpless. The financial condition of the Root family, it is reported, became so low that it was necessary for them to depend on charity for their groceries, medicine and other necessities.

The mother and father and the youngest child, according to the attending physician, will probably recover, but the other two children, although it is believed that they have passed the crisis, are in such a weakened condition that they are by no means out of danger and it will require, according to the attending physician, careful nursing to insure their recovery. The bodies of the two children will be taken to Athens for interment by Finsterwald.

Clarence Russ

[illegible] NELSONVILLE, Nov. 28—Son of [illegible] Russ, was born [illegible], 1910, and died November [illegible], age 18 years, 10 months and [illegible] days.

[illegible] health, being in [illegible] until about three months ago, when he began ailing. Although he kept up for a while, he finally had to yield to disease. He took his bed about eight weeks ago, and steadily grew worse, until death came Saturday morning at 3 o'clock, and released him from his sufferings. He passed away in his sister Lottie's arms. He bore his suffering with great patience, and realized that his time on earth was short. He told one of his schoolmates that nothing could be done for him, that he would have to die. Seemed to long for the time when he would be free from pain. His death was caused by heart trouble.

Clarence was left fatherless at the age of eleven. He willingly shared the burden of helping work with his older brother, more so than most boys of his age would have done, but he seemed to be so strong and manly that his friends and the family circle can hardly comprehend that he is gone. His death has been a very great shock to all. He was so well loved by his teachers and schoolmates that we can say, "None knew him but to love him."

He was a very bright boy in his studies and never missed a day of school, having passed the eighth grade when only fourteen years of age.

It seems so hard to give him up as he was so young, with his friendly ways and smile for all he knew. In the Great Beyond where God dwells, he had a place for Clarence. We must submit to God's will in all things.

His father, three brothers and one sister preceded him in death. He leaves a mother, two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Arthur Goodin of near Albany, Mrs. William Buck of Athens, Harley, Harry and Margaret at home with mother. He also leaves one grandmother, Mrs. Francis Haning, near the house, and many friends and relatives, but our loss is his great gain.

Oct. 5, 1928

In Memoriam

Aladin W. Russell was born at Trimble, October 30, 1858, and died October 1928. Age 69 years, 11 months and 4 days.

His early boyhood days were spent on the Russell farm at Trimble. One year was spent at Athens and the remainder of his life was spent at Millfield.

On November 10, 1881, he was married to Miss Lillian Jeanette Harding. To this union were born eight children. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and consistent in his daily practice of Christian principles. As a husband, he was always devoted and kind, and as a father he was fond of his children and a diligent provider for their welfare.

As a neighbor it was his aim to do no man wrong, and in a life filled with golden opportunities, to plant a flower and uproot a thorn along the path of life.

His philosophy of life was practical. He believed that the walking word was not an asset in his life, that it brought naught of good, and that once set forth, was a liability that could never be redeemed. He looked for the good, the brighter side of life, and he lived that his hands were filled with deeds of charity, the golden keys that open the palace of eternity.

He was preceded by one daughter, Helen, and is survived in the immediate family by his wife, his sons, L. W. Russell, Athens; George A. Russell, Newark; Charles H. Russell, Fairholme, Saskatchewan, Canada; Ray O. Russell and Fred A. Russell, Millfield; his daughters, Mrs. Irene Howard, Millfield; Mrs. Mary V. Hunt, Columbus; and one sister Miss Addie Russell, Athens. Also his grandchildren and distant relatives.

FRANCIS—Son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ruther, began an earthly life in Athens, September 27, 1897. He was brought by his parents to America at the age of thirteen and spent the remainder of his life in Hunterdon. Deceased for a future existence May 1, 1925. Francis had always been a kind hearted, loyal son, industrious, kind to associates and friends. He is sadly missed in the home. He is survived [illegible]

[illegible] to see one in early manhood [illegible] suddenly stricken. But there is nothing new in this. Every day life is [illegible] by sorrow as surely as old age. [illegible] is often accompanied by the flowers. [illegible] Death, gradually undermining [illegible] in the end, but are [illegible] full bloom. The [illegible] is [illegible] of this picture in human life. The finger of death arrests the current of life, and before the noon-tide of our day has been reached, we must go. The fading of the flower is inevitable. It will perish. This law applies strictly to man. He hath set him his bounds that he cannot pass. But we, like the flower, may leave a fragrance in this life that will remain a sweet memory to friends. The bonds that unite us here, by living a good life, are bonds of love. Let us cultivate this spiritual quality toward each other, for it is this charity that purifies all change. Speak kindly, for living hearts are dying for sympathy.

Jasper Rutherford

TODAY WE ARE—Full of life and hope, tomorrow we are numbered with the dead. Death, the relentless foe, all respecting, lurks on every hand. The high and the low, the rich and the poor, the strong and the weak, the learned and unlearned, all fall victims to his unerring aim.

Jasper Augustus Rutherford, son of Bryant and Elizabeth Dailey Rutherford, was born near Mount Elaine, Columbia township, July 23, 1861. He passed away April 18, 1926, at 9 p. m., aged 64 years, 8 months and 25 days. His boyhood days were spent in obtaining an education first in the rural school, then attending college at Ohio University and later at Lebanon college.

On December 26, 1885, he was united in marriage to Minnie J. Hunter. To this union were born one daughter, Bessie. After his first marriage he settled on a farm near the place of his birth and there he remained until [illegible] when he moved to Nelsonville and engaged in farming. He was Census Enumerator in 1900. Served on the Township Board of Education several years, also served as County Deputy of the Ohio State Grange two years. On February 20, 1910, his companion was called. On December 20, 1910, he was united in marriage to Mattie V. Perry. To this union were born two children, one son, Evans Augustus, and one daughter, Minnie Elizabeth.

During his active years he was always ready to lend a helping hand to those who were needy or had sickness in their homes. For the last three years he had been unable to get about without help, which has caused his latter days to be sorely trying. He seemed to bear them with a brave and courageous spirit that few possess. These are days that try men's souls and prove their worth. He is survived by his wife, three children, also one sister, Minnie Lloyd, and one brother, Emerson C. Rutherford, a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services were held at 3 p. m., April 20, 1926, at Temple M. E. church, conducted by Rev. C. E. Peck.

Although the Death Angel come unbidden, we must remember the Lord doeth all things well. All that loving hands could do was done for him, but despite human aid and medical care he fell asleep.

Man Is Killed and Three Others Are Hurt When Machine Plunges Off Bridge and Lands in Creek

Jack Ruthford Is Victim of Wreck Near the Hunterdon Mine Last Night; Car Going in Opposite Direction With Blinding Lights Does Not Stop.

GLOUSTER, Oct. 12.—(Staff Special)—One man was killed instantly and three other occupants of an automobile were injured when the roadster in which they were riding was forced off a small bridge near the Hunterdon Mine and overturned in a muddy creek about 8:30 o'clock last night. The dead man was Jack Ruthford, 45, of Coalgate, whose neck was broken when he was pinned beneath the automobile.

Miss Viola Scenes, of Happy Hollow, suffered injuries to her chest and ribs, while Mrs. Sylvia Stufflebeam, sister of Miss Scenes, and Ed Williams, of New Straitsville, escaped with cuts, bruises, and scratches. The three survivors returned to their homes after being treated by Dr. A. J. Crawford in this city.

The two couples were on their way from New Straitsville to Glouster when the accident occurred, according to the testimony of Mrs. Stufflebeam given to Coroner L. F. Jones, of Athens, who was called here last night. The woman told the coroner that they had all been drinking.

As they neared the bridge at Hunterdon, lights of a car coming in the opposite direction blinded the driver of the automobile, those in the car declared. Two wheels went over the end of the bridge and the car turned completely over, landing on its top in the bed of the creek. Soft mud allowed the car to sink into the creek until only about 18 inches of space remained between the floor and the bed of the stream, the coroner declared. He said he could not understand how any of the occupants escaped without being more seriously injured.

Residents in a row of houses nearby hurried to the wrecked automobile and assisted the three survivors to extricate themselves from the wreckage. It was necessary to jack up the car before the body of Ruthford could be freed.

The driver of the automobile, which is said to have forced the roadster driven by Williams from the road, did not stop after the car went over, the bridge and into the creek. No identification had been obtained this morning.

The body of Ruthford was brought to the funeral rooms of C. F. Wallace on Front Street in this city. The roadster was believed to have been wrecked beyond [illegible]

Roscoe Saberly

The Plains Youth Hangs Self on Hospital Grounds

Lifeless Body of Roscoe Saberly Found in Lover's Lane Early This Morning; No Reason Assigned for Deed.

Roscoe Saberly, 18, The Plains, was found dead, hanging from a tree in Lovers' Lane between the State hospital grounds and White's mill at Merrold Place, this morning by Mrs. Herbert Morris, wife of the Asylum caretaker.

The youth's body was found at about 6:30 o'clock and he had apparently been hanging only about twenty minutes. Mrs. Morris called Sheriff P. M. McKinley and the sheriff had the body removed to the Newsum-Welburn undertaking establishment where it was identified by George Gabriel of The Plains.

MADE TWO ATTEMPTS.

According to Sheriff McKinley, the boy left his father's car, a Ford touring, on the road near the mill and walking up the lane, first tried to hang himself with his necktie but the tie broke.

Still determined to end his life, Saberly walked to the gate at the White residence and slipped off a long strand of wire. He wrapped the noose with his handkerchief to protect his neck and then—the end.

It was learned today that Saberly told Miss Bessie Black, Athens Route No. 4, on whom he called last night, "I will be dead by tomorrow night," but there is no evidence that he and Miss Black, with whom he is said to have been in love, had quarreled.

According to the girl's mother, Mrs. Benjamin Black, Roscoe and Bessie drove from the Black home to the state hospital to take Virgil Coco McClain, a hospital employe, back to the institution. She had spent that day with her mother and sister.

Starting back they ran out of gas near Merrold Place and Bessie and young Saberly walked to the Black home.

APPEARED HAPPY.

Mrs. Black said that Saberly stayed there until 10:15 o'clock and appeared to be gay and happy until just before he left when he became despondent. He kissed the girl goodby and told her that he would be dead by "tomorrow night." They paid little attention to this remark, they said, thinking he was joking.

George Gabriel drove to The Plains today to inform Elmer Saberly, the dead youth's father of the tragedy. Saberly was expected to come to Athens this afternoon.

Besides his father and his invalid mother, he leaves three sisters and two half sisters. Both of the latter are married.

A year later on September 23, he married Miss Edith Woodruff, Marietta, graduate of Ohio university. He was elected prosecuting attorney at the age of 29, in 1896, and served in that office for two terms. Following his service as a prosecutor he went into partnership with M. J. Lewis and practiced law until 1911 when he was elected to the bench of the fourth district court of appeals.

YOUNG HUNTER SHOT TO DEATH

Charles Searles, 35, Miner, Killed Saturday at Bailey Run.

The accidental discharge of his gun which he had leaned against a tree, from which he was attempting to dislodge a rabbit, caused instant death for Charles Searles, 35, Bailey Run, miner, while hunting with a brother, George, about 11:30 o'clock this morning.

The two brothers started out about 8:30 o'clock this morning. Near 11:30 o'clock, Charles thought he saw a rabbit run into a hollow tree. Placing his gun against the tree, he found a stick and began an attempt to drive the rabbit out. His brother, George, was standing some 30 or 40 feet from the scene of accident when he heard the sudden report of a gun. Turning, he saw Charles lying on the ground near the tree, and upon reaching his side, found that the entire right side of his head had been shot away, causing instant death.

Robert Seward

ANOTHER GRAVE ADDED TO THE MANY MOUNDS OF CEMETERY ON HILLSIDE ABOVE STATE HOSPITAL

A lonely grave among the cedars on the south hillside of the Athens State Hospital grounds this morning held the body of Robert Seward, 62, who for 28 years had been a patient at the Athens State Hospital. Burial took place late Thursday in a quiet fashion. Efforts made by hospital officers to locate relatives were unavailing—the old man had outlived them all. C. C. Marsh, hospital undertaker, was in charge of the brief funeral service and hospital officials were present at the open grave.

His death came as the result of a carbuncle on his back. Tuberculosis was a contributory cause. Before his commitment to Athens State Hospital in 1901, he was a miner in Moxahala, Perry County. His commitment papers were made out in Perry County.

The scores of graves of state hospital patients on the grounds far up on the hillsides above the local institution, bear mute evidence of state wards who have outlived their relatives during long stays at this institution, or who have been buried by the state because their relatives could not be located or were unable to bear the expense of their burial. The state cares for these indigent patients, often for many years, often for almost a full life-time, and then when life's span is completed, buries them, keeps all-time records of their last resting place and keeps the grass green forever over the mounds of earth that are theirs. Now Robert Seward has joined the other permanent wards of the state here.

February 17, 1886. To this union were born six children, three of whom are living: James, of Nelsonville, Maurice of Rupert Harper, Ohio, and Miss Hazel, of Athens. She was preceded to the great beyond by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Laura Copley and Mrs. Alpha Smith and an infant son. She also leaves thirteen grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Tice of Enid and her twin sister, Mrs. Ida Dunham, of Tribbett.

She was a member of the Methodist church in Athens many years ago and united with the Methodist church in Nelsonville on Easter of this year, 1926. All that loving hearts and willing hands could do to relieve her suffering was done by the children and grandchildren, no task was ever considered hard when it was done for mother. She too knew until the end and never complained of her suffering.

Just one year and twenty days ago her husband died and she waited only for the Great Redeemer to call her to join him on the other shore.

Through trials and temptations she fought the fight; she kept the faith; she finished her work; and has entered her eternal rest.

Mariah Ellen, daughter of Joseph and Eliza Wycuff, was born near Haydenville in March 18, 1866, and departed from this life May 5, 1929, at the age of 63 years, one month, 17 days. She was united in marriage with William Wesley Skiver, August 13, 1887. This union was blessed with 11 children, seven sons, six daughters. Two sons and two daughters preceded her to the grave. She was a kind and loving wife and mother. She professed a hope in Christ of a blessed immortality beyond the grave. She was received into the fellowship of the Bible Christian Church at Cooks Chapel in her youth. We have abundant reason to believe she loved the sweet notes of the Gospel and the communion of the saints of God, hence we believe she has been called from the church militant to the church triumphant to know afflictions no more. Her parting words were: "Don't worry about me for all is well."

She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, five sons, four daughters, one brother, Jacob Wycuff, of Logan, 24 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, with other relatives and friends who will emulate her virtues.

IN MEMORIAM

Anna Laura Latimer, daughter of Lewis M. and Angie Latimer, was the first child of a family of ten children. She was born August 24, 1871, at Bailey Run, Ohio, and departed this life May 14, 1929, following an operation at the Citizen's Hospital at Barberton, Ohio.

Most of her entire life was spent in the vicinity of Athens County. Her connection with the church began at Hollister. About eight years ago she transferred her membership to the U. B. Church at Murray City and attended as long as her health permitted.

She was married to William Slisher, January 18, 1897. To them were born four daughters and one son, the first child dying in infancy.

Although not in the best of health for the past 24 years, she gave the best of herself to the rearing of her family. Measured by the thought of today life did not hold many rich gifts for her, but she ever held to that future hope. She was respected by all for her fearless stand for what she deemed was just and upright.

Surving her is a kind and devoted husband, three daughters, Lillian, Bernice and Alice, of Barberton; one son, Marshal, of Mansfield, an aged father, six sisters, four grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends, all of whom in her absence find the world drained of something vital and inspiring.

DEATH BRINGS CLOSE TO LONG AND BUSY LIFE

O. B. Sloane, Veteran Athens Business Man Dies Today.

The last sleep of O. B. Sloane, 79, Athens, peacefully faded into death at 3:15 o'clock this morning at the Sheltering Arms hospital where he had been suffering for six weeks with the last stages of cancer.

Until illness overtook him, two years ago, Mr. Sloane was unusually active in business, civic, and church affairs, and though he sought to be cured by the most able physicians in the country, he came to know that the malady was incurable. Not even his closest relatives, however, were aware, until very recently, that he knew the seriousness of his condition.

The funeral will take place in the Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the services to be in charge of the Rev. A. Y. Wilcox, pastor of the church. Elders of the church will serve as pallbearers. Burial will take place in the Union street cemetery.

IN MERCANTILE BUSINESS

Mr. Sloane was born March 14, 1848 in Washington county, Pennsylvania. When he was 10 years old he moved to Ross county, Ohio, with his parents. He was educated in the South Salem schools and graduated from the South Salem Academy in 1867. He entered the mercantile business with his father following his graduation, and in 1871 his father helped him to establish himself in business in Athens. By 1893 he had built up a large general store of thirteen rooms, and retired from active affairs. At that time he owned four large farms in Athens county, land interests in the West, a number of buildings in Athens including the Sloane Block on North Court street where are located the Columbia theater, Candyland, the Ohio Hotel, Uptodate grocery, and one large double business block in Duluth, Minn. He led a busy life while in business, and is widely known over the Hocking valley as a conservative, successful business man.

HAD ONE DAUGHTER

He married, Miss Alice Lodtman, well of Ross county, January 9, 1872. One daughter, Jessie Pearl, was born to the couple, May 6, 1874, wife of Dr. R. W. Bowdell, of St. Paul, Minnesota, and had four children to whom Mr. Sloane was a devoted grandfather. After Mrs. Sloane's wife's death, he married Mrs. Lulie Kessinger Chippey Atkinson, in 1915, and she contributed to a home life for the rest of his days. His daughter, Mrs. Bowdell, his widow, and a brother, Albert D. Sloane, Athens, are the surviving members of the family. Mrs. J. P. Clayton, a sister, died a year ago at the family home here.

Mr. Sloane was a member of the board of public affairs of Athens and a trustee of the Athens children's home for many years. His friends knew him as a tender, loving natured man, with regard for children. from Drew University. The honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Dr. Sluts two years ago at Ohio Wesleyan.

The first pastorate held by Dr. Sluts following his graduation from Drew University was in Atlanta, Ga., where he remained for about five years. He held pastorates in Jackson, Cincinnati, and Hillsboro, before going to Cleveland, where he remained for nine years previous to his appointment as district superintendent in the Cambridge district.

Prominent mention of the name of Dr. Sluts was given last year when the trustees of Ohio Northern College and Ohio Wesleyan University were seeking presidents for these institutions. He had always been active in Methodist activities, being engaged in drives over the state for raising funds for Methodist colleges. He was known throughout this section of the country as one of the leading Methodist ministers in Ohio.

Dr. Sluts was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, and Masonic orders. He was also a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and of a national honorary debating fraternity at Ohio Wesleyan, where he was active in forensics.

Dr. Sluts was married in 1910 to Miss Edna Lee Davis, of Jersey City, New Jersey. Mrs. Sluts's father is a prominent steel manufacturer in that city.

Besides his widow, Dr. Sluts leaves three children, Phillip, a freshman in Ohio Wesleyan University; Leopard, in high school, and Ralph, in the grade school. Prof. Raymond M. Emmett Smith

Barks of Dogs Cause Discovery Of the Body of Emmett Smith, Of Minersville; Killed by Shot

Whether Death Was Accident or Suicide Probably Never Will Be Known; Had Set Out To Shoot Hawks in Nest.

MINERSVILLE, April 16.—(Staff Special)—The body of Emmett E. Smith, 50, was found three-fourths of a mile from his home in the hills back of this village, shortly before noon yesterday, guarded by two small dogs. A load of shot from a 16-gauge double-barreled shot gun had entered the neck and cheek of the man causing instant death. Whether it was an accident or suicide has not been determined by Coroner Ben Ewing.

Smith lived with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Smith, who is 75 years old and confined to bed by illness, and a brother, Clarence. The father John Smith, has been dead for many years.

The brothers had found a hawk's nest about a mile from their home, and desired to kill the parent birds before they could hatch their young. Emmett Smith started out yesterday morning to kill the hawks. He asked his brother, Clarence to go with him, but the latter refused, saying that he had to do up the domestic work. Emmett then went alone.

He had been in good health, and was in excellent spirits Sunday and Monday morning when he started out with his gun, members of the family said today.

John Recht and Charles Houdescheit were picking greens and hunting mushrooms in the hills between 10 and 11 o'clock, when they heard a shot in a field quite a distance away. Soon dogs began barking in that locality and the two decided to investigate. They found the dogs guarding the body and it was some time before the animals would permit them to approach. The body was lying near a log, with powder burns on the cheek and on one hand.

Whether he stumbled and fell and accidently killed himself or whether the wound was self-inflicted will probably never be known. Where he had been sitting on the log was exactly in range of the hawk's nest.

Burial will be made in the Gilmore Cemetery Wednesday. Emmett Smith was a single man.

Besides his mother, and brother, Smith leaves three sisters, Mrs. R. H. Bickers, Indianapolis, Indiana; Mrs. Clarence Custer, Long Beach, Washington, and Mrs. Earl Hearn, Shela, Washington.

Always timid and unassuming, her greatest pleasure in life seemed to be in serving others. Self sacrifice and service seemed to be her life's slogan. Always ready to minister to the sick of the community, and those in need.

A real wife, a real mother, a real neighbor. Surely she has met the requirements to enter into the joys prepared for the faithful.

"In as much as you have done it to the least of these my brethren, you have done it unto me."

This will surely be said to her.

In the last few years of her life, on account of age and disease, she often expressed the wish "To go home." Now this wish has been granted. She has moved out of her earthly house, and gone home.

Man Is Stricken By Heart Attack While Swimming

Nelson Smith, 20, Falls Over Dead In Pool Near Nelsonville.

NELSONVILLE, July 14.—While playfully swimming with his brother's family in the Patton's dam swimming pool east of Nelsonville, Nelson Smith, 20, was stricken with a heart attack and fell over dead in the water.

Relatives who were near him thought he was only playing when he said: "I guess I'm done for," and disappeared in the water. When it was realized that he was under water a considerable time, a search was made which required twenty minutes before his body was found.

Artificial respiration was resorted to for a long period, but proved of no avail. His body was taken to the home of his brother, J. D. Smith, and from there will be taken to his parents' home in Chillicothe.

Mr. Smith was taking the place of a traveling wholesale salesman who was on vacation. He was in Athens yesterday afternoon and decided to visit his brother in Nelsonville instead of staying in Athens for the night. After dinner the Smith family went to the pool, and were swimming for about an hour before the tragedy occurred.

SHOOTS SELF CLEANING REVOLVER

Bullet Pierces Heart and Robert Snyder Dies Instantly.

GLOUSTER, Aug. 29.—While cleaning and oiling an automatic revolver Sunday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock Robert M. Snyder, 55, a well-known resident of Medoc shot himself through the heart, death resulting instantly.

The shooting occurred shortly after supper had been served at the Snyder home. At the close of the meal Mr. Snyder asked his wife for the oil can, stating he wanted to oil and clean the revolver.

Mr. Snyder had been running a store at Medoc for some time and had been sleeping in a shanty adjoining the store to protect his property should the occasion arise.

REPORT OF GUN HEARD

After obtaining the oil can he went to the shanty where he slept and a few minutes later the report of a gun was heard. Members of the family rushed to the building, but when they arrived Mr. Snyder was dead.

Coroner L. F. Jones of Athens happened to be in Glouster Sunday afternoon and was at the scene of the shooting about 30 minutes after it occurred. An examination conducted by the coroner showed that Mr. Snyder had removed the clip of loaded cartridges from the gun and had started to clean it. One cartridge had been left in the barrel of the gun and this was exploded while Mr. Snyder was handling the weapon, the bullet piercing his heart.

Following an investigation of the case Coroner Jones returned to this city Sunday evening. While here he said his verdict would be accidental shooting.

BOY KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY BUS

After Seeing Santa.

NELSONVILLE, Dec. 14.—Grim tragedy stalked in the wake of Santa Claus in his visit to Nelsonville yesterday afternoon, and one little boy sacrificed his life for the privilege of a glimpse of his childhood friends. While trudging happily along the road to his home at Buchtel about 6 o'clock last night with the vision of old Santa and the reindeer bright in his memory, William Sohn, 12, was struck on the top of Mason City hill by a Carbon Hill bus. His neck was broken by the force of the blow, and he died instantly.

Accompanied by his brother, 10, and four boys companions, William came to Nelsonville early Monday afternoon and awaited patiently the arrival of the party. As Santa left Nelsonville after a brief stop on the public square, the boys followed him as far as the foundry when they started up Mason City hill towards their home. It is believed that in the excitement of the moment, with the many interesting sights to discuss, the bus approached unnoticed and William was struck down. The body was taken to the home of his grandmother at Buchtel.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sohn, of that village. He leaves one brother.

Earl Souders Dashes Across Street Into the Path of an Automobile.

GLOUSTER, Sept. 4—Earl, 6-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Souders of near Roseville was instantly killed about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon when struck by an automobile as he ran across the street in the north end of Trimble on the Glouster road.

A car going south being driven by Joe Tecnik of Greens Run struck the boy, the right headlight on the car crashing the child's skull. Several ribs on the left side were also broken.

The little boy and his mother arrived at Trimble Saturday morning to be the guests for a few days of Mrs. Souder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers. The father arrived Sunday afternoon just as the body of the little boy was being carried from the street into the house.

The boy was running across the street to join two little girls and evidently did not notice the approaching car. Mr. Tecnik said that he did not notice the boy until the car struck him.

Mrs. Alvin Hughes of Trimble, an aunt to the boy, was an eye witness to the accident and said she did not think the driver of the car was to blame as the boy ran in front of the machine which was on its own side of the road.

Coroner Law Jones of Athens went to Trimble Sunday night and conducted the inquest. After hearing the evidence he returned a verdict of accidental death.

At an early age she united with the Albany Baptist church and after her marriage transferred her membership to the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Hebbardsville, where she has been a member since that time.

She was not a demonstrative soul, but in her quiet unassuming way, endeared herself to those who came to know her for her gentle womanly kindliness.

As a neighbor she had few superiors, possessing that quality of character which makes itself felt in the home, in the church and in the community, she will leave her mark upon the world.

She is gone, but the immortality of her influence will continue on and on, and it can therefore be truly said, "Blessed are the dead which died in the Lord."

Nona Steinmetz

In Memoriam

Today, we are full of life and health and hope, tomorrow, we are numbered among the dead. Death, the relentless foe of all mankind, lurks on every hand. The high and the low, the rich and poor, the strong and the weak, must, one and all, fall as victims to its unerring aim.

How appropriate the injunction—Be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh.

Nona, daughter of Harvey and Emily Jane Williams, was born December 6, 1876 and departed this life September 24, 1927, aged 50 years, 9 months and 20 days.

She was united in marriage to Anthony Steinmetz, January 16, 1897. To this union was born one daughter, Ethel, who has lovingly cared for her mother through all her periods of illness. She leaves to mourn their loss, her daughter, at home, her sister, Mrs. Pearl Wood of near Albany, two brothers, Milan and Walter, of near Pratts Fork, and a host of other relatives and friends.

She was of a cheerful disposition and loved by all who knew her. She united with the Christian church at Sprowsville in her early womanhood and had remained faithful to its teaching.

Henry Stevenson

YOUTH STABBED CHRISTMAS EVE IS DEAD TODAY

Henry Stevenson Succumbs to Wounds Received in Cutting Scrape. Dying Statement Made by Young Man Will Likely Be Admitted As Evidence In Court.

Henry Stevenson, 24, who was stabbed while in his father's soft drink parlor in Mineral, Christmas eve, died last night at 8:07 o'clock at his father's home in Mineral.

Serious charges against Willard Jayjohn, who was arrested last Thursday, and who has been held in the Athens county jail pending the outcome of Stevenson's condition, are expected to be filed today by Prosecuting Attorney R. W. Flesterwald.

MAKES DYING STATEMENT

A dying statement in which Stevenson charged Jayjohn with having stabbed him, is in the hands of the prosecuting attorney. Since the statement was made in the belief that he would die, it will be admitted as evidence in court, it is thought.

Stevenson relates in his dying statement that when he entered his father's soft drink parlor Christmas eve he heard loud voices upstairs. Believing it to be a fight, he rushed up stairs and entered the room as Willard Jayjohn hit his father. He went over to protect his father, he said, and Jayjohn turned upon him and stabbed him several times. He said that he did not touch Jayjohn nor hit him, until after he was stabbed, when he picked up a case of empty soda bottles and threw them at Jayjohn.

Jayjohn, who has been interviewed by a Messenger reporter, denied that he stabbed Stevenson. He says that he does not know what stabbed Stevenson as the oil heater by which the card players had been playing, was blown out, and the room was dark. Jayjohn and Stevenson are said to have been playing poker.

Everett Addis, Lewis Addis, George Lowry and Thomas Arnold, all of Mineral, it is said witnessed the fight and the stabbing.

Stevenson leaves a widow and two small children, Harold 4, and Arthur 19 months. His parents are also living. One brother, David of Miner and one sister, Miss Margaret Gibson, Robinett, Virginia, are also left, besides two half brothers, Robert of Carbondale and Anthony of Mineral and one half sister, Mrs. Anna Miner, Coalville.

Although in failing health for several years, her final illness only lasted five weeks.

She was united in marriage, August 22nd, 1863, with James A. Stewart, who passed on before, March 18, 1896.

To this union were born five sons and five daughters, three of whom (Hattie Dolin, Huldah and Zella) preceded their parents in death.

In early life she became a follower of Jesus and joined the Christian church in Meigs County, and later upon moving to Athens County, became a member of the Albany Baptist church, where she has led a quiet unassuming, consistent, religious life. She was a devoted and loving mother and a good neighbor. A life thus lived is a useful life, the fruitage of which will bless all humanity. She bore her sufferings with sweet patience and submission, requesting her loved ones to put their trust in Him who doth all things well.

Josiah Steward

BROTHER JOSIAH W. STEWARD—Son of William and Mary Moore Steward, was born in Harrison county, Ohio, March 19, 1851, and died at his home in Scipio township, Meigs county, January 13, 1926, aged 74 years, 9 months, 27 days.

The parents of the deceased were also born in Harrison county, Ohio, moving to Meigs county in 1842, when Josiah was only one year old, and began laying the foundation of a large estate, a part of which is now owned by their youngest son.

These pioneer parents were among the oldest settlers in Scipio township, rearing a family of eleven children, nine sons and two daughters, of whom only two sons and one daughter are living.

Josiah, as he was likened to call him, a later pioneer, was married September 13, 1874, to Vesta M. Wood, youngest daughter of Caleb and Katie Wood of Columbia township, to which union were born nine children, three sons and six daughters, all of whom survive the father except a daughter dying in infancy and Myrta Steward Chesser who died about 15 years ago.

Besides his immediate family, a widow and seven children, he leaves to mourn their loss 16 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren, also a host of friends and minor relatives.

The deceased was also a Christian gentleman who early in life united with the Christian church at School Lot where he remained steadfast in his belief until death.

Mr. Steward's choice life work was that of a farmer which occupation he pursued both pleasantly and profitably, until his farms and farm surroundings could always be pointed out with pride as models of thrift and neatness.

We might safely say, he was a most excellent judge of farm stock, always selecting the best and his advice was frequently sought by the young and inexperienced.

Now he is gone. We who were merely his friends and neighbors may soon forget him, but the members of his immediate family can never forget him.

Norma Stewart

In Memoriam

Norma Virginia Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ferguson, was born September 17, 1901, Died September 12, 1928, at Charleston, W. Va.

The early years of her life were spent in Ohio, where she made many friends. She graduated from the Chauncey High School in 1917 and attended the Ohio University in 1917.

Shortly after coming to Charleston she joined the First Methodist Episcopal church. She accepted a position with the New York Central Offices, Charleston, which she held at the time of her death. She was married September 17, 1924 to William Stewart and died at his hand September 12, 1928. She leaves to mourn their loss father, mother and one sister Kathleen, also a host of sorrowing relatives and friends both in Ohio and West Virginia. She had endeared herself to her many friends by her many disposition and her jolly ways. To her life was sweet and to be suddenly snatched away was like seeing the morning sun, set in the eastern sky instead of running its full course. It was like the flower bursting forth gradually, unfolding its hidden beauty to the sun—but see it receded the noon day of its life, its developments suddenly checked—as the fading of the flower is truly an emblem of human life.

A loved one departed is always an immeasurable loss and is to be cherished as we cherish the light of the stars. If it were possible for Norma to interpret our thoughts she would learn that our hearts are comforted in the belief that she is in God's Summer Land, where she feels at home. For Jesus said, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you." In that land of peace and rest her happiness, God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes and there shall be no more sorrow, nor crying.

There shall be beauty for her eyes, sweet sounds for her ears, and eternal sunshine to wrap her about, in that life of love and light forevermore. As Norma has placed her faith in her Savior so let memory take a keener and perpetual bloom, hastening the refreshment and priming the thoughts of all those who knew her. Sacred is memory to the bereaved for memory is treasure in our hearts to live.

MARTHA ANNE WALKER—Daughter of Robert and Lucina Caldwell, Walker, was born December 24, 1833, died March 14, 1924, aged 92 years, 2 months, 20 days.

She was born in Athens county, where she spent her entire life.

Several cousins, nieces and nephews are living in different states—only one, Grace Rainier Quillen being able to visit her in her last sickness. Especially will there be a vacancy in the family of which she has been a part for more than half a century. In the Stout family, there remains the family of George Stout, Coos, Rapids, Iowa; Horace W. Stout, and family, of Medicine Lodge, Kansas; John E. Stout and family, of Eugene, Oregon; and Jerome J. Stout and family, of Dayton, Ohio.

She was a loyal member of the Church of Christ, at Orange, O. Loving, kind and true, living a consistent Christian life, she has now passed to Heaven and has entered into that rest that remaineth to the people of God.

Several years ago she accepted Christ as her personal Saviour, was baptized and received into church fellowship by the Rev. John Tippie, of The Church of God at McConnelsville, Ohio.

Truly comforting is the intelligence that she remained a faithful and consistent follower of Jesus Christ until her release from mortal pain to become a fadeless conqueror with her Savior. What solace to realize that He who overcame Death, conquering the grave was truly here.

With confident hope we that remain shall run and not faint and with these triumphant eventually challenge,
O Death where is thy sting

In Memoriam

TEWKSBURY—[illegible] Jefferson and Elizabeth Tewksberry, was born in Athens county June 11, 1850. Died May 14, 1928, aged 77 years, 10 months, 29 days. He was the youngest of nine children of whom there [illegible] one brother, Aaron Tewksbury, Pomeroy, Ohio, three [illegible] four sisters having preceded him in death.

He was married to Marry Ann Martin in 1868. To this union were born three children, Myrta Ana Nichols of The Plains, Libbie Jane Reeves of Carpenter and George Jefferson of Albany. While these children were very small the young mother was taken by death on August 3, 1875.

On August 17, 1875, he was again united in marriage, the wife being Martha Jane Fought. To this union were born three children, two sons and one daughter, Abraham Fought and Charles Wesley of New Marshfield, and Mary Rosaline McComas of Carpenter. Death again visited the home on June 10, 1919, calling away the wife and mother.

Since this time he has spent a part of his time at his home in Albany and a part spent visiting his children, much of the time being spent at the home of his daughter, Libbie T. Reeves, who tenderly cared for him during much of his sickness and at whose home his last days were spent.

He has been in declining health for a long time but has borne his afflictions with an uncomplaining fortitude, speaking always to try to appear in his usual cheerful manner.

Early in manhood he and the wife of his youth were together baptised and entered the Baptist church.

His life was not faultless, but he never doubted in the goodness of the Father, seeming rather to feel only his own unworthiness.

About two years ago he again declared his faith and during his later illness those who were with him most and know him best say he was often in prayer, using often the prayer, "God be merciful to me, a sinner." Praying to the One who has promised "Him that cometh unto me I will in nowise cast out."

Vira Tewksbury

In Memoriam

Vira S. Chase, daughter of Leonidas and Jessie Chase, was born October 6, 1853, near Carpenter, and departed this life December 30, 1877 at the age of 24 years, 2 months, and 14 days.

Her father and one brother, Walter, preceded her in death. Her husband, Charles W. Tewksbury, is left besides five children, Adrien, Alma, William, Merril and Paul; her mother, Mrs. Jessie Chase, three sister, Mrs. Madge Wright, Mrs. Hester Roach, both of Cleveland, Mrs. Lulu Gilliland, Akron; and one brother Merril Chase, Marion.

Early in life Mrs. Tewksbury was converted and became a member of the Mt. Union Baptist Church, which she faithfully attended during her girlhood days.

September 17, 1896 she was united in marriage to Charles W. Tewksbury.

After her marriage, she with her husband joined the Methodist Episcopal church at Town House.

About 1921 she and her family moved to New Marshfield, where she resided at the time of her death. In this community Mrs. Tewksbury found a church home in the Methodist Protestant church, although she still claimed her membership at Town House church.

Mrs. Tewksbury was a faithful wife and mother, and a kind neighbor. The community will miss her gentle and pleasing personality. Quiet and unassuming she went about her daily duties, performing them with love and care, until the master called her to a higher and broader service. Her work on earth is ended—her mantle has fallen on others, who must carry on, in her place.

In Memoriam

LEVI V. THOMPSON—son of Barach and Lucinda Thompson was born July 9, 1843, and departed from earth April 29, 1922, having lived 69 years, 9 months, 20 days, almost three score and ten. On August 26, 1861 he was united in marriage with Hannah J. Randall, daughter of Ichae and Martha Randall, and has spent his entire married life in this vicinity.

To this union were born six children, one of whom a daughter died when small. His widow, and five children survive him. The children are Arthur Thompson of Amesville, Hiram of Mt. Hermon, Mrs. Nellie Kerns of Mt. Hermon, Mrs. Grace Glover of Pomeroy and Martha at home, who has given loving and efficient service to her father throughout his sickness. He leaves three brothers, Winfield of Fredericktown, Ohio, and George of Utley, John of Columbus, ten grandchildren and many more distant relatives and friends who will miss his kindly presence.

There are no records of great deeds to be told of this friend who lies before us asleep in his last long sleep. In his way through life his feet never touched the first round on the ladder of fame, but he lived a life that many more pretentious would do well to imitate. Quiet, honest and hard working, he made friends wherever he went, who had a kindly respect for him, and it can be said truthfully of him that he had no enemies.

He possessed the abiding love and respect of his family as was proven by their attendance during his long illness. In all that trying time he was patient and kind and realizing that he was nearing the end of life's journey, he called his children about him and bade them a loving goodbye and told them to tell all his friends and neighbors to kind goodbye. What a heritage of kindness to leave behind to prove that he had attained the very highest attainment for—"He liveth best who loveth best, both man and bird and beast." He typical of the man, we are reminded of the poem,

W. R. Thompson

W. R. Thompson, 30, Who Lived Near New Marshfield Is Carbon Monoxide Victim.

Blaze Is of Undetermined Origin; Victim Hired Last Night; Married 3 Months.

By C. H. BARTLETT
Messenger Special Writer

Fire of undetermined origin apparently starting near the base of the fan shaft at Mine No. 35 of the Manhattan Coal company, Chauncey, caused the death of one miner this morning. Deputy state mine inspectors are on the scene.

W. R. Thompson, 30, Athens, R. F. D. 9, near New Marshfield, was the victim of the disaster losing his life in a futile battle with the deadly fumes of carbon monoxide gas. Accompanied by C. C. "Lum" Frye, Chauncey, fire-boss, Thompson entered the mine about 4:30 o'clock this morning on the regular inspection trip.

Frye staggered from the opening about 5:45 o'clock, himself almost overcome by the fumes. He explained to the men outside who were awaiting the return of the fire bosses before entering the shaft that he and Thompson had penetrated to a distance of about 4,000 feet when smarting eyes first warned them of the gas.

FALLS TO GROUND

Frye said that they started back and that Thompson apparently rapidly overcome fell to the ground. He was helped to his feet twice by Frye, who also dragged his companion for a considerable distance after the latter had lost consciousness. Frye finally succeeded in reaching the mine motor and rode to fresh air and safety. He was forced to abandon his companion being unable to carry him across a fall that checked progress.

HIRED LAST NIGHT

Thompson, it is said, was hired last night by the mine superintendent and entered the shaft for the first time this morning. He had been married about three months.

Deputy state mine inspectors were summoned with the rescue car from Nelsonville. Deputy inspectors Andrew Glasgow, Jacksonville; Isaac Vaughn, Nelsonville; Noah Andrews, Logan; Val Brown, Pomeroy, were accompanied by Ed Fouty, mine foreman, Amos Allen, assistant, and W. H. Pickett, motorman, and entered the pit at 9:25 o'clock, remaining for about two hours. The rescue workers were almost overcome by the gas fumes which they reported of heavy intensity. They discovered Thompson's body. He had been in the gas probably five hours before he could be reached. The body will be brought to the surface this afternoon.

The inspectors made an attempt to reach the fire and if possible to discover the cause but were unable to do so at the preliminary investigation. It is believed to have started near the fan shaft which is located about one and a half miles from the main shaft. When the fans were reversed this morning heavy volumes of smoke poured from the fan house.

ESTABLISH GUARD

Colonel John Rhodes and Colonel T. E. Andrews accompanied a detail of National Guard officers from Nelsonville and with deputy sheriffs established a guard at all entrances to the property early this morning. It is feared that the fire has gained great headway. More details will be available until the deputy inspectors complete their investigation today.

Mine No. 35 is one of the largest properties owned by the Manhattan Coal company. A force of about 40 men has been employed during the last week, cleaning up the mine and putting it in readiness for operation on an open shop basis. Normally the mine employed about 90 workers with a potential output of 1,000 tons daily.

CANNOT REACH BLAZE THOUGHT RAGING NOW

Inspectors Attempt To Fight Fire but Are Forced To Return to Surface.

CHAUNCEY, Aug. 24.—Orders to seal all openings to Mine No. 25 of the Manhattan Coal company, Chauncey, were issued early this morning by Jerome Watson, Columbus, chief inspector of the state bureau of mines, following a conference with deputy inspectors who throughout yesterday and last night had made repeated unsuccessful efforts to reach the fire believed to be raging far in the interior of the mine. Sealing of the mine by the state department means that fully 90 days must elapse before the property may be re-opened. By shutting off the air it is contemplated that the fire may smother in that period.

OBTAIN BODY

After recovering the body of W. R. Thompson, New Marshfield, yesterday afternoon about 3:15 o'clock, the deputy state inspectors succeeded in penetrating to a distance of approximately 3,000 feet beyond where Thompson's body was located about a mile and a quarter from the main shaft. Thompson lost his life when overcome by carbon monoxide gas created by fumes from the smoldering coal.

The body was taken to his home at New Marshfield late yesterday afternoon. Coroner L. F. Jones was called to conduct an inquest. No funeral arrangements had been completed at noon today.

The fire is believed to be located in the north end of the main entry probably 600 or 700 feet beyond the Bailey Run air shaft. The cause of the fire remains a mystery. The state inspectors, it is said, do not credit the spontaneous combustion theory, and company officials state that no electric power has been operated in that part of the mine for at least four weeks. At that time a fall occurred in the vicinity of the fire's location and electric lines were immediately cut. Workmen were employed in that part of the mine on the day prior to the discovery of the blaze and report no evidence of the fire, it is claimed.

AIR REMAINS

Fire extinguishers and several hundred feet of water hose were taken to the mine last night, but a heavy wall of smoke and continued presence of the deadly gas prevented the deputy inspectors from arriving at a point where they could combat the blaze. The air pressure maintained in the main entry to assist the inspectors, was so strong that the smoke started circulating to the rear and they were forced to return to the surface.

Eight or more deputy inspectors from various coal mining districts of the state were on the scene yesterday. They worked in two hour shifts and were visibly weakened on returning to fresh air after struggling with the gas that infested the entry.

SERIOUS BLOW

Sealing of Mine No. 25 is regarded as a serious blow to the valley at this time. Idle for many months during the long strike, cleaning-up operations were started only recently with the view of early resumption of coal loading. The company had anticipated no difficulty in securing plenty of men to successfully operate the property.

The three openings to the mine will be closed at once.

Harry Thorpe

CARSEY DENIES KILLING GUILT

Appears Before Mayor Moore Last Night on Serious Charge.

A plea of not guilty was made by Francis Carsey, when he was arraigned before Mayor Alex M. Moore last night in the Athens Police Court on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Harry Thorpe early yesterday morning. Carsey declared that he did not hit Thorpe, but that the victim fell, breaking his neck which caused his death.

Carsey was bound over to the Athens County Grand Jury. When he was unable to provide bond of $10,000 he was taken to the Athens County Jail to await the result of the investigation by the grand jury now holding its October session. The case was said to have been scheduled for hearing today.

The argument which is said to have ended in the death of Thorpe started when Thorpe is alleged to have made a slurring remark about Carsey's mother-in-law. Carsey went to Fern Street where Thorpe was cleaning out a place to store his furniture.

Carsey told Mayor Moore last night that when he arrived at Fern Street just before dark Sunday night he started to talk with Thorpe who was leaning against the door of the building. During their conversation Carsey said Thorpe fell and struck the back of his head. Thorpe was taken to the City Building where he was given first aid treatment and then taken to the Sheltering Arms Hospital. He died at 5:50 o'clock Monday morning. An investigation revealed that his neck was broken.

In Memoriam

Today we are full of life and health and hope, tomorrow we are numbered among the dead. Death, the relentless foe of all mankind, lurks on every hand.

The high and the low, the rich and the poor, the strong and the weak, must, one and all, fall as victims to his unerring aim.

How appropriate the injunction.—Be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh.

Julia, daughter of Samuel and Nancy Keebaugh was born July 30, 1834, and departed this life April 14, 1927, aged 91 years, 7 months and 14 days. She was united in marriage to Dennis Timney in the year of 1864. No children were born to this union but she was a mother to her two nephews, Benjamin F. Barnhill and Walter E. Koukoskie, whom she reared from childhood. Her husband and one nephew, Benjamin Barnhill, preceded her to the great beyond—leaving one nephew, Walter Koukoskie, 86 Richland avenue, Athens, Ohio, with whom she made her home until the time of her death. Aunt Julia as she was widely known was of a cheerful disposition and loved by all who knew her. She was a member of the M. P. Richland avenue church Athens, Ohio, becoming a member in the year of 1926. Utterly unselfish she counted no sacrifice too great for the cause of Christ, and when others had become discouraged, her faith in the ultimate triumph of the right kept her steadfastly at her post of duty.

BODY OF PRIVATE TITTLE EXPECTED TO ARRIVE AT BROOKLYN MONDAY

long Missing Soldier Located After Search.

NELSONVILLE, Aug. 10.—The body of Private William Tittle of Battery B. 314 Field Artillery, A. E. F., was expected to arrive at Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday, according to a telegram received by his father, George Tittle, of Tiltonville, recently. The body will be forwarded directly to Nelsonville, it is stated, according to the request of relatives, and funeral services to be conducted by Glenford Dugan post, American Legion, will be announced upon arrival. It is expected that the services will be held next Sunday. Burial will be made in Greenlawn.

Private Tittle was killed in France, and for a number of years has been listed among the missing. During the war when his father was notified of his death, he made arrangements for his burial there. With the close of the great conflict, the bodies of war heroes began arriving from over-seas, but that of Private Tittle was not among the number. The search, however, has continued, and a few months ago the grave of an unknown soldier was located in far-off France. It was believed to be that of the missing veteran. A pocket watch bearing his initials and a few other trinkets were also found. The watch was forwarded to relatives in this county and was positively identified by a sister. And now after all these years, the body of Private Tittle is coming home.

The dead soldier did not enlist from this vicinity, it is stated, but relatives are said to reside near Rocking.

It was not long before he was sent to the front where death found him while engaged in action, on Oct. 2, 1918, he was killed on the field of honor, the first casualty in his regiment.

Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Katchka, Mrs. Hazel Kyre, and Margaret Tittle at home. While these mourn his early death they find a satisfying comfort in the heroism that called him to the field of conflict where he gave his life unselfishly that others might be free.

A grateful country is bringing home the body that it may rest in the bosom of the land that he loved and for which he died. The body will rest at Greenlawn Cemetery, Nelsonville, Ohio, but his soul has gone back to God who gave it.

"The gates of death refuse to hide
The valor of our men who died
In Freedom's fight;
Out from their graves in Flander's fields
The crimson soil a harvest yields,
Sweet hope, glad peace and light."

Amos Townsend, 82, a former resident of Guysville, died at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon in the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Rossener, Athens. He was taken ill Sunday noon and his condition continued to grow worse until his death Monday.

Mr. Townsend, who was well known throughout this district because he was one of the district's pioneer saw-mill men, owned a farm in Carthage Township which had been his home for 36 years until he retired last June. At that time he rented the farm and has since made his home with his children.

Born in Morgan County near McConnelsville, Mr. Townsend grew to young manhood on the family farm. As a young man he engaged in the saw-mill business and later came into Athens County. He married Emma Redshaver, of Guysville.

Besides his widow, Mr. Townsend leaves two sons, B. O. Townsend, of Amesville, and L. A. Townsend, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and one daughter, Mrs. J. A. Rossener, of Athens. One daughter, Mope, died several years ago.

IN MEMORIAM—

Amos Townsend oldest son of Smith and Charity Townsend, was born near McConnellsville, Morgan County, O., on March 14,1847, and departed this life at 4:30 p. m. February 16, 1929, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Rossener, 435 E. State Street, Athens, Ohio. Had he lived until the 14th of March he would have been 82 years of age.

He was united in marriage to Miss Emma C. Redshaver on January 15, 1880, and to this union were born four children, two sons, Branch O., of near Amesville; Lennan A., of Parkersburg, W. Va.; one daughter, Ora M. Rossener, of Athens, and one daughter, Mope, who preceded him in death 34 years ago. During the last several months he often talked of this little daughter and of his beloved sisters that had gone on before and were waiting for his coming.

He was converted and united with the M. E. Church at Guysville in 1870 under the ministry of the Rev. Fry.

He was a quiet man, not given to demonstration but he lived a deep, devoted heart life and was so earnest in his prayers he greatly will be missed.

So many times in his prayers he has made the request—"Lord give me a peaceful hour in which to die, and hand me down to my grave in peace and bring me to glory Thee in that world without end." The Lord truly granted this first request and we are confident that the last request is granted also, for he told his family many times during the last few months that everything was clear between him and his God and that he was ready to go and in his own earnest words he said "I don't want one of us to miss getting there."

He was a true and devoted husband and patient, kind and loving father. We can never remember one time that he was ever unkind to any member of his family.

CARD OF THANKS—We take this means to express our heart felt thanks to our kind friends and neighbors, for their help and sympathy during our bereavement, and to Rev. Roberts for his consoling words also the choir and those who sent such beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rossener.

Ernest Trout

Injuries Received When Tree Pins Youth to Ground Prove Fatal; Crushed Through Back

Ernest Trout, 20, New Marshfield, Was Cutting Tree; Skull Is Fractured; Dies in Sheltering Arms Hospital, Never Regaining Consciousness.

Crushed through the back and suffering a fractured skull sustained when a large walnut tree he was cutting pinned him to the ground, Ernest Trout, 20, New Marshfield, died of his injuries about 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Sheltering Arms hospital. The young man failed to regain consciousness after being struck by the tree about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Trout was engaged in cutting walnut logs for a purchaser from McArthur on land about three quarters of a mile from Trout's home a mile west of New Marshfield on the Carbondale pike. The tree had been cut and in falling, the limbs caused it to be "kicked back" striking Trout and pinning him to the ground. It caught him behind the head, and across the upper part of his back.

The purchaser of the logs, a William Hughes who lives in the country near New Marshfield, and W. H. Elliott, step-father of the young man, witnessed the accident. Moving the tree off the unconscious man, they carried him to the road nearby and placed him in the automobile of the buyer and rushed him to the hospital here.

Dr. S. E. G. Pedigo, who had been notified of the case, and gone to the hospital, said the man was suffering from a fracture of the skull and was crushed badly through the back. Trout never regained consciousness, the attending physician said.

Trout was the son of Mrs. Clara Elliott. He resided at the Elliott home. His father was Louis Trout who died when the young man was a child. Besides his mother and step-father, Trout leaves two sisters and two brothers, Ina and Lelah, and Garrett and Daniel. He was the grandson of the late Daniel Hawk, well-known throughout this vicinity.

Raymond Tudor

GLOUSTER BOY'S BODY FOUND IN R. R. TUNNEL

KILLED BY TRAIN

Mangled Form Is Identified by High School Insignia; Active Student.

GLOUSTER, Dec. 26.—The mangled body of Raymond Tudor, colored, of this city was found at the north end of the Hatfield tunnel about 10 o'clock Thursday night by a southbound train crew. The left leg was crushed to the knee, right foot cut off at the ankle, left arm cut off above the elbow, skull fractured and the body badly mashed and crushed.

A man's shoe found on the tender of a train that arrived at Chauncey from the south shortly before 9 o'clock caused the crew to make possible somebody had been run over. The next crew leaving Corning for the south was notified and a brakeman rode the front end of the engine in order to better scan the right-of-way. The body of young Tudor was discovered just at the north end of the tunnel.

The young man was a member of the Senior class of the Glouster High school and identification was made possible by a class ring he was wearing. About midnight the body was brought to the undertaking rooms of E. F. Carpenter on High street, the Perry county coroner giving permission for the body to be moved and instructing Dr. A. J. Crawford of this city to conduct the inquest.

While attending school, Raymond for the past two or three years had been doing the janitor work at the office of Dr. Crawford. He was in the office about 5 o'clock Thursday evening. Two northbound freight trains left this city —one at 5:35 and the other at 5:40 It is supposed that Raymond boarded one of these to ride to Corning and was either knocked or fell from the train while going through the Hatfield tunnel.

Raymond was 20 years of age and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tudor of this city. He took a prominent part in high school athletics and was a star on the football field, being one of the mainstays of the team.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church in this city Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and burial will be made in the cemetery at Hollister.

Joseph Uhl

FIND BODY OF ASYLUM INMATE IN THE HOCKING

Joseph Uhl, 67, Patient at Athens State Hospital, Wast Last Seen Fishing.

WAS FOUND BY BOYS

Discover Body Floating on Surface of Water Apparently Caught on a Snag.

Found floating in the Hocking river, the body of Joseph Uhl, 67, an inmate of the Athens state hospital and a former resident of Lancaster, was recovered at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It is believed that the man was drowned this morning.

Coroner L. W. Sanders pronounced the death due to drowning shortly after the body was recovered. Although reported to have been seen fishing Friday afternoon, Uhl is known to have left the hospital not earlier than Saturday morning.

Three boys, Alvin Mayfield, Francis Coffee and Gerald King were in a small boat on the river, when they noticed what they thought was a dog and a sack, floating on the surface of the water, apparently caught on a snag.

RECOVER BODY

The boys investigated, and found it to be the body of a man. They immediately rowed to the bank, and ran to the house of Herb Wilson, who lives on West Union street. Wilson called the M. H. Walburn undertaking establishment from where an ambulance was sent to the river bank. Wilson and Otes Pierce, an employe of the undertaking firm, brought the body to the shore.

The man was large, with sandy hair and mustache. The only clothing which he had on was a shirt and sox. On the bank was a hat and pair of shoes. No trousers were found. The clothing was marked with the name "Joe Uhl."

Fishing tackle was found with the clothing.

The man had been in the water for several hours. Two boys, Fred Radford and Paul Edgar, who saw the body, say that they saw the man yesterday afternoon fishing on the bank of the river near the point where he was found.

HOSPITAL INMATE

Believing that the man was a patient of the state hospital, the undertakers called the hospital authorities, who came and identified the body.

Uhl has been an inmate of the hospital since April 21, 1922. He was a blacksmith by trade. Born in Hocking county in 1858, he lived in that county his entire life before coming to the hospital.

J.W. VANCE, SR. DIES IN MISSOURI

VANCE, SICK IN BED, IS CAUGHT IN NIGHT BLAZE

Body Is Found on Davenport Bed, in Small Balcony at Rear of His Store.

Believed That Smoldering Cigaret Stub or Lighted Match Ignited Covers.

NELSONVILLE, April 23.—Trapped in a small balcony at the rear of his store on West Washington Street, which he occupied as a sleeping quarters, J. W. Vance, 58, Nelsonville jeweler, met a horrible death by suffocation and burning about 10:30 o'clock last night. The body was removed from the building about an hour later following the arrival of Coroner F. Jones, Athens. Attempts to reach the unfortunate man, who was believed to be in the balcony and in a weakened condition, immediately after discovery of the fire, proved unavailing. It is probable that death had resulted before the alarm was given.

The cause of the fire is undetermined, but it is believed that a smoldering cigaret stub or lighted match may have come in contact with the davenport bed on which the victim, apparently last night, was reclining.

W. O. Lancaster's drug store, which has been in charge of the store, states that he locked up and left the establishment between 9 and 10 o'clock. He said that Vance had retired for the night and remarked that he would see him in the morning. The fire alarm was sounded about an hour later. According to Lancaster, Vance has been ill since December and bedfast for several weeks. He was dressed yesterday but remained in the balcony, not venturing down the narrow stairway to the store.

ARE FORCED BACK

Acting Police Chief George Bateman and Fire Chief Dana Whitehead, being informed that Vance was trapped in the balcony, attempted to ascend to the platform at the rear as they arrived at the scene. The intense heat and the smoke-filled atmosphere drove them back.

Officer Bateman said that apparently the fire was raging around the bed, although the dense smoke made clear vision impossible. The bedding was completely destroyed and chairs and furnishings were charred and broken. Vance's body, seared and distorted, was in a sitting posture, the head resting against the back of the davenport.

Damage to the building, which is owned by Dr. J. McElroy, is comparatively small and is covered by insurance. The stock, too, will be slight. It is stated, the principal damage being to furnishings and fixtures from water.

Vance came to Nelsonville 10 or 12 years ago. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge here. Survivors include a son, Brent Harrell in the jewelry business. His parents formerly lived in Coshocton. His father resided here for a time prior to his death about two years ago.

Vance has one brother, [illegible] Vance, of St. Louis, Mo., who notified of the death last night, is expected here today. After arrival of Coroner Jones the body was removed to Stout's Mortuary. A post mortem was unnecessary in the opinion of the county coroner.

Vance, said to be a victim of excessive use of alcoholic beverages, had burned himself severely on former occasions while smoking in bed. It was state last night.

BODY OF VANCE IS TAKEN TO ST. LOUIS

Accidentally Burned' Given as the Cause of Death.

NELSONVILLE, April 25.—The body of J. W. Vance, Nelsonville jeweler, who lost his life in a fire at his store on West Washington Street last Monday night, has been removed to St. Louis, Mo., for burial. H. G. Vance, a brother, accompanied the body, leaving Nelsonville last night.

No new developments have arisen in the case and no criminal action is expected. It was stated last night. An exhaustive inquiry was conducted all day yesterday by Acting Police Chief George Bateman, Assistant State Fire Marshal W. H. McCormick and Coroner I. F. Jones. At the conclusion of the inquiry, the body was released for removal to St. Louis.

"Accidentally burned to death" was assigned as the cause given on death certificate, it is stated.

C. L. Stout, this city, will be appointed administrator of the estate today, it is expected. H. G. Vance made application for the appointment of the local man yesterday.

IN MEMORIAM—

Joseph Henry Verity, eldest son of Benjamin and Mary Jane Verity, was born in Nelsonville, November 5, 1856, and entered into rest April 14, 1929, at the age of 72 years, 5 months and 9 days. He spent his entire life in the city of his birth, and was ever interested in its progress and betterment.

He was united in marriage November 28, 1878 to Lucretia Hopkins, also of Nelsonville. To this union were born [illegible] ten children, all of whom survive; William and Mrs. Maggie Hooper of Athens; Mrs. Bertha Bowers, Mrs. Flora Davis, Mrs. Ella North, Mrs. Minnie Henry and Joe of Nelsonville; and Beth, Esther and Lucile, at home. There are also 13 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren, three sisters: Mrs. N. J. Collins, of New Marshfield; Mrs. A. J. Courtney and Miss Blanche Verity of The Plains. Two brothers: Benson Verity of Chauncey and Alva Verity of Fisher Station.

The deceased obeyed his Lord professedly, like in baptism, and has lived a consistent Christian life throughout the years. He was a charter member of the Berean Class, and attended the services when his health permitted.

During the last 40 years he was engaged in the grocery and meat business in his native city. Since the death of his estimable wife four years ago he has been effectively cared for by his daughters, who have endeavored in the utmost to add cheer and comfort to his declining years. Unassuming, kind-hearted and courteous, a loving father, a true friend and a good citizen.

Happy is he who has so lived that when his summons comes to join the innumerable caravan which moves to that mysterious realm whence no man returns, he may go not like the quarry slave scourged to his dungeon, but supported and soothed by an unfaltering faith, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

After leaving school he entered the employ of the Kanawha & Michigan railroad, becoming a locomotive engineer. After nine years of railroad service he was seriously injured in a wreck in 1904 at Rutland, in which he lost the use of his left arm.

Following his recovery, he was employed for a time in the railroad yards at Nelsonville and later was engaged in business at Gallipolis where he resided until 1917. In recent years he had been associated with his brother, E. R. Walker in the firm of Walker Brothers, operating a farm and dairy at Mohawkville.

The genial nature of Mr. Walker had always made him popular with his associates and he had the happy faculty of making and retaining friends wherever he went. News of his death will be heard with regret by many persons in this section of Ohio. He was a member of the first organized committee of employes of the Kanawha & Michigan railroad on March 1, 1899. A Mason of the Elks lodge at Gallipolis, he had retained his membership there. In this city he lived with his sister, Miss Mary E. Walker, and his aunt, Miss Emma Blackwood. His mother, Mrs. George B. Walker died at the family home less than two years ago.

Other members of the immediate family are: E. R. Walker, a brother, and the following sisters: Mrs. Scott Maxey, Mrs. Frank Lowry, Miss Mary Walker, and Mrs. R. C. Averill. All are residents of Athens save Mrs. Averill who resides in Pasadena, Calif., but has been in Athens for several weeks because of the condition of her brother.

Dec. 2, 1925

OH, HOW SAD IT IS—When the death angel calls and takes from our midst one of our loved ones—he that came in the early hours of the morning and took away one who was only in the morning of life.

Just as the world began to look larger, her ideals of life higher, her visions of the future clearer, the spirit of Marie Margaret Johnston Warner took its flight, leaving the friends gazing long, as it were, that they might catch one more glimpse of this loved one as she soared onward and upward beyond this earthly sphere. But when we looked upon that face gone from us now forevermore, the darkness parted with the thought that Marie was free from her suffering which she endured with the utmost patience. The smile never left her face however painful the suffering.

March 18, 1903, near Frost, Marie came to live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and though given but twenty-one years, eight months and eleven days she endeared herself to all friends and neighbors.

Marie was an obedient daughter, ambitious and industrious, sharing her part of the home duties, loving and kind to her parents, husband, brother, and grandmother and will be sadly missed as the years come and go. She received her education in the rural schools and one year of high school at Albany. She was an enthusiastic and energetic worker in the church and betterment of the community.

She was united in marriage to Dale Warner January 2, 1924, and to them one son, Maye, was born, who preceded her in death five weeks.

A young woman of twenty - one years, we wonder why she was taken so young and full of life and hope of future years. No, we do not understand.

BURNS FATAL TO YOUNG MAN NEAR ATHENS

William Watkins, 87, Dies After Laying Unconscious for 13 Hours; Mother Ill.

Was Heating Flat Rock When Oil Can Exploded Throwing Burning Oil on Body.

Thirteen hours after a coal-oil can exploded in his hands, William Watkins, 87, died at his home, two miles west of Athens a little after midnight Friday night as a result of the burns from the explosion. The burns were pronounced fatal yesterday morning by the attending physician. Little skin on Mr. Watkins' body had not been burned. The pain was so great that he lapsed intoe unconsciousness and died without regaining consciousness.

Services will be held from the home on the New Straitsville road, at 10 o'clock Monday morning and will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Daniel McGurk, while burial will be made at Clark's chapel.

POURED OIL ON FIRE

It was explained to the Messenger today by friends of the family that Mr. Watkins had attempted to heat a flat rock which was used by his mother for applying heat to her face to relieve pain. Mrs. Watkins had been ill for several weeks and had not been out of her room for some time. When Mr. Watkins returned from town Saturday morning his mother asked him to heat the rock, and thinking that he could heat it much more quickly outside than on the oil stove, he took the rock in the yard and placed a fire about it. In order to give the fire a better start he poured coal oil on it from a can. The can exploded while in his hands, throwing oil over his entire body. The explosion was heard by his mother and by neighboring farmers. Mrs. Watkins thought she heard her son scream after the explosion and called: "Will, were you in that." Receiving no response, she rushed out to the yard and saw her son enveloped in flames. He was running toward the house where he intended to get a blanket to wrap himself in. Mrs. Watkins got an old overcoat and threw it over him, but it was too late for the flames had burned the skin over his entire body.

WAS O. U. STUDENT

Mr. Watkins graduated from the Athens high school and attended Ohio university where he all but finished a course in the College of Education. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He was superintendent of the Zaleski high school for one year and entered the World war as a volunteer when America entered. He served overseas for many months. When he returned he was broken in health and went west for recovery. He had returned this spring. He and his mother made their home in Athens for a while and as soon as their farm was vacated last April, moved to the farm where they had intended to make their home from then on.

He leaves only his mother and one sister, Mrs. Mary E. Linfield, Coolville, Ia. His father, Jesse Watkins died several years ago as did also another sister, Miss Nettie E. Watkins. Mrs. Watkins is prominent in farm club work and has been active in progressive farming. Mr. Watkins was known by his many friends throughout this community for his amiableness and kindness.

"Buster" Weed, Aged 6, Drowns in River When Tragedy Stalks Party

Boy Not Missed for Time, Though Swimming With Others in Hocking River; Diver Discovers Body; Use Pulmotor.

NELSONVILLE, July 12.—(Staff Special.)—After not having been missed for some time though he was swimming with a number of older persons, Elmer "Buster" Weed, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weed, of Haydenville, was found drowned in the Hocking River near Haydenville last night about 7:30 o'clock.

The tragedy occurred in a spot much frequented by Haydenville bathers. The death of the boy was not discovered until a diver struck the body, and then pulled the drowned child from the water. Though another diver had struck the body previously, no notice had been given the incident since it was thought that it was only one of the numerous bathers swimming underwater.

Dr. C. F. Schenk, of Logan, was called, and the boy was pronounced dead. A pulmotor, however, was brought from Nelsonville, and resuscitators worked for two hours trying to restore life to the child. A Nelsonville doctor was also called, but all efforts to bring life to the boy were fruitless.

Elmer Weed was the youngest child in a large family. His father is a foreman in the plant of the National Fireproofing Company at Haydenville.

ROLLAND—Son of Rolla and Lennie White, was born in Nelsonville, O., May 27, 1908. For 19 years, 10 months, and 5 days he brought sunshine and gladness to his home and friends, departing for his heavenly home April 2, 1928. Rolland never saw very many well days in his life but his illness seemed to bring out more fully the beauty of his character. Although he suffered greatly he was always patient, with a cheerful word and sweet smile for all, forgetful of self and always planning for the happiness of others. During his long illness everything that loving hands and medical skill could do was done to relieve his suffering and prolong his life, but the good Shepherd knew he was weary of suffering and called him above, there to meet his mother who preceded him just nine months to that heavenly home. He leaves his father, one sister and many friends to mourn their loss.

In Memoriam

LYDIA LOUISA,—daughter of William and Phoebe Ann Dyke, was born September 23, 1842 in Meigs county, Ohio, and died at Columbus, Ohio, April 9, 1925, aged 82 years, 6 months and 16 days.

She was converted at the early age of nine years and remained faithful to her convictions until the end.

On October 20, 1861, she was united in marriage with C. A. Wilcox of Dallia County, Ohio, who was claimed by death on August 16, 1921.

To the union were born eight children al of whom survive. She is also survived by 16 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. The children are: Mrs. Alberta Christie of West Mansfield, Ohio; Charles H. Wilcox of Alvada, Ohio; Mrs. Anna Cross of Albany, Ohio; Mrs. Vina Roberts of Albany; Mrs. Louie Wood of Carpenter; Wm. C. Wilcox of Marion; Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan, Columbus; John L. Wilcox of Vanlue, Ohio.

This apparent history may be recognized of most who have lived and died, yet were her services to her family, to her neighbors and to her friends to be recorded, volumes would be the result.

She was a kind and loving wife, faithfully loving, helping, and caring for her husband until he reached the end of life's span.

Her devotion to her chosen was general.

When sickness came to them and death seemed hovering near, there at the bedside would she be found—fighting back Grim Reaper and her kindness may be noted by the fact that all are here to mourn their irreparable loss.

She early learned that "to give is better than to receive", and the number of her friends is ample proof that those people who get the most out of life are the ones who put the most in it.

While she has joined the silent majority the memory of her sterling character still lives on and will have influence upon generations yet unborn.

Jennie Willeke
Taylor Ridge

The sudden death of Mrs. P. H. Willike of this place, which occurred at the close of the Sunday services at the church here, came as a shock to everyone and has cast a gloom over the entire community.

Mrs. Willike was a staunch mem of tre Crurch of Christ here, active in church work and having the interest of the community at heart. As pianist she served well and faithfully to the last, as death came while she was playing the closing hymn, "It Pays to Serve Jesus Every Day." Apoplexy was the direct cause of her death.

Jan. 6,1926

CHAUNCEY, Jan. 7.—More than 250 persons were unable to gain entrance to the Taylor Ridge Christian church, Wednesday afternoon, where the funeral services of Mrs. P. H. Willeke ware held.

Mrs. Willeke died suddenly in the Taylor Ridge church, Sunday afternoon, while she was presiding at the piano, playing the last verse of the invitation song following the sermon by Rev. Mr. Courtney. Mrs. Willeke was stricken with apoplexy, and expired a few minutes after she fell from the piano stool.

The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Courtney of Chauncey, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Frampton of the Glouster Christian church. The Chauncey quartet, composed of Miss Hazel Lahugh, Mrs. Charles Ogg and Charles Bradfield, with Miss Lucille Bradfield at the piano, sang three selections, and concluded by singing, "It Pays To Serve Jesus," which song Mrs. Willeke was playing when she expired.

Burial was made in the Taylor Ridge cemetery in charge of Undertaker Wallace, where several hundred people had gathered for the last rites. The floral offerings were many, and were carried by the young women, members of Mrs. Willeke's Sunday school class. Members of the Women's class served as pall bearers.

Jan. 7, 1926

JENNIE BLANCHE—Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Pierbaugh, was born at Green's Run November 6th, 1876. On Sunday, January 3rd, 1926, while playing the last verse of the invitation hymn in the Taylor Ridge church she was taken from us so unexpectedly, passing almost instantly from her very active life into the care and keeping of Him who doeth all things well. Aged 49 years, 1 month and 28 days.

On July 19th, 1900, she was united in marriage to P. H. Willeke. To this union nine children were born; seven sons and two daughters.

For twenty-two years the family have made their home at Taylor Ridge where Mrs. Willeke served long and well in expressing a mother's kindly affection for her family, assisting in the store, and always doing her part in the church and community work.

For 26 years she had been a member of the Church of Christ. Under the ministry of Brother Hunter in the Trimble church she was obedient to the call of her Lord as she was buried with Him in baptism in 1900. Later her membership was transferred to the Taylor's Ridge church where she was serving in His cause when the end came.

A tribute in words to her life would be only a feeble attempt to express that which she has better spoken in her quiet way of living for others.

Two sons, Ralph and Guy, preceded her in death in infancy, and her mother was taken on November 1st, 1926.

There are left to mourn their loss her husband and faithful coworker who with her has labored in season and out of season to make possible the true home life and hospitality that has been enjoyed by such a wide circle of friends; the children, Henry and Vera of Lancaster, Harvey, Alvest, Mrs. Mexford and Phyllis, all at home; her father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pierbaugh of Bear Creek; two brothers, Ora Pierbaugh of Ashland, Ohio, W. H. Pierbaugh of Green's Run; and two sisters, Mrs. E. V. Chalfant and Mrs. A. M. Bertha Williams

WIFE OF FARMER IS BURNED TO DEATH NEAR NEW ENGLAND

Her clothes catching on fire while she was papering a wall next to a red hot stove, Mrs. None Williams, 36, five miles north of Guysville near New England, was fatally burned at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Although she protected her face from the flames, her body was so badly burned that she was dead by 6 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Williams began papering the walls of her kitchen shortly after her husband left for the fields after the noon meal. She had just placed a bundle of loose papers in the stove which got the stove red hot. While she was papering the wall in back of the cook stove, which was only twenty inches from the wall, her clothing, which came into contact with the hot metal, caught fire.

She ran into the bedroom and wrapped a blanket about her, ran out into the yard and called for her husband. Mr. Williams heard his wife's cries and rushed to her aid. Her clothing was still on fire when he got to her side. Her body was so badly burned and she was in such pain that she was carried into the house.

Dr. Paul R. McLaughlin, Guysville, was called, but the burns proved fatal and by 6 o'clock, four hours after her clothes caught fire, she was dead.

Mrs. Williams leaves two small children besides her husband. She was the daughter of M. L. Adams, her maiden name having been Bertha Adams. The Williams family is well known throughout the community and highly respected. The tragedy came as a shock to the entire neighborhood.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church at New Boston and burial will be made nearby.

MEMORIAM

Orpha Jewell Williams, son of Maude and Mary Williams, was born June 16, 1913, and died July 2, 1927, aged one year and fourteen days.

This little babe came into the home like a bright sunbeam and just as it was growing brighter and more interesting each day, the shadows fell and [illegible] went out.

We know not what his little mission was on earth, but we know that it must have been finished for an unerring voice said "come" and quietly, silently, he answered the call and was gone.

The going of this little one has left a vacant place in our hearts and home, but sweet are the memories that linger with us as we think of his happy smile and bright attractive ways.

God are our hearts today but when we remember that Jesus said "suffer little children, to come unto me," we know in our own hearts that he is in safe keeping and we know that this same Jesus will comfort the aching hearts that mourn. Those little chubby baby hands will always be beckoning to the loved ones to follow him to a brighter and a better land where sorrow does not come.

He leaves his father, mother, one sister, Gladys, and two brothers, John Harding and Sanford Richard, besides a host of other relatives.

This lovely bud so young and fair called home by early doom, just came to show how sweet a flower in paradise could bloom.

Derthick Mother Arrested After Child Is Burned

Two-Year Old Child Left by Stove Fatally Burned Last Sunday.

FATHER IS DEAD

A mother is in the Athens county jail today on the charge of contributing to the dependency of her four children.

Her two-year-old child is dead, a victim of circumstances leading officials to an investigation not yet concluded.

The mother is Mrs. Fred Wilson, Derthick, a widow for nearly a year. Her child died yesterday while the county nurse, Miss Bessie Harper, Glouster, was making a desperate attempt to have the child treated in a Columbus hospital for burns which it received last Sunday. It was this that brought officers to her home and effected the mother's arrest.

STOVE OVER-HEATED

Mrs. Wilson told officials that the child's burns were brought about by an over-heated stove. She stated that she went to visit a neighbor Sunday afternoon leaving at home a two-months'-old girl, a two-year old girl, and a four-year-old boy. She left the two-year-old child whose condition was thought to be abnormal because it had not yet learned to walk or talk, in a high chair about eighteen inches from the stove, so that it would be warm. While at her neighbors, she thought of the fact that she had left open the draft to the stove and so rushed back to her home where her little boy excitedly exclaimed:

"Mamma, sister's too hot."

The child had severe burns about the face, the top of the head, the right hand and about the back of the shoulders.

GIVEN ATTENTION

When the child's condition was brought to the attention of the county nurse, medical attention was given the child by physicians.

Prosecuting Attorney R. D. Williams was asked Saturday night whether more serious charges than filed by the Probate court, would be filed against the mother, to which he replied that he did not think so unless there were more serious developments.

The father of the family died last year at the Gallipolis hospital, an epileptic. Since then a child was born. The mother has been depending upon the charity of the community ever since her husband's condition was such as to prevent him providing adequately for the family. The oldest boy, about 7 years old, has been staying with his grand-parents, and the mother has been trying to care for the four small children.

Dec. 6, 1928

The Reaper Death has again entered our midst and taken from us, one who has walked in our midst, an example of neighborly kindness and christian living.

Clarence A. Wingett, son of De Camp and Jane Wingett, was born March 14, 1856, died December 4, 1928, aged 72 years, 8 months, 20 days. He was of a family of seven children. All but two brothers, Edward, of Columbus, and Angus, of Lee Township, have preceded him in death. He was born in Wisconsin, coming to Athens County while yet a small child. His life since then has been lived in this community.

He was united in marriage to Bertha Barker, November 16, 1881. To this union were born 11 children, Faye, Guy, Orville, Emmett, Ruth, Marie, Amanda, Rex and Roe, all of whom with the good wife survive him. Two children died in infancy. The home to which these children were born, was ever made happy by the love and guidance of a father, who was both a friend and a companion.

The nine grandchildren, who are all living, have always been a joy to him, and they will long remember the happy times spent with him at the old homestead. His benevolent kindly spirit which characterized his relations with his own loved ones has far over-reached the bonds of family relationship, and has made for him a host of friends. He united with Alexander Presbyterian Church, while yet a young man. He was faithful in his attendance at the church of his choice, and gave freely of his means for its support. The services performed by him in his pastorates with this body and the ideal life which he lived will maintain for him a loving remembrance in the hearts of his fellow-workers. He was a charter member of the Albany Grange, and when it was possible he was always present at its stated meetings and carried into all his life its principles of faith, hope, charity and fidelity.

When the summons came, surrounded by his children and grandchildren, excepting Orville and family, he passed quietly away to that rest which awaits all God's children.

In Memoriam 2

LESLIE DOW WINNER—Only son of Isaac P. and Harriet Winner, born in Buchtel, Ohio, June 28, 1883, and met with sudden death on Tuesday, August 18, 1925, at the age of 42 years, 1 month and 21 days. On July 27, 1909 he was married to Hattie Davis who has so devotedly and patiently shared her life with him.

Six children came to gladden their home, Esther, Theodore, Theresa, Lee, Victor, Naomi and Tommy, all at home. Besides these he leaves his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac F Winner of Junction City, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. John White of Mt. Carmel and Mrs. Charles Hingman of Junction City, Ohio; and other relatives and a large circle of friends.

It can be truly said that he was a husband devoted to his wife, a parent in love with his children, and an excellent neighbor. In time of great emergency he always rendered good service for the welfare of his neighbors and the entire community in which he lived. His had great sympathy for the sick and always responded promptly to help them.

He was so very ambitious that there was no work too hrad for him to do, if he could help his neighbor in any way. And met his death bravely at his post helping his fellow man.

He had many traits of character among which were honesty, kindness and untiring energy. He was highly esteemed and will be sadly missed.

Almost his last words which his lips framed were for his Blessed Savior, "Jesus, Jesus."

Gone but not forgotten.

AMESVILLE, Jan. 18.—(Staff Special)—Cause of the death of Fred Wolfe, 35, who was found dead in the barn near his home by a younger brother shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon, had not been determined at 2 o'clock. Wolfe, who had been ill with influenza for the last week, had gone out to do his chores early this morning, and had not been seen by other members his family until his body was found in the barn by his younger brother, Ted.

DROP THEORY OF FOUL PLAY

AMESVILLE, Jan. 26.—(Staff Special)—Belief that there had been foul play in connection with the death of Fred Wolfe, 34, found dead in the barn near his home here January 18, was dismissed following a thorough investigation here the latter part of the week, relatives said late Saturday afternoon. They had announced Friday that affidavits might be filed out after a complete investigation by the coroner of Athens County, L. F. Jones, of Athens, the matter was dropped, it was reported here. Though it was reported at first that the body might be exhumed, relatives decided against this action, it was reported this afternoon. Members of the family questioned during the investigation proved that Wolfe had been melancholy following a week's illness with influenza, it was explained.

Wolfe, a World War veteran, went to the barn near his home near the Hooper Ridge Church on the morning of January 18 to do his chores. When he was not seen for several hours his younger brother, Ted, went into the cow barn and found him shot in the body four times. The coroner was called and gave a verdict of suicide.

The man lived on the farm with his father, Charles, and two brothers, Ted and Harlan. Jennie Wolfe

MRS. JENNIE WOLFE DIES AT HOME HERE THURSDAY EVENING

Widow of Francis Wolfe Succumbs to Illness.

Mrs. Jennie Wolfe, aged 83, widow of Francis S. Wolfe, died at her home on North Lancaster Street at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Death followed an illness of more than ten years and was the result of an injury Mrs. Wolfe received to her shoulder which led to complications incident to her advanced age.

Born in Noble County, Ohio January 2, 1846, Mrs. Wolfe was the daughter of Samuel R. and Margaret Hill White. The family moved to what was then Star Mill, Meigs County.

When the family moved to Ross County, Mrs. Wolfe continued to teach school as she had been doing in Meigs County. She attended Franklin College in Albany which was later known as the Atwood Institute. She was married August 23, 1868 while the family was residing in Ross County.

Two daughters are living, Mrs. Belle Wilson, of Elkins, W. Va., and Mrs. Nora Atkinson, of Athens. Four grandchildren are also left. They are Frank, Curtis and Merritt Wilson, and Merrill R. Atkinson.

After her marriage, Mrs. Wolfe resided on a farm near Zaleski until April 1909 when the family moved to Athens and purchased the White home, where the members lived for several years. Mr. Wolfe died in August 1925.

Mrs. Wolfe united with the Methodist Episcopal Church near her home in Vinton County in her early life. Her home had always been a refuge for orphans and those in need, and never in her long life had her home been without some one from outside of the family, in need of a home, members of the family recalled today.

Mrs. Wolfe was one of a family of seven children, only one of whom is now living, Mrs. Margaret Taylor, of Columbus. Of pioneer ancestry, Mrs Wolfe witnessed the development of Southeastern Ohio from a virtual wilderness to a busy section of the country, and like many others has had no small share in this development as a result of her ability and industry.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Burial will be in the Concord Cemetery. Friends may call at the home at any time.

Josephine Wolfe

Josephine Wolfe, Invalid for Five Years From Bullet Wound Plans for Her Death As for Life

Alma Josephine Wolfe, 21, who spent the last five years in bed or in a wheel chair, died at 12:15 o'clock Friday morning at her home at 59 North Lancaster Street, Athens. Funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Haydenville Church, and burial will be made in the Wolfe Cemetery at Haydenville.

It was on August 17, 1924, that Josephine with her sister, Beulah, was playing on the railroad tracks at Lathrop when she was struck by a bullet fired in fun by a Negro, who was with a group of men at a refreshment stand nearby. Josephine never walked after that day.

The bullet lodged in the back, and the girl was paralyzed from the hips down. There were weeks spent in a hospital, months of suffering, dozens of visits by physicians, but Josephine was never to be more than a helpless invalid.

Mr. Wolfe had died a few months before the accident, and Mrs. Wolfe was left with the invalid girl, two other daughters and a son. The family moved to Athens a year after Josephine had been shot. C. N. France, who had worked with Mr. Wolfe and who had helped to care for the girl the day of the accident, also had moved to Athens and he, with other Athens residents, has been of much assistance to the girl and the family.

For four years the Athens Odd Fellows' Lodge held carnivals at the lodge rooms or the Armory, with all the profits turned over to the Wolfe family. These were superintended by Mr. France, D. Scott Allen and I. P. Tucker.

Friends of Josephine in Athens were numbered by the hundreds, and she was frequently seen on Court Street, riding in the electric wheel chair purchased for her by Athens people.

Last December the girl suffered an attack of influenza and she was much weaker the remaining months of her life. Three weeks ago she realized that she was not to live long—and she made plans for her death as carefully as for her life.

May, her younger sister, was to have her wrist watch and ring—for May always loved jewelry. Other possessions were to go to other members of the family.

Surviving are the mother, Mrs. Amelia Wolfe; three sisters, Mrs. Beulah Bobo, of Athens, and May and Florence, at home, and a brother, Gee Wolfe, of Chandlersville.

Had Been in Poor Health for Four or Five Years.

WAS HERO IN FLOOD

Sudden death of Hal M. Woods, well-known Athens salesman, occurred at 9 o'clock last night at Charleston, West Virginia, according to word received by relatives here this morning.

Mr. Woods, who was 53 years old, had been in poor health for four or five years, but his ill health has not prevented him from working as a salesman for the Phoenix Oil company of Cleveland.

He had suffered from heart attacks and his death at Charleston is believed to have resulted from that cause. The body is expected to arrive in Athens at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Mr. Woods will be long remembered for his heroism in the disastrous Athens flood of 1907, when he with Ray Vincent, rescued 23 persons from marooned houses, caught in the midst of the torrent of water.

Other houses were swept away by the flood, and the one lone house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell remained with the twenty-two persons helpless against the flood. Mr. Woods and Mr. Vincent took turns in launching a small boat far up the stream, guiding it down the treacherous waters to the house, then carrying the occupants, one or two at a time, to safety on the grounds of the Athens State hospital. For their heroism both Mr. Woods and Mr. Vincent were given the Carnegie award, and each were given $1,000.

Mr. Woods was born on Wheeling Island at Wheeling, W. Va. He spent most of his boyhood days at Martin's Ferry. He later moved from Martin's Ferry to Wellsburg, W. Va., before moving to Ohio and to Athens.

He was left an orphan early in life and attained his position in life largely through his own efforts. He leaves his wife, and two daughters, Mrs. Angelia Woods Sharp, and Mallona, an Ohio university student. He also has one sister, Mrs. Samuel Jacobs, who lives at Wellsburg. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

SECTION MAN DIES UNDER WHEELS OF TRUCK NEAR ALBANY

Albert Wright, 52, of Carpenter, Is Crushed to Death.

ALBANY, O., Jan. 10.—On Friday about noon the truck on which section men were riding on the New York Central railway near Carpenter Station, jumped the track, inflicting fatal injuries to Albert Wright who died three hours later.

Mr. Wright and his family lived on a farm near to that of Charlie Robe, having come here about three years ago from West Virginia. His family consists of seven children, three of whom reside in West Virginia. He was 52 years old.

The body was taken to the Undertaking establishment of J. W. Coe at Albany, from whence it will be taken to Charleston, W. Va., by a son who will arrive Sunday to accompany it there for burial.

Mr. Wright was just helping out for a few days as a section worker. Others on the car sustained a broken collar bone and sprained wrists. Percy Rupe, was the most seriously injured among the other workmen on the truck.

Various differ as the cause of the death of Wright. One version is that the truck on which he was riding left the track and he was killed under its wheels when thrown off, another is that a second motor car, which was following that towing the truck, struck Wright while he laid on the ground.

IN MEMORIAM

When God says "Come," all must heed and each in his turn must tread silently down the dark valley until he reaches the Land Beyond, where suffering and tears are changed to rest and joy. So it is with Clara Loretta Shirley, daughter of Otis and Elizabeth Shirley, who was born October 10, 1902 at Stewart. She died in Detroit, Mich., February 29, 1928 at the age of 25 years, 4 months and 19 days. On November 10, 1919 she was married to Ralph Wright of Canaanville. To this marriage was born one son, Harry Shirley.

One year previous to her death she contracted a dread disease which all medical aid and loving care could not heal, so in the dusk of the evening she passed through that valley to the Great Beyond.

At an early age she was converted and baptized and through life she tried to adhere closely to her early conviction.

She leaves her husband and son, father and mother, two sisters, Ethel and Marietta of Columbus, and one brother, Charles, at home. She leaves also a host of other relatives and friends. In our grief we can only say "Thy will God's way," and the following lines are significant of her passing:

Sylvia Emerick, eldest daughter of Charles and Caroline Maffin, was born in Nelsonville, August 26, 1878, and departed this life August 3, 1929, aged 50 years, 11 months and six days.

She was united in marriage with Harry Young November 26, 1904. To this union one daughter, Lillian, was born, who with the husband is left after the death of a loving wife and mother.

At the early age of 14, she united with the Christian Church, and has always been a devoted and faithful worker, having been the Supt. of the Primary Department of the Sunday School for a period of 10 years. Recently she resigned as Superintendent and became a member of the Loyal Women's Class. She was also a member of the Women's Christian Missionary Society.

It is due in her memory to say that as a Christian she ever lived consistent to her profession, wherever duty called she successfully performed it. As a companion she was loving and kind, and possessed everything to make home happy. As a mother she was affectionate, and was deserving of the love of every one, and those that knew her most loved her most. Her last hours were filled with thoughts of her loved ones and their welfare.

But she is no more among us. All was done for her that could be done, but the master had a nobler work for her to do.

Her father, one brother and one sister preceded her in death. She leaves to mourn her loss, husband, one daughter, mother, three sisters and three brothers, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Sunset and Evening Star,
And one clear call for me.
And may there be no moaning at the bar

In Memoriam.

The Reaper has colored our midst [illegible] when from us one respected by all, [illegible] Zimmerman was born July 26, [illegible] in Pike County. His father, Rev. [illegible] Zimmerman and mother, Elizabeth, taught him to love and cherish the higher things of life. At an early age, he gave his heart to his heavenly Father and united with the United Brethren church of which his Father was pastor. His life has been devoted to his church and his God and the influence has been always for truth and right.

March 12, 1874, he was united in marriage to Miss Leona Gibbs. Their 54 years of life together has been a blessing to all who knew them. Their home was a haven of rest where weary travelers could not help but feel the quiet working of the Spirit of Love and Christ in these saints of God.

To this union were born ten children, two of whom have gone on before to welcome their father to the heavenly home awaiting him. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn their loss four sons and four daughters, Henry, of Kent, Robert, of Carbondale, Raymond and Edwin, Mrs. Carrie Jones and Mrs. William Rosser who live near their parents, Mrs. Marion Johnson, of Hebbardsville, and Mrs. Joseph Anderson of Ashland, Virginia. 23 grandchildren, 5 great grandchildren, two brothers, Hamby, of Wellston, Abraham, of Nebraska, and one sister Mrs. Alice Bone of Nebraska, and a host of friends and neighbors who respected and admired him for his true worth. His quiet presence was a sting of reminder to the wrong doer, a source of strength to the right. And while that bodily presence will be realized no more, the influence of a life lived with God will be with all who have known him.

James Zorn Shoots Self in Forehead in Bed in Which He Had Been Suffering for the Last Two Weeks.

Despondent because he was in ill health, James Zorn, 49, The Plains, killed himself in his bed in which he had been suffering for the last two weeks.

He shot himself through the forehead with a small caliber revolver. Death was instant. Dr. John Sprague, Athens, was called to the home about 9:30 o'clock and when he arrived there the revolver was clutched in the dead man's right hand. It is said he lived several minutes after the shooting.

Troubled with a kidney disease for a period of several years, Mr. Zorn was taken to bed about two weeks ago. He became impatient when his wife called a physician yesterday, though his condition was alarming.

He was seen out of bed yesterday against orders of his physician and advice of his wife, and it is thought then that he got the revolver from a dresser drawer.

Mr. Zorn has been a miner for the greater part of his life, but because of ill health had to give up that occupation. He worked at the Grayson Manufacturing company in Athens last summer. He had lived in The Plains eight years.

He leaves his wife and several step-children, and also a sister, Mrs. Edith Moore, The Plains.

CIRCLE HILL MAN DIES

Charles Bryan, 22, Is Killed in Mishap Near Enterprise Early Saturday Morning. Fog, Curve, and Concrete Bridge Are Circumstances That Result in Fatal Wreck.

LOGAN, Aug. 17. — A sharp curve, fog and a concrete bridge were the combined circumstances that resulted in a fatal accident one mile north of Enterprise on the Logan-Lancaster highway at 12:45 o'clock Saturday morning. One man was killed and two other persons were injured.

Charles Bryan, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryan of Circle Hill, Athens County, suffered a crushed skull from which he is believed to have died instantly, while Charles Powers, 95 Hayden Avenue, Columbus and Mrs. Elisabeth Sheets, Lancaster, were injured. Arthur Kohler, Merrimac Street, Columbus escaped unhurt.

The injured were brought to the Cherrington Hospital where their injuries were attended. Mrs. Sheets remains in the hospital while Powers, who was driving the car, was held in the Hocking County Jail over night for questioning after which he was released Saturday morning.

According to the story told officers by Powers, the trio of young men left Columbus about 10 o'clock Friday night. They stopped in Lancaster where they were joined by Mrs. Sheets, who was sitting in the front seat between Powers and Bryan, Kohler was lying in the rear seat and was asleep when the crash occurred.

IT WAS FOGGY

"I didn't see the curve until I was on it," the driver stated.

He was suffering from nervous shock and from cuts and bruises about the face, hand and legs while being questioned by Traffic Officer Joe Farbeann and Coroner J. P. Miller.

"There was fog. I couldn't make the curve and hit the bridge. Everything went black, and that is all I remembered," continued the driver.

Traffic Officer Farbeann said the rear end of the machine evidently had skidded and struck the bridge first. Bryan was thrown from the machine and was lying with his feet on the running board and his head on the ground when the officer reached the scene, he said.

Mr. L. Ebert and his sisters, Mrs. Phil A. Henderson and Miss Florance Ebert, who were returning from a week's vacation trip to Canada were the first to reach the scene. They saw Powers and Mrs. Sheets standing beside the highway as they approached. After viewing the wreck, Mrs. Henderson notified Officer Farbeann, who went to the scene to investigate. He called Coroner Miller and a local ambulance. Granville Berlin, of this city, who was passing, stopped and brought the two injured persons to the hospital.

Mrs. Sheets suffered cuts about the face, shoulders, arms and legs, but is not seriously injured according to hospital physicians. Powers had his injuries attended and was then taken to the jail for the rest of the night. Investigating officers stated there was no evidence of liquor about the car or its occupants.

Bryan had been working in Columbus for the last several months, according to a statement made to the officers by Powers. He was reported at 838 East Main Street, he said. After the accident Kohler disappeared, but came to the office of Sheriff W. R. Lloyd Saturday morning to report. He told the officers that he had left the scene in search of the other two persons, who had been brought to the hospital, while he was attempting to find a telephone.

Officers experienced some difficulty in locating relatives of Bryan. They called Nelsonville, Lancaster and Columbus police during their efforts to make the location. They finally learned the parents' identity from Pearl Bryan, who was brought to the county jail Friday afternoon by Officer Farbeann from his home in Dorr Run.

Parents were notified of the fatal accident by Chief of Police Bishop Bateman of Nelsonville who was called by the local officers.

The body was removed from a local mortuary Saturday morning by an Athens undertaker. Funeral arrangements were not made known here.

UNIDENTIFIED DEATHS

Unknown Boy

BODY OF YOUTH LIES IN MORGUE

authorities and police were hoping that some time during the day persons might come forward who could identify the youth whose body has lain in the county morgue since Friday, the victim of a brutal murder.

Identified once Saturday and twice yesterday only in each instance to have the identification overturned by the discovery of the real person involved, authorities admitted they were completely baffled in their efforts to establish the identity of the victim or his slayers or even the place where the crime was committed.

The body of the youth was found Friday morning along a road in Rocky river, a suburb. He had been beaten and then shot through the head.

BODY OF NEWBORN INFANT FOUND IN SACK ALONG ROAD

Officials Investigate the Cause of Death of Baby Found at Sugar Creek.

The body of a newly-born girl baby, perfectly developed, was found in a flour sack lying beside the road, near the Daines' Filling Station at Sugar Creek, about 6 o'clock Friday night. A call was received at the office of Sheriff William Williams from two boys who had discovered the contents of the sack, Deputy Sheriff Wayne Wingett investigated and found the body of the dead infant.

Coroner F. L. Jones was summoned by Deputy Sheriff Wingett, and the body brought to Athens. Bruises found on the body supported a theory that the baby had been thrown from a passing automobile. Dr. V. O. Danford, who made the examination, said that he believed the baby had been born alive, within a short time before the body was found and that death had resulted from exposure.

The flour sack in which the body was found was one purchased from a Kroger store, but officials of the local Kroger stores declared it was impossible to determine from which of the many stores in the Kroger chain, the sack had originally been issued. A copy of The Athens Messenger, bearing the date February 22, and cloths resembling barber towels were the only other evidence found by officers.

No physicians had attended the birth, physicians who examined the body declared.

The sheriffs of Hocking and Fairfield counties have been notified by local officers, as have the chiefs of police in Nelsonville and Parkersburg.

The body of the infant was taken to Jagers' undertaking establishment, pending further investigation by county officers.

Body of Baby Girl Is Buried Tuesday

Th body of the newly-born baby girl, found abandoned beside the highway near Sugar Creek, was buried Tuesday morning in the West State Street Cemetery. The service was conducted from the Jager's funeral parlors.

No clues or information as to the identity of the persons involved or the circumstances attending the birth of the baby have been learned by county officers. The body of the infant was discovered Friday night in a flour sack near the Daines filling station, of Sugar Creek, by two boys, who notified the office of the sheriff. Deputy Wayne Wingett investigated the report, found the body, and summoned Coroner L. F. Jones.

The body was brought to Athens and examined by Dr. V. O. Danford, who said that the baby had been born alive, without the services of a physician. It was believed that the baby died from exposure following its abandonment.

DEAD MAN MAY BE RESIDENT OF ATHENS

OFFICERS BELIEVE

Description of Body and Clothing Sent to This City.

An unidentified man, thought by New Martinsville, West Virginia, police to be from near Athens, was found dead in a hotel in Martinsville Friday night. The man, who was seen driving a span of mules Thursday afternoon, told residents that he was taking them to Woodland, West Virginia, to deliver some articles.

Friday night hotel managers found him in his room unconscious, and he died soon after. A book in the man's pocket had the name J. F. Ruse, written upon it, but police do not think that is his name. The letter "D" was on the man's belt buckle.

The body, which is being kept by W. E. Wharton, Martinsville, is described as being five feet nine inches tall, and weighing 165 pounds. He wore dark trousers with a white trips, dark vest, gray sweater, light cap, and an army overcoat which had no buttons on it. He had one gold tooth near the front of his mouth, had a scar on his left cheek.

New Martinsville police have asked Herb Farmer, Athens chief of police, to help them establish the identity of the man.

SPOONFUL OF BRAINS MAY BE CLUE TO MURDER MYSTERY

GRUESOME FIND WAS MADE BY RAILROAD MEN NEAR REDTOWN

Coroner Sanders and Sheriff McKinley Are Attempting to Clear Up Mystery.

NO FOOTPRINTS

Examination Reveals That a Heavy Body Had Been Lying on the Ground.

A tablespoonful of brains, perhaps human, perhaps those of an animal, and the muddy, swollen waters of Sunday Creek near Doty bridge near Redtown, are hiding what Coroner L. W. Sanders and Sheriff P. H. McKinley believe may be the story of a murder.

As the K. & M. labor train wound its way from Corning yesterday morning two brakemen named Bayliss and Welsh saw a pool of blood by the fence about seventy-five yards from the bridge.

Examination disclosed that a heavy body, apparently a man, had lain on the ground and died from a shotgun wound in the head. A few particles of brain tissue and a single long black hair was found and twelve yards away a twelve gauge shotgun shell.

Leading to the bridge was a thin trail of blood smears on the ties and the cinders of the right away and in the middle of the bridge over the creek the trail suddenly ceased. The body whether that of a murdered man or a dog had been dumped in the waters. The blood stains seem to have been but a few hours old.

NO FOOTPRINTS.

No footprints were found. The cinders were beaten down too well.

The creek has not been dragged because the water is high and muddy and the task would be difficult but the body if it is there will neither float nor roll far. Sunday Creek is too filled with rubbish and obstructions.

Late yesterday Sheriff McKinley returned to Athens with the tablespoonful of brains and is to have it examined today. Doctors say that unless there is blood an examination may not tell whether a man met his death from ambush or while fleeing or whether some one just executed a dog. It is hard, say the officers, to understand why one would carry a dog's carcass so far to destroy it. Also there is too much blood and the slight depression made by the body is too large for a dog's.

No one has been reported missing but it is a hard and calloused district, says McKinley and people there are close mouthed about such things as killings. There have been many of them there.

When the waters of the creek go down, the mystery, if it is there will a mystery, will be solved but meanwhile every effort is being made to determine whether the particles of brain tissue once controlled the life of a human being or belonged to an animal.

TWO MEMBERS OF FAMILY DIE

Rural Home in Troy Township Sorely Stricken by Illness.

Two children have died and three other members of the family are ill at a farm below Hockingport where the Athens county public health nurses were called yesterday.

The family of grandparents, parents, and four children live in an isolated section of the county, and when the two older children and mother were taken ill last week a Coolville physician was called to their home. His diagnosis of the illness was summer influenza.

The two younger children in the family do not seem to be affected with the illness from which the two older ones have died. The mother is recovering rapidly and the grandparents who were slightly ill with the same symptoms are almost recovered, the nurses declared.

Woman's Condition Serious; Shot Self When Cleaning Gun

Mrs. T. J. Mahan Is Now in Sheltering Arms Hospital.

Condition of Mrs. T. J. Mahan, 23, who accidentally shot herself while cleaning a gun yesterday morning at her home in Pleasant Hill, was reported as serious today. Mrs. Mahan, who was brought to the Sheltering Arms hospital yesterday afternoon by Dr. E. E. G. Pedigo and Mrs. V. M. Fell district nurse, was reported as resting fairly comfortably this morning.

The bullet from the 22 caliber revolver which the woman was cleaning entered her left side just below the heart. An X-ray photograph taken after the woman had been brought to Athens revealed that the bullet is lodged in the left lung. No attempt will be made to remove it now, physicians said this morning.

After using the revolver in practice Sunday night, shooting at a mark in the yard of her home, Mrs. Mahan told the physician and the district nurse that she had decided to clean the firearm late yesterday morning. Believing she had unloaded the revolver after the practice session, Mrs. Mahan said she had just begun to clean it when the gun was discharged. Her finger placed over the trigger to hold the revolver for cleaning is said by Mrs. Mahan to be the cause for discharging the firearm.

The injured woman said that she realized at once that she had shot herself and went to the door to summon aid. Fortunately J. U. Cuckler was passing the Mahan home at the time and heard her summons, Mrs. Mahan said. Mr. Cuckler carried her to the bedroom of the home and summoned Mr. and Mrs. H. R. King, neighbors of the Mahans.

Dr. Pedigo was summoned and with Miss Fell they brought the injured woman to Athens from Pleasant Hill in a small coupe.

Mrs. Mahan had been living alone at her home at Pleasant Hill while her husband had been working in Mt. Vernon. A telegram was sent to him telling of the accident and he arrived in Athens early this morning to visit his wife at the hospital here.

A machine being driven by Ed Spencer of Nelsonville crashed into the Shay machine. Mrs. Shay and youngest child who were seated in the back seat were hurled out of the car into a ditch, both escaping any serious injury. Wilfred, who was sitting in the front seat with his father, was terribly cut about the face, neck and head with flying glass from broken wind shields.

The little boy's jugular vein was severed and he almost bled to death before he reached the office of Dr. Jay J. Hoodlet in Chauncey. Nineteen stitches were required to close the wounds in his neck and face. The child was removed to his home at Sugar Creek about 11 o'clock and was in a very weakened condition owing to the shock and the loss of blood.

Poston Woman Is Fatally Hurt-Struck By Hit-Skip Driver

Mrs. Alice Clark Shayne Removed To Athens Hospital After Being Knocked Down by Car Saturday —Driver Being Sought by Police.

Mrs. Alice Clark Shayne of Poston, (Sugar Creek,) was in Sheltering Arms Hospital Saturday night in a critical condition after having been struck by a hit-and-skip motorist in front of her home while attempting to board a Marietta bus for Athens. Hospital attaches late Saturday night said her injuries would probably prove fatal.

Officers were searching Athens County Saturday night, attempting to locate the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Shayne. Witnesses to the accident say that the car was a small roadster.

Mrs. Shayne was struck by the car as she was walking around the rear of the bus, preparatory to boarding it, after having crossed the road in front of her home, officers investigating revealed. She was knocked to the pavement and dragged for a distance of nearly 40 feet before the car came to a stop. The roadster was being driven at a high rate of speed, according to neighbors who saw the accident.

Driver of the car stopped only long enough to remove the injured woman from his machine, and to inquire her name, then he and his one companion drove on, immediately, witnesses say.

Mrs. Shayne, in an unconscious condition, was placed in the automobile of John Grieson, Athens, a brother-in-law, and removed to Sheltering Arms Hospital. Mrs. Shayne had not regained consciousness at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Grieson was butchering at the home of John Clark, Mrs. Shayne's father, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Shayne sustained a deep gash on the back of her head and severe bruises and minor cuts, but as far as had been ascertained Saturday night, no bones were broken according to hospital authorities.
